G.O.P. Leader to Quit August 7

National Committee's Head Announces Plans After Talk With Hoover

Opposition Against Him Hot Since Lobby Revelations; Yost to be Successor

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—Announcement was made on behalf of Charles Huston as he left a conference late tonight with President Hoover he will submit his resignation as chairman of the Republican National Committee to the executive committee next month.

The statement of Mr. Huston, which was given out through James Wesley Burke, counsel for the national committee, read:

"I have just had a satisfactory conference with the President and we are in entire accord on our program. The President has approved my decision to call a meeting of the executive committee August 7 at which time I intend to tender my resignation as chairman of the Republican National Committee."

LONG AGITATION

The announcement brought a sudden and dramatic end to the storm of agitation which has raged around Mr. Huston's head almost from the day he succeeded Dr. Hubert Work as Republican chairman early in the Hoover administration.

Until he faced President Hoover today, Mr. Huston kept his party leaders in doubt as to his final decision. His call at the White House during twenty-four hours of feverish activity in the high command of the Republican party.

Coming to Washington late today, Huston went immediately into conference with Mr. Burke, who acted as go-between in the negotiations between the President and his battered party chairman. The White House visit was immediately arranged.

MAY TO BE SUCCESSOR

Simeon Fess of Ohio is slated to take over the chairmanship of the national committee upon Huston's retirement. The executive committee will be called to receive formal resignation next month, and to power to fill the vacancy.

The agitation against Huston within the party became active after he had testified before the Senate lobby committee he had solicited funds for the Tennessee River Improvement Association in behalf of Senator Brookhart, lobby and had used funds in his brokerage business before turning them over to the association of which he was president.

The Republican reorganization program calls for the use of Robert Lucas of Kentucky, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, as executive secretary. Lucas will be placed in charge of the active campaign organization work under Senator Fess.

FESS HAS EXPERIENCE

Fess is a veteran in the Republican ranks with experience in the details of campaign work which he will take into play this year in Congress.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 24. [To the Editor of The Times:] You don't hear so much of prohibition lately. Just drinking for the novelty of the thing has about wore off, and the ones that really settled down to steady drinking are keeping pretty quiet about it.

The House of Commons indorsed the naval treaty yesterday without the Norris amendment, which said: "If there is any catch in this that we can't see, why it don't go." The British said "if there is anything in it we can't see before we sign, why that's our fault."

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

AIR DEATH CHEATED BY RESERVISTS

Parachutes Save Quartet of Flyers When Planes Collide at 2000 Feet

SACRAMENTO, July 24. (AP)—Four aviators of the Three Hundred and Sixteenth Reserve Squadron now engaged in maneuvers at Mather Field escaped death late today when two transport planes collided at a height of 2000 feet.

The crash came as the planes, piloted by Capt. Jacob McGrillis of Sacramento, and Capt. Charles Kruse of Coyote, were executing an intricate formation known as a "cross-over." McGrillis's plane passed over that piloted by Kruse, which just at that moment struck a "blind spot," causing it to rise up under the other plane, crashing into it at high speed.

The pilots and their respective observers, Lieut. Albert Marty and Lieut. Francis Gilbert, both of San Francisco, took to their parachutes and floated to earth without a scratch.

The crash occurred near the State highway between Mather Field and Folsom prison.

INDIA SLUMP SHOWN IN GOODS OF BRITISH

LONDON, July 24. (AP)—A large drop in the importation of British cotton piece goods to Bombay is shown in figures of that port for April, May and June. In April 12,220 packages were imported, while in June there were only 5753. The total for the three months was 27,000, as compared to 43,000 for last year.

Liquor May be Served at Embassies Abroad Only at Private Expense

Government Lists Items in Official Entertaining it Will Not Pay For

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—Bubbling champagnes and choice wines at governmental expense are forbidden in American embassies and consulates abroad under an executive order just signed by President Hoover.

The order cites in detail regulations governing the disbursement by nearly 100 American diplomatic and consular missions abroad of allowances recently voted by Congress for official entertaining.

After a six-year fight for such funds, Congress recently allotted $92,000 to this purpose in its appropriation for the State Department.

AUTHORIZED IN 1924

Congress authorized the allowances in 1924, but failed to make the necessary appropriation in any bill since that time until the present budget.

In addition to liquors, other items tabooed under the order include hire and repair of automobiles, printing and engraving expenses and club dues.

The order states "express provisions of the law" prevent governmental funds being used for these purposes.

Among items permitted under the appropriation are receptions at the missions on American national holidays, flowers and wreaths for weddings and funerals, tips and gratuities, dinners, formal and informal functions and special entertainments.

The ruling came as a considerable surprise to State Department officials and particularly those in the foreign service who will benefit by the funds.

HEAVY ITEM

The item of serving liquors is generally considered by foreign service officers stationed abroad to be about the heaviest of any for which they have been forced to pay out of their own pockets.

Many of the foreign service officers who do extensive entertaining have found liquors frequently run to a considerable bill.

Department officials said today they have no information as to the number of missions abroad whose heads maintain "arid territories" in compliance with prohibition laws of their country at home.

Ambassador Dawes in London caused considerable comment last year by announcing no liquors would be served at the embassy in London during his term of office.

At the homes of many foreign service officers, however, liquors are served, but under the present ruling these must continue to be paid for by the host no matter what the occasion.

Ford's Museum Offered Edison Tobacco Chew

SCHENECTADY (N. Y.) July 24. (Exclusive)—A small hunk of chewing tobacco, which Thomas A. Edison once handed to the late Charles P. Steinmetz, has just been found by Joseph Hayden, the "little giant's" foster son, in the private museum in Steinmetz's former home here.

At the time of the gift Steinmetz's teeth made it impossible for him to enjoy the chew. But he did not wish to offend his good friend by declining it. So he carefully wrapped it up, labeled it as to the date and place and tucked it away.

The chew has been offered to Henry Ford for his museum at Dearborn.

Beal, Pacific division manager of the Radio Corporation of America Communications, Inc., today said negotiations between his company, the Mutual Telephone Company of Honolulu and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company are proceeding rapidly for the institution of radiotelephone service between the mainland and Pacific islands.

Beal said tests conducted during the past several days have proved entirely satisfactory.

TANGLED BABY DISAPPEARS

Bambergers Vanish After Board of Experts Decides Chicago Infants Have Wrong Parents

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP)—The big question in Chicago's mixed-infant mystery tonight is not who is Baby Watkins, but where is he? The 3-week-old child had disappeared, together with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bamberger, when Health Commissioner Arnold H. Kegel went to the Bamberger home tonight to advise them that his committee of scientists had found they had the offspring of Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins.

Stories in the evening papers quoting Bamberger as saying he would defy the Health Commissioner to take the baby in his home had attracted a crowd of neighbors and street urchins around the residence by the time Dr. Kegel arrived. When the commissioner found Mr. and Mrs. Bamberger had taken the baby and left, he expressed regret, explaining he had not come to take the baby but to advise the Bambergers to abide by the decision as they had agreed prior to the tests.

ONE DISSENTS

Decision that the babies had been mixed before they left the Englewood Hospital, where both were born, was reached by thirteen modern Solomons today with one dissenting vote and two not voting.

While Watkins was satisfied with the ruling, Bamberger was defiant as soon as he heard it. Both mothers were in a state of collapse.

It was the opinion of a majority of the thirteen that the hospital had labeled the babies correctly at their births within an hour and a half of each other, and that the babies had been switched through an exchange of clothing.

The dissenting voice on the jury was that of Dr. Ferdinand Watzek of Vienna, criminologist. He and Capt. Michael Evans of the Chicago Police Department made fingerprint examinations but failed to agree.

Dr. Watzek maintained the babies were not transposed. He said it has been proved there is a marked similarity of fingerprints of persons closely related. He said the fingerprints of Mrs. Watkins and the baby now in their home showed this similarity. Capt. Evans disagreed.

BLOOD TESTS

The experts gave major belief to tests by Dr. Hamilton R. Fishback, professor of pathology of Northwestern University, who said it was impossible for Mr. and Mrs. Watkins, whose blood tests were placed

FAST ENDS IN DEATH OF WOMAN

Weighed But Thirty-eight Pounds After Refusing Food Several Weeks

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP)—Miss Dina Shreimer, 55 years of age, died tonight in a hospital to which she was taken in what physicians termed a starving condition. The woman weighed thirty-eight pounds, and doctors said she was 112 pounds under normal weight.

When police entered her small cottage they found the woman, who was deaf and dumb, lying on a bed. Two men, Jacob Pfeiffer, 78, who formerly was a patient at the Kankakee State Hospital, and Joseph Shea, 37, were seated near-by, silently watching her. Pfeiffer, a brother-in-law of Miss Schreimer, and Shea, her nephew, told police the woman had refused food for several weeks.

Police are investigating a report that $2000 the woman was said to have had in a savings account had been spent during the period of her fast.

PENCIL WOUNDS MAN AS RESULT OF BLOW

HOLDENVILLE (Okla.) July 24. (AP)—Elmer Hasty, 21 years of age, received a serious injury today when a pencil he was carrying in his shirt pocket was imbedded four inches in his chest as the result of a playful blow struck by Ralph Mann, 23. The pencil struck Hasty's heart, but he walked to a physician's office for treatment. Doctors said he will live.

COASTER CRASH KILLS TWO

Seventeen Others Injured When Train Plunges Through Trestle at Amusement Park

OMAHA, July 24. (AP)—Two persons were killed and seventeen were injured tonight when a roller coaster train at Krug Park plunged through a gap in the track work and dropped thirty-five feet to the ground.

The train, composed of four cars, had just left the starting stand and was being pulled up the first incline by the cog chain, Ben Meister, an eyewitness, said.

As the heavily loaded cars reached the midway point in the pull, the timbers directly in the front of the lead car gave way, opening a large gap in the track work.

MAD CROWD FORMS

While men, women and children stared with white faces in voiceless fear the car moved steadily on until the cog chain pulled it over the edge and plunged it to the ground.

Some of the cars overturned and their passengers were pinned underneath as they struck the ground.

The dead are C. H. Stout, 50 years of age, and Ruth Farrell, 14, both of Omaha.

A few seconds after the crash the crowd was surging madly about the scene of the wreck wildly seeking relatives and friends.

FENCE TORN DOWN

The park was packed and all available police were rushed there to battle the crowd. At times the surging crowd hindered the rescue crews.

The driveway leading to the front of the coaster station was so packed police were forced to tear down sections of the fence surrounding the park to get ambulances and other cars through to transport the injured away.

RAINS CAUSE CRUMBLING OF ADOBES

Thirty or Forty Houses in New Mexico Collapse and 150 Persons Homeless

SANTA FE (N. M.) July 24. (AP)—Some thirty or forty adobe houses have crumbled, making 150 persons homeless as a result of continuous heavy rains at Pena Blanca, thirty miles southeast of here.

Requests were made at the Governor's office here today for assistance.

A cloudburst struck the Pena Blanca area Monday and a heavy downpour has continued. Pena Blanca lies on the banks of the Rio Grande and that stream has gone out of its banks.

Alfred Montoya, former County Commissioner in the district, made his way here on horseback today. Automobile travel is impossible. He reported there is a shortage of food in the town.

The community is inhabited largely by Spanish-Americans.

FREAK RAIN CAUSES SUBWAY TIE-UP

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—A freak rainstorm which drenched some parts of New York this morning and left dry spots between caused a rush-hour subway tie-up in Brooklyn and put five market wire cables out of commission in the financial district.

The heaviest rain fell in downtown New York.

Temblor Shakes Mexican Town; Panic Follows

MEXICO CITY, July 24. (AP)—Special dispatches today reported an earthquake last night shook the town of Pinotepa, State of Oaxaca. It was preceded by subterranean rumbles and accompanied by torrential rain.

The inhabitants fled from their houses in panic. No casualties were reported.

Circus Wreck's Victims Buried

ST. JOHN (N. B.) July 24. (Exclusive)—Albert Johnson and James L. McFarland, of Los Angeles and Toronto, respectively, killed in the wreck of the Al G. Barnes circus train at Canaan on Sunday, last, were buried this morning in Elmwood Cemetery. All employees of the circus were in attendance. A monument has been purchased and will be placed on the graves.

Six employees of the circus injured in the train wreck are still patients in the Moncton City Hospital. All are progressing favorably.

English Town in Flood Grip

WHITBY, YORKSHIRE (Eng.) July 24. (AP)—Four days of incessant rain tonight had left this seaside city in the grip of a flood, with hundreds homeless and destitute throughout the valley of the River Esk.

Today's downpour, a veritable cloudburst, furnished a climax of the storm and temporarily put an end to relief work.

HURRICANE SWEEPS ITALY AS QUAKE DEATHS MOUNT

Storm in North Kills Twelve and Levels Towns While South Counts Its Victims

ROME, July 24. (AP)—On top of an earthquake that devastated a wide area in Southern Italy, taking more than 2000 lives yesterday, Northeastern Italy tonight suffered from the violence of a hurricane that killed twelve persons in the region of Treviso, near Venice. The forces of nature seemed to be at war with the populace at both extremities of the kingdom.

The hurricane tore down many buildings at Bargo Di Sesegana, Bervesa, Selva and Volpago, and it is feared more victims are buried under the ruins. Heavy damage was caused over a stretch of twenty-five miles.

The authorities in the north immediately concentrated at the place of the disaster and organized first aid, as had their colleagues in the far south.

DEATH LIST 2013

The task of coping with this new catastrophe made a definite tabulation of killed and injured in the south out of the question for the night. The ministries affected announced just before midnight there would be no recapitulation until tomorrow afternoon of the loss to life and property.

At the Ministry of the Interior the total of known dead stood for the night at 2012. Unofficial reports said that 3025 bodies had already been found. Officials, while reticent, obviously believed hundreds of bodies were still buried under the debris of homes in remoter communities.

King Victor Emmanuel left tonight for the stricken south, where he was born, before learning of the disaster in the north. His movements were prudently veiled, but his special train is expected to arrive some time tomorrow in Avellino Province, where the worst conditions were reported.

KING PLANS AUTO TOUR

Accompanied by Minister of Public Works Crollalanza, His Majesty will make an automobile tour through the area. When the earthquake occurred, he was away at Santanna Di Valdieri in the north. He awaited the advice of his ministers as to the seriousness of the consequences, but early today manifested an urgent desire to visit the country.

As His Majesty was born the Prince of Naples, he is assured of a really touching royal welcome tomorrow afternoon.

Naples, metropolis of the area, lying under the glowering menace of Mt. Vesuvius, was under a war regime today. Soldiers were on guard, convoys of food and medical supplies rushed through the streets, buildings lay in ruins as though struck by shells, and flags everywhere flew at half staff.

From Naples almost as far as the plain of Apulia, on the other side of the Apennines, at least eighty-five towns and villages lay desolate.

RELIEF HASTENED

In the provincial centers and larger towns Fascist militiamen and all Fascist auxiliary organizations moved in swift disciplined order on their errand of relief. As the frightened populace grew more reassured, and the work of salvage lightened, bands were sent out to the surrounding country.

Health authorities, fearful of epidemics such as follow great disasters, mobilized an army of doctors and pharmacists. Medicines and serums were collected at strategic points. Food supplies were massed in depots and distributed by the truck load. Water was rushed in tank trucks to communities whose drinking supplies had been cut off.

After great difficulty the Italian Army Signal Corps re-established communication between the larger towns. Flying sanitary squads from Naples and elsewhere inoculated villagers and farmers with anti-tetanus serum.

DOCTOR BECOMES HERO

The country doctor came once more into his own. At the village of Villanova, which was completely razed, old Dr. Jorizzo, only survivor of his whole family, dragged himself badly battered from the ruins of his home and worked until he nearly dropped, giving free aid to his fellow-townsmen. The situation there was acute. The death list mounted from 400 to 800.

Throughout four devastated Provinces, Avellino, Potenza, Foggia and Benevento, the homeless bivouacked tonight in the fields. The country-side seemed to be in the grip of war, an impression heightened by

ARID HAVOC MAY GROW

Drought Verging on Catastrophe

Thousands of Farmers of East Central States Facing Ruin

Uncertainty as to Relief Told by Weather Bureau at Washington

WASHINGTON, July 24. (NANA) Gripped by a drought without precedent in half a century, a large section of East-Central United States now is on the brink of a major catastrophe, it was revealed at the United States Weather Bureau today.

Roughly, the area extends from Central Ohio on the north to the Tennessee line on the south and from the western border of Virginia to Central Missouri.

In all this territory, the Weather Bureau records show, during the growing season from March 1, last, to the present, the rainfall has been only from 31 to 49 per cent of normal for the past fifty years. It has been below 30 per cent of normal since December 1, 1929.

Pastures are dry. Cattle are being fed out of the winter stores of grain and fodder or else sold at a sacrifice. The corn is wilting and the drought is preventing pollenization, without which there can be no grain. Even tobacco, the most drought-resistant crop of all, is wilting. Only immediate rain can save thousands of farmers from ruin.

RELIEF UNCERTAIN

The present drought is cumulative, according to Weather Bureau meteorologists, and there is no certainty that the vicious circle will be broken before early winter. On the other hand, something may happen which will bring rain in a few days.

During the past nine weeks the drought has spread considerably south of this area in exaggerated form. East Texas, North Louisiana and Mississippi have had only from 7 to 20 per cent of the normal rainfall. Northeast Arkansas has had only from 2 to 7 per cent. Most of Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama have had from 20 to 40 per cent of the normal precipitation at this time of the year.

Extending westward, drought and heat together have wrought havoc in the wheat fields. In Iowa alone, according to reports to the Weather Bureau, more than 10,000 horses died in the fields a week ago.

The present condition has crept on the country almost unnoticed until within the last few days.

Both wet and dry spells, explains Prof. William J. Humphreys of the Weather Bureau, generally speaking, are cumulative effects which run in vicious circles. The drier it gets the drier it is likely to be. It doesn't rain in the Sahara Desert because there isn't enough rain to make it rain.

DELICATE BALANCE UPSET

Brooks, rivers, lakes and ponds in the affected area are so depleted and the soil and vegetation so dried out that they have no moisture to provide water vapor to make cumulus clouds which eventually turn to rain. Before there can be rain something must happen to break the vicious circle.

The great mass of water vapor

RED TERROR ECHO HEARD

Former Officer of Russian White Army Declares Amtorg Head Struck Him When Cheka Chief

NEW YORK, July 24. (Exclusive)—Melodramatic echoes of the Red revolution reverberated through the final day's hearing in New York of the special Congressional committee investigating Communist activities today in the Department of Justice offices.

After Feodore Mikailovitch Zievkin, general manager and secretary of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, the soviet international commerce agency here, had refused to take the oath and had given testimony by affirmation that he was no longer a member of the Communist party and was not connected with the dread Cheka—now the O.G.P.U. or secret soviet police—George J. Djamgaroff, a naturalized American citizen living on Fifth avenue, took the stand.

Djamgaroff positively identified Zievkin as the former head of the Cheka's flying squad.

"I am positive he is the same man who was with the Cheka in January, 1920, when I, an officer in the White Army, was arrested. I did not know his name then and I have never seen him since that January day in 1920 until yesterday, but I could never forget his face. He slapped my face after I was arrested by the Reds. He was the first man ever to do that and I could never forget him."

On top of this came a surprise witness, a slight, stooped, gray-haired man, Michael Handler, who spoke through an interpreter. Handler admitted he is in the country "illegally" from Russia; that he had paid money to some one to get him in here from Cuba in 1926. He had left Russia where he was with the Cheka because "I felt I would be safer here than anywhere else." For three years he has been working here in a hat factory.

MRS. NORTHCOTT FIGHTS FOR SON

She Charges Grandchildren Testified Out of Spite

Clark Girl Piqued Over Ban on Suitor, Says Prisoner

Father Planning Appeal to Young to Stay Noose

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24. (Exclusive)—From behind the prison walls of San Quentin, Mrs. Sarah Louise Northcott began a fight today to save her son, Gordon Stewart Northcott, convicted of the indescribable "chicken ranch" murders in Riverside county, from the hangman's noose.

Mrs. Northcott made this known in a sensational interview charging her grandchildren, Minnie Clark, 21 years of age, and her brother, Sanford, 15, swore away her son's life from pique because the girl was refused permission to entertain her "boy friend" at the chicken ranch.

FATHER PLANS PLEA

The condemned murderer's father, Mrs. Northcott said, plans to appeal to Gov. Young to commute the boy's death sentence.

It was the first time the aged mother has broken silence since she went behind the State prison bars seventeen months ago for life on her plea of guilty to the murders.

And it was a combined outburst of mother love seeking to save her child and to call down revenge on her grandchildren.

"My boy didn't have a chance," she cried.

FOOD RATIONED

Declaring none of the bodies of three boys young Northcott was convicted of murdering had been found and that he had been denied an attorney at a vital point in his trial, she cried:

"He is innocent as God is my judge. He is all I have in the world."

Young Northcott is awaiting the setting of a new date of execution, his appeal having been denied recently by the State Supreme Court.

Suffering from appendicitis, for which he has refused an operation, he has boasted he would cheat the gallows by "eating a big meal and that will be the end." But since that threat his meals have been rationed to prevent him from overeating.

DROUGHT MAY GROW WORSE

comes, Dr. Humphreys explained, from the place where there is the most water, the sea, and the ascending air currents containing it follow rather definite directions across the United States. Warm air laden with water vapor from the Gulf of Mexico sweeps northward over the Gulf States and into the East Central States. But as it hits land most of the water vapor is forced out and falls as rain.

To bring abundant rain further north and east, the lost water vapor must be picked up from the surface of the land on the way. Once a drought starts there is less and less of this water to be picked up. So there is less and less chance for rain. And the less rain there is the less the supply of water vapor to make more rain.

The best hope, says Dr. Humphreys, seems to be for a sufficient atmospheric mass sufficiently saturated with water vapor to come up from the Gulf, and through a fortunate but unpredictable atmospheric combination carry its load of rain further north, thus saturating the surface and providing the material for more water vapor.

When this happens—and it might happen any day—there will be a break in the vicious circle of drought.

RADIO ADVISER NAMED

Which One Has Whose Baby?

Here are the two principals in a mix-up which has kept themselves, their parents, a hospital staff and the Chicago Health Department in an uproar, which shows no signs of decreasing due to an opinion handed down yesterday by a group of experts that the parents are caring for the wrong children. Mrs. Charles Bamberger is shown with the child she hopes is hers, at the left, while Mrs. William Watkins, at the right is holding the youngster, which the experts say is the child of Mrs. Bamberger.

in group four, to give birth to a baby whose blood would test other than in group four. The baby in the Bamberger home tested in group four. Mr. Bamberger showed a test in group one and Mrs. Bamberger in group four, and Dr. Fishback's opinion was that they could give birth to a child whose blood would fall in groups, one, two, or three, but not group four.

Dr. Gerhardt Von Bonin, anthropologist and anatomist of the University of Illinois, reported the head measurements convinced him the babies were in the wrong homes.

Other members of the jury included: Dr. Cleveland White, associate in dermatology at Northwestern University; Dr. Emil Deutch, ophthalmologist; Dr. Harold S. Hulburt, psychiatrist; Dr. Francis E. Harrington of Minnesota, secretary of the International Society of Medical Officers; Dr. C. C. Siemons, Grand Rapids, Mich., a director of the same organization and also Michigan State health officer; Chief Justice Harry E. Olson, and A. E. Lucius, attorney for the hospital.

Dr. Hulburt and Dr. Deutch were neutral.

St. Louis Pair Remain in Air

ST. LOUIS, July 24. (AP)—Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine, seeking to regain their lost endurance flight record, had their first trouble today since taking off Monday morning, a loose stabilizer, but it proved nothing serious, and tonight at 8:11 p.m. they had been aloft eighty-five hours. A note at 4:05 p.m. said the stabilizer had been repaired.

gressional elections. He was chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee in 1920 when a heavy Republican majority was elected to the House.

Few details were available tonight on the White House conference which resulted in the announcement by Huston he will resign as chairman. Huston and Mr. Hoover are intimate friends. They worked together in the Commerce Department when Hoover was Secretary and the Tennesseean assistant Secretary.

It has been an open secret in Washington the President felt the usefulness of Huston was at an end as leader of the Republican organization, but it was known also Mr. Hoover did not want to ask for the Huston resignation unless necessary.

Early in the month the President and Huston had a conference at which the troubles of the party chairman were discussed, but after the meeting Huston surprised his party foes by going ahead with plans for the campaign.

ROOSEVELT WILL HAVE RECESS APPOINTMENT

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—Indications have been given at the White House that Nicholas Roosevelt of New York will be given a recess appointment as Vice-Governor of the Philippines. Secretary Hurley, on leaving the White House after a conference with the President, said some action is expected soon. Roosevelt was nominated Vice-Governor by the Chief Executive but was not confirmed by the Senate before the special session adjourned. Objections were made by advocates of Philippine Independence.

the constant passage of hurrying detachments of soldiers.

BURIAL HUGE PROBLEM

The burial of the dead constituted a stupendous problem for relief workers. In some communities the cemeteries were filled before all the victims could be buried. Bodies had to be taken hastily from one community to the church of another.

All through the afternoon funeral processions wended their way to shaken and often ruined churches. Even the tolling of church bells was absent. The earthquake had so greatly weakened the towers sextons were afraid to ring the bells.

PLANES GIVE AID

Airplanes were the eyes of the relief workers. From three or four airfields they soared over the entire area reporting conditions so that aid could be efficiently organized and promptly dispatched.

Such was the extent of the havoc caused by the earthquake, officials could compare it only to the disastrous quake of 1908 at Messina, which ravaged Calabria and Eastern Sicily. From 75,000 to 100,000 persons perished then. A million were made homeless and 100,000 injured.

In the present case the totals are far below those at Messina, but the material damage may be nearly as great, for the region affected is rich in resources and history.

MONUMENTS WRECKED

Among the historic monuments wrecked was the famous Palazzo Reale, or former royal palace, at Caserta, which is known as the "Versailles of Naples." It is one of the most princely buildings in all Italy, and was built by Charles III of Bourbon.

At Naples today, a gale that approached hurricane force, washing waves over the sea wall, added to the terror of the inhabitants, whose nerves were on edge from a night of anguish. Many slight structures were blown down.

AMERICANS ESCAPE

To calm the faithful, massed in front of the cathedral, Cardinal Ascalesi, Archbishop of Naples, brought out a silver figure of St. Gennaro, the city's patron saint. Standing on the steps, he held up the image of the saint and blessed the crowd.

Many Americans were in the earthquake zone, but the head of a large tourist agency at Naples said that none had been reported killed or injured. No mention of American victims has so far been made in government dispatches.

BEAUTIFUL REGION NOW SPECTACLE OF RUIN

VILLA NOVA (Italy) July 24. (AP) In a 255-mile automobile drive the Associated Press correspondent today took in the devastation wrought yesterday by an earthquake that took more than 3000 lives in one of the most beautiful sections of Italy.

Traveling up from Naples through brilliantly green valleys, the correspondent's car passed village after village lying wholly or partly waste. The worst spectacle of all was reserved for this evening when this little town of Villa Nova came into view.

PALACE CRUMBLED

Nearly every house was demolished. With the shops, small homes and humbler buildings, the palace of the Marquis Villa Nova and the town church had crumbled.

About 250 bodies already have been taken from the ruins and more than 500 injured have been treated at dressing stations.

The houses lay fallen in the most erratic and varying fashions. Windows in some were surprisingly still intact. Against a few upright but damaged walls shutters swung and banged in the wind.

SOLDIERS IN CHARGE

All the remaining inhabitants were marshaled by soldiers this evening and formed into a rations line. After they had been fed they were escorted from the village out into the open, where shelters of canvas tents and blankets were hastily erected.

Then the soldiers threw a guard about the deserted town, permitting no one to enter.

Similar procedure was followed at half a dozen other ruined towns in the region, such as Aquilona, Lacedonia and Ariano.

UNSEASONABLE SNOW ALSO FALLS IN ITALY

TRENTO (Italy) July 24. (AP)—To add to the vagaries of nature that have visited Italy with calamities during the past two days, snow fell unseasonably today on the peaks of the Dolomites.

A storm swept the region around this city, and was particularly severe in the Alpine valleys.

The Adige River overflowed its banks under heavy rains, and other streams are swollen almost to the flood point. So far the waters have caused no damage.

ITALY WILL DECLINE ALL OFFERS OF HELP

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—Instructions from the Foreign Office in Rome to respectfully decline all offers of assistance or relief measures for the districts of Italy stricken by the earthquake were received tonight by Ambassador De Martino of Italy.

TEMBLOR CAUSES WOUND OF DUCHESS

Duchess of Apulia

NAPLES (Italy) July 24. (AP)—The Duchess of Apulia, daughter of the Duc De Guise, pretender to the French throne, visited the crowded Pellegrini Hospital today to cheer and comfort the victims of Wednesday's earthquake.

The Duchess was formerly Princess Anne of France. Her hand was slightly injured during the earthquake at Capo Di Monte Palace when a picture falling from the walls struck her.

At Pellegrini Hospital today the Duchess, like scores of commoners, had the wound dressed.

PLEA MADE BY PACKERS SUPPORTED

Legge Says Members of Farm Board See Need for Modified Decree

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—Chairman Legge said today that members of the Farm Board favor modification of the packers' consent degree.

His statement followed the recommendation of the Live-Stock Advisory Committee to President Hoover that the decree be changed to allow packers who signed the agreement to retail meats.

Legge said the retailing process is the "weakest leg in the distributing system." He added the Farm Board has taken no action on the decree but the members individually favor altering its provisions.

Packers who signed the agreement have appealed to the courts for modification.

The Farm Board chairman said in his opinion no reduction is necessary in live-stock production. He said the problem is one of "under consumption."

AMTORG AGENT HELD TERRORIST

tion he held with the Cheka was as propaganda agent in Sofia, Bulgaria, and admitted attending a conference of Cheka agents in Moscow, at which the sending of delegates to Amtorg in New York was discussed. In the "secret and confidential" meeting attended by four O.G.P.U. men and held in November, 1925, in Lubuanka, the Cheka headquarters, three men were appointed to go to Amtorg, the witness testified. This was only shortly before he left for America.

Two of the day's witnesses doused the problem of the "so-called Whalen documents" in mystery. One of them, Max Wagner, testified that he set up the type in which the letterheads among the papers had been printed, but that the paper of the documents was not his stock.

The man for whom he did the job, he said, seemed to be an attache of a Russian royalist newspaper.

REPORTER TESTIFIES

The other witness, John A. Spivak, reporter for the New York Evening Graphic, swore Wagner had admitted he did the printing of the documents but made no mention of the different papers.

Joseph Michael, an Amtorg attorney, pointed out to the committee that in one of the letters which former Police Commissioner Grover Whalen made public last May, and which was ostensibly a letter to Gregory Grafpen of Amtorg, the spelling of the word "present" is incorrect according to the new Russian grammar.

ACCUSATION DENIED

"What of it?" asked Representative Nelson of Maine. "Are you telling us that a Russian can't make a mistake?"

"Not at all," Michael replied. "The importance of this is that in another of the Whalen documents, an asserted letter written by Grafpen, exactly the same error occurs. The inference is that both the letter from Grafpen and the letter to him were written by the same person."

Grafpen himself took the stand for a few minutes, testifying he had never been a Communist and had never seen the letters in the Whalen documents assertedly written by and to him.

DETAILS TOLD IN ESPEE DEAL

Holden Confirms Report of Cotton Belt Purchase

Collapse of Loree's Plan Makes Sale Possible

Growing Trade Interchange Reason for Merger

NEW YORK, July 24. Exclusive) Hale Holden, chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific Company, today confirmed reports that this railroad has acquired substantial holdings in the St. Louis Southwestern (Cotton Belt) Railway and that it has an option on other stock in sufficient amount to give it control of the line. The stock was acquired from the New York Investors, Inc., which bought the stock from the Kansas City Southern following the collapse of the Southwestern merger plan of L. F. Loree.

Mr. Loree would have linked the Cotton Belt and Kansas City Southern with the Missouri Kansas Texas Railway. Following the Clayton Antitrust Act citations the Kansas City Southern sold 135,000 shares of Cotton Belt preferred stock to the New York Investors, a former realty company, for $89, or $12,015,000.

BALANCE TO BE ACQUIRED

The New York Investors' holdings amounted to about 40 per cent of Cotton Belt control. The balance of control is expected to be acquired by the Southern Pacific from minority interests in the Cotton Belt.

The deal is completed subject to approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission. That body in its final consolidation plan allocated the Cotton Belt to the Illinois Central. However, the Southern Pacific interests believe they will be able to obtain the permission of the commission for changing the disposition of the Cotton Belt.

The Cotton Belt operates 1800 miles of railroad and serves the eastern and southeastern portion of Missouri and Southwestern Illinois. Its lines traverse Arkansas from northeast to southwest and reach points in Northern and Northwestern Texas connecting with the Southern Pacific at different places.

BUSINESS INCREASING

"The steadily increasing interchange of business between the Southern Pacific and Cotton Belt routes," said Mr. Holden, "affording direct connection from the Southern Pacific to the St. Louis and Memphis gateways and intervening territory, influenced the Southern Pacific Company to take this step. It believes it will insure the preservation of existing routes and channels of commerce in harmony with the provisions and policies of the Transportation Act, and the betterment of service afforded by the Southern Pacific."

The deal puts the Southern Pacific in the position of apparently being the first railroad which will apply for approval of a merger in connection with the commission's final consolidation plan.

APPROVAL GIVEN TO TREATY BILL

Measure Passes Commons on Third Reading

Pact Will Now be Sent to House of Lords

Churchill Makes Statement on Submarine Policy

LONDON, July 24. (AP)—The London naval treaty legislation was approved tonight by the House of Commons passing the committee stage and third reading. It now will go to the House of Lords.

The treaty bill was passed unchallenged except for a single clause. Its passage yesterday through the second reading had made its acceptance tonight a formality. The proceedings were brief.

Winston Churchill, former Conservative Chancellor of the Exchequer, made an important statement on his party's policy. Referring to repeated rulings from the chair that the treaty itself could not be discussed with the bill, he said the fact of the bill's passage must not be taken as an indication opinion in the House was undivided where the actual treaty was concerned.

Except for Clause 2, which abrogated Article IX of the Washington treaty, the treaty bill did not draw any specific protests in the House. The opposition parties were content for the moment to pass it along to the Lords.

Commander Southby, Conservative, said Article IV should be retained as a bulwark against unrestricted submarine warfare.

A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, replied Article XXII of the London treaty dealt with this.

Other Conservatives supported Commander Southby and strongly urged the retention of the penalties of Article IV.

Mr. Alexander said Clause II of the bill had been adopted on the advice of the Admiralty.

The House then divided on this particular clause, which was carried by the government, 190 to 58.

The Town House wishes you to know:

"A man, sir," said the famous Doctor Johnson, "should keep his friendships in constant repair."

Neither man nor woman has any more intimate and certainly no more loyal friends than beautiful environment and excellently prepared food.

DANCER TO AGAIN SUE WHITNEY

Evan Burrows Fontaine Plans Blood Test in New Paternity Action

PARIS, July 24. (Exclusive)—Evan Burrows Fontaine has come to Europe to consult specialists who are to try to prove the paternity of her child by blood tests.

The former Ziegfield dancer said today that she intends to reopen suit this autumn against Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, who she asserts is the father of her 9-year-old son.

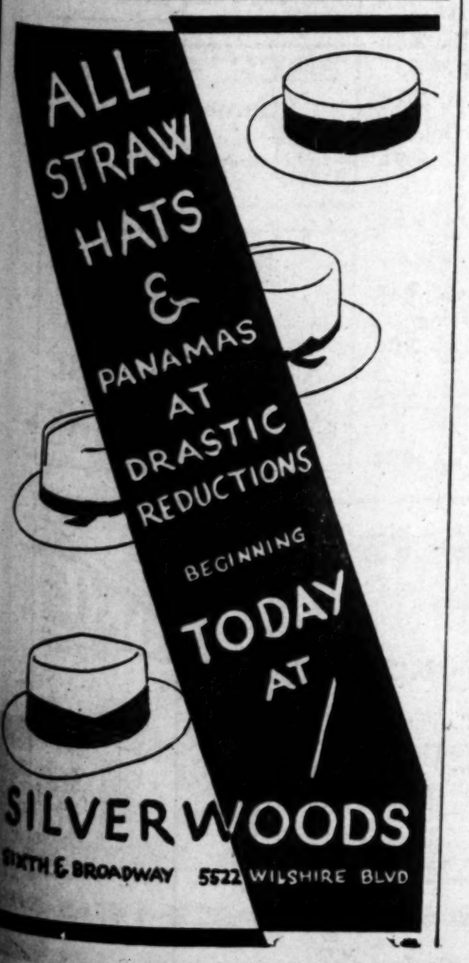
"Blood tests will establish the father of my son and will enable him to obtain his rightful inheritance from the Whitney millions," said Evan. "I saw Dr. Leone Laties from Modena, Italy, who is attending the Congress of Microbology here, and he assures me that he can prove the paternity legally by comparing the results of a child's and its father's blood tests."

Miss Fontaine's court actions against Whitney in the United States extended over several years, all unsuccessful.

Bay City Bridge Route Indicated

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24. (AP)—The proposed San Francisco-Alameda county bridge will probably cross the bay over Goat Island from Rincon Hill in San Francisco to Park avenue in Oakland, adjacent to the Key Route mole, members of the Hoover-Young bay bridge commission indicated today.

Concluding sessions which began last Monday, the commission virtually rejected all sites north of Hunter's Point except the Rincon Hill-Goat Island and the Telegraph Hill-Goat Island locations.



DETROIT VICE WAR DECLARED

Police Shake-up Follows Buckley Murder

Orders Given to Crush All Underworld Resorts

Evidence Against Crusader Lacks Support

DETROIT, July 24. (AP)—The murder of Jerry Buckley, fiery radio orator, had far-reaching effects today in the city where he minced no words in denouncing the underworld before the microphone.

In the burst of police activity, which followed the killing of Buckley by three gunmen as he sat in a hotel lobby early yesterday, the centralized vice squad was swept out of existence and the precinct squads which were substituted for it were ordered to "smash up" every liquor and vice resort in the city.

A few hours after Police Commissioner Thomas C. Wilcox had issued orders creating the squads and starting the raids, a hard blow was struck at the commissioner himself by an article in the Detroit News.

NO AFFIDAVIT YET

The news stated Wilcox admitted his statement last night that he possessed an affidavit in which a whisky racketeer accused Buckley of taking $4000 from him was false. The commissioner, the News said, admitted he has no such affidavit "as yet."

The paper published an interview with Wilcox in which the commissioner was asked, after he had repeated he had the affidavit, to prove its existence by showing it to a judge of the Circuit Court.

"Well, it isn't signed—not yet," Wilcox was quoted as saying. The News added Wilcox said he would show the affidavit to James E. Chenot, County Prosecutor. Chenot was quoted as stating Wilcox had promised the affidavit, but had not produced it.

ENEMY OF GANGSTERS

The Wilcox statement about the affidavit was the only open charge which has been made against Buckley, although police headquarters had announced today detectives were looking for members of one of the city's river gangs in connection with the killing. Buckley's friends pointed out the announcer had incurred the enmity of many gangsters through his attacks over the radio and recalled the numerous threatening letters he would read to his listeners.

In abolishing the centralized vice squad and returning to precinct commanders the duty of suppressing gambling, bootlegging and other vice, Commissioner Wilcox abandoned a policy inaugurated by Mayor Charles Bowles. This policy had been one of the focal points of attack in the successful recall campaign which ended Tuesday with the Mayor's defeat by a majority of 30,000.

Several suspects were arrested by police during the day in connection with the Buckley killing but no formal charges were made against any of them.

PHRASE OUT OF ETHER BETRAYS LIQUOR CARGO

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP)—Deputy Surveyor Magill, who says he dreams of rum-running activities, follows his dream clews and sometimes makes seizures, was tinkering with his radio set last night.

Outside the broadcast channels he heard a station working in the Morse code, which he understands. Most of the message was garbled, but he heard "Patria 4000."

He pulled out a shipping list and saw that the Fabre Liner Patria was docked in Brooklyn. A squad of agents was dispatched to the liner and in her coal bunkers uncovered 4000 bottles of what they said are choice liquors worth $40,000.

The captain was summoned to appear and explain. The line faces a possible fine of $20,000, or $5 a bottle.

HOOVER'S RIDE WILL BE SAFER

New Precautions Against Auto Accidents Made

Only Two Cars Expected in Presidential Convoy

Road to Fishing Camp Will be Strictly Patrolled

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—New safety precautions for President Hoover on his week-end trips to Virginia have been devised by the White House secret service as a result of the accident which occurred to one of the cars in his party two weeks ago.

The road to the President's camp is to be more thoroughly patroled to curb fast driving, particularly on Sunday when the President is returning through heavy traffic.

A further precaution is to be taken by separating the line of cars that accompanies Mr. Hoover.

Instead of from five to ten automobiles being in the line, it is planned for most of the guests to go separately, with only Mr. Hoover's car, the secret service machine and possibly one other in the procession.

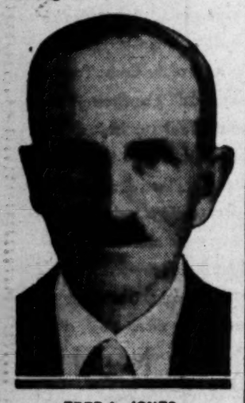
For First Time In 15 Years Eats What He Wants

"I had no idea that Sargon would restore my health and strength in such a short time," recently stated Fred L. Jones, 109 W. 3rd St., Long Beach, proprietor of Long Beach Pleating Co.



FRED L. JONES

"I had indigestion so bad that I'd have to get up in the 'dead' hours of the night and take soda and use a hot water bottle on my stomach to get a little relief. I was habitually constipated and had to change from one strong purgative to another to get temporary relief. Between indigestion and my over-acting kidneys, I could hardly ever get to sleep, and I lost about all my strength.

"For the first time in fifteen years I can eat heartily of anything I want and never have the slightest indigestion. I've gained five pounds, and since my nerves settled and my kidneys stopped getting me up, I'm strengthened and invigorated. I feel wonderfully.

"Sargon Pills are the only satisfactory laxative I ever took. Other laxatives would keep me 'torn up', but Sargon Pills didn't upset me in the least, but they gave me lasting relief from constipation. I never miss the opportunity to say a good word for this wonderful treatment."

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

BILLINGS CASE PROCEDURE SET

Seven Justices Lay Course at Bay City Conference

Another to Take Webb Place Representing People

MacDonald and Attorneys in Southern California

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24. (Exclusive)—Legal procedure for next Tuesday's Supreme Court hearing on the new application of Warren K. Billings for pardon was determined today at a conference of the seven justices.

Meantime, John MacDonald, recanting witness in the Mooney-Billings bombing case, is resting somewhere in Southern California, having arrived at San Pedro yesterday morning on the steamer Yale, accompanied by his two attorneys, Charles Ruzicka and Hilary W. Gans.

Following the justices' conference Chief Justice Waste issued a statement declaring that it has been agreed to request Fred L. Berry, former assistant District Attorney, to represent the people in the examination of MacDonald. Atty.-Gen. Webb, on the ground that his membership of the Advisory Pardon Board disqualifies him, declined to handle the questioning.

While the hearing will be public, limited capacity of the courtoom will restrict attendance to those directly interested and to representatives of newspapers and press services.

The justices themselves first will question MacDonald, and opportunity will be accorded those interested for cross-examination of him and any other witnesses who may be produced.

Attorney Berry said he has not decided whether he will call any witnesses for the people but stated that he will have certain persons on hand to use if "events warrant it."

RECANTING WITNESS GOES INTO SECLUSION

Without preliminary notice of his coming and guarded by his own attorneys as well as by a group of men whose names and occupations were not revealed, he arrived at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday aboard the steamer Yale to remain in some undisclosed hotel or apartment in Los Angeles until the California Supreme Court calls him Tuesday to listen to his promised recantation of his testimony.

According to a member of the group that accompanied MacDonald, it was at the suggestion of Chief Justice Waste of the Supreme Court he and his attorneys came to Los Angeles "for a few days."

The recanting witness, the two lawyers and three other men who declined to disclose their identities, quickly got into automobiles and drove away.

COAL MINES CLOSED BY EXPLOSIONS

Blasts Cripple Kentucky Companies' Power Lines Following Union Trouble

PROVIDENCE (Ky.) July 24. (AP) A series of dynamite explosions crippled power lines today and forced the closing of two coal mines recently reopened after organized labor trouble that began April 1, last.

The dynamite was planted under power poles at six places and in addition charges were exploded at both ends of a highway bridge across the Illinois Central Railroad spur track leading to the Hartero Coal Company's mine. The bridge was damaged but did not fall.

The home of Sidney Johnson, a Negro miner, was burned and that of Sam Cates, a white miner, was fired into during the explosions, which threw approximately 350 men out of work.

The mines forced to shut down were those of the Diamond Coal Company and the Meador-Young-Holt Company.

Disorders and the dynamiting of power line poles at Clay and at Coiltown were reported and hundreds of shots were said to have been fired at Clay.

The possibility of Federal intervention was seen as the Black Diamond Coal Company recently obtained a Federal District Court injunction against any interference with its operations.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

SHORT, UGLY WORD" HURLED

Councilman Hatz Passes Lie to A. L. Jones

Jones Intimates Glendale Officials in Rake-off

Speaks on Other Matters Make Session Hot One

GLENDALE, July 24.—The "short ugly" word climaxed a series of stormy scenes in today's session of the City Council when Councilman C. J. Hatz passed the lie to A. L. Jones, 222 Mira Loma avenue, who had intimated that Hatz and Mayor C. E. Kimlin were taking a rake-off from the patent pavement, and other interests doing business with the city. Hatz arose to his feet and shouted, "I brand a damned lie," to which Jones replied, "And your remark is from a damned liar."

The clash came after the noon recess when Jones demanded from the floor an explanation of the type of cost-type paving on Verdugo road. During the early session Jones had also been circulating a recall petition directed against Councilman Hatz and Councilman Sam Tuttle, who was absent from the session.

"WAVE OF INSINUATIONS"

After Jones began his protest against the paving, Councilman Robert T. Taggart, who is not named in the proposed recall petition, told the board, "I am sick and tired of the insinuations and accusations against myself and Council and charges that this city has been bought out by certain lighting or any other interests."

Jones denied that he had aimed any of his criticisms at Taggart, but "I only meant to say that certain real Hatz have consistently favored patent paving through Council to impose on the city of Glendale." It was at this point that Jones passed the lie to Jones and the latter passed it back to Hatz. Mayor Kimlin took a hand in the melee and told Jones that he was expected to protect himself from accusations of a criminal nature, and finally succeeded in quieting Jones.

SECRET STORM STARTS

The adoption of a resolution declaring a change the Council's rules of procedure along the lines followed by the California League of Municipalities, precipitated another storm. R. S. Person declared the proposed change would permit Council to transact its business in public open, instead of in committee of the whole, and this brought a retort from Mayor Kimlin that the city's business is carried on in the open, and that the object of the committee of the whole is to familiarize Council members with the business that is to come before it. Person challenged the statement and also charged that a representative of the City Attorney's office had been present in the Council chamber at the meetings and that he had heard many actions of the Council which could be described as irregular. During the morning session of the Council, Person caused a riotous air when a group of citizens appeared to protest street-lighting projects in Chevy Chase district and on Glenoaks street. J. C. Belcher of 913 North Jackson street was ejected when he declared that the cost of tyranny on the part of public officials is nearing the point denounced the costs of paving as "confiscatory." Belcher pointed out that the two districts were formed on the petition of the property owners and that the contracts for paving were awarded to the lowest bidder.

Burglars Try Again; Succeed Second Time

REDMAR, July 24. — Burglars were disappointed in a raid on the offices of Sawyer Brothers Feed and Grain Company, 512 San Fernando Road, last night, when they turned their attention to the Sawyer Laundry, 515 West Arrow, and pried open the safe with the jaw of an adding machine and a piece of wire, securing $100. In the Sawyer offices the thieves found most of the firm's most important papers beneath a pile of rubbish, where they were found this morning. The robbery was reported by Lyle Pickering, manager of the laundry, when he opened the offices today. Detective Sergt. P. C. Williams declared that the two raids were evidently the work of old hands, as they had taken pains to prevent leaving finger prints on the safe or any other part of the offices.

OIL MEN PLAN BARBECUE

Fourth Annual Event of Ventura Group of Petroleum Executives Will be Held Today

VENTURA, July 24.—Reservations for the fourth annual barbecue and golf tournament of the Ventura Chamber of Mines and Oil, Saturday, at the Wren's Nest in the Casitas, have been pouring in from Los Angeles, Long Beach, Taft, Bakersfield and other Southland points, according to barbecue officials. The golf tournament is to start at 10 a.m., at the Ojai Country Club, when more than fifty golfers tee off for the prizes which have been offered.

The barbecue is to get under way at 4 p.m. More than 600 attended the affair last year and an even greater representation of the oil industry in this county is expected to be on hand Saturday. Committees on the various features planned for the occasion have been appointed and have had notable success in their work, they have reported.

Golfers who expect to enter the tournament have been notified to tee off by 12:30 p.m. at the latest, so as not to interfere with the barbecue later.

Winners of the previous tournaments, George Trembly, 1927; F. W. Hertel, 1928, and Edward Palmer, 1929, will compete for honors. Prizes include awards for low gross score and three awards for the blind bogey, in which the player chooses his own handicap to make his net score fall between 70 and 80.

The golf tournament and barbecue is a stag affair.

Liquor Blamed in Suit Brought After Fatality

HIGHLAND, July 24.—Mrs. Oriel Ballard of Highland in filing suit today against Russell Worley for $25,000 damages because of the accident in which her husband was killed and Worley and State Motorcycle Officer J. L. Patterson of Highland were injured, charged liquor with responsibility for the accident. The accident, which occurred approximately a quarter of a mile west of Fish Camp on the Rim-of-the-World Drive, in Big Bear Valley, caused almost instantaneous death to Ballard and injured Worley and Patterson.

Mrs. Ballard asserts in her complaint that Worley invited her husband to go for a ride. Worley was in a "drunken and intoxicated" condition, according to the complaint. A short distance from the camp the light roadster in which Ballard, Worley and Patterson were riding skidded on a curve, jumped an embankment and crashed into a tree. Ballard died almost instantly from a fractured skull. Worley was slightly injured and Patterson is still recovering from his injuries, although he is expected to be able to return to duty in a few days. Mrs. Ballard declares the car was being driven sixty miles an hour and that because of the excessive rate of speed on the mountain highway the fatal accident resulted. Worley told newspaper men at the Ramona Hospital that he had invited Patterson and Ballard to go for a ride to "show them how his car would hold the road." He flatly denied the statements, however, at the Coroner's inquest two days later. The jury returned an open verdict. Mrs. Ballard is the mother of a son, band was 24 years of age. Her husband waca 24 years of age. The suit was filed by Lester G. King of San Bernardino.

Laguna Beach Has Red Cross Life Savers

LAGUNA BEACH, July 24.—The first American Red Cross life-saving corps in Orange county is organized here with Dana Lamb, son of Walter Lamb, County Tax Collector, as head of the life guard force. There are eighteen guards on duty on the bathing beaches here.

Thirteen life buoys of the latest type are in use on the various beaches; and the new drowning-alarm system is installed at Crescent Bay, Divers' Cove, Main Beach, and Woods Cove. Over this system calls are sent directly to the first-aid department and help reaches the beach station within a minute and a half. P. J. Bushman, fire chief, is head of the first-aid department.

The three salaried life guards are Dana Lamb, Richard Malone and Calhoun Beardsley; members of the volunteer department are: Bob Sneathen, Curtis Burnam, Freddy Schwankovsky, C. J. Hoffman, Mary Ashbrook, Bill Shields, Jeff Richards, Kimberlin Kane, Willie Morgan, Creed Watts, F. J. Barnes, Vernon Comer, Jack Chambers, Virgil Cole and Graham Hudson.

Although this beach has no long stretch of shore line, it is one of the finest beaches on the Pacific Coast. The points of land protruding into the ocean cut the currents, making it one of the safest beaches, Lamb said.

Pioneer of Inglewood Heart Victim

INGLEWOOD, July 24.—William Hall, 61 years of age, 408 Hargrave street, deputy constable of Inglewood township and old-time resident of this city, died at 2 p.m. today at his home after an illness of twenty-four hours.

Stricken suddenly with a heart attack yesterday while in Los Angeles, he was at that time taken to the Emergency Hospital at 2661 Pasadena avenue. Later he was removed to his home here, where he spent a fairly quiet night. His passing this afternoon was a sudden shock to this community, where he has lived since he came to California twenty-three years ago from his native State of Pennsylvania.

He leaves a widow, four brothers, Warren and John of this city, Paul of Glendale and James of Iowa, and two sisters, Mrs. Laura Leftwich of this city and another residing in Iowa.

Hall was active in Masonic circles and at the time of his death was the Worthy Patron of Inglewood Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. Two years ago he served as Worshipful Master, Inglewood Lodge, F.&A.M. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

New Collector of Customs at San Diego Now

SAN DIEGO, July 24.—Taking over as head of the newly re-created San Diego customs district, No. 25, William H. Ellison, President Hoover's appointee to the office of collector, appeared this morning in Federal court before Judge Paul J. McCormick and took the oath required by law. The ceremony, held at 9 a.m. was attended by a number of local Federal figures and personal well-wishers of the new collector. In a short informal address Judge McCormick remarked that his familiarity with San Diego has convinced him that the community is of such importance as to deserve, without reservation, independence in the administration of local customs affairs. Customs District No. 25, Ellison's new charge, recently was re-created after having been for some years a branch of the Los Angeles office. Greater convenience for customs officials, as well as improved service to shippers, is expected to result from the change. Ellison relieves Clarence Spring, appointed acting collector by Seymour Lowman, assistant Secretary of the Treasury, immediately after the re-establishment of the district.

INQUEST HELD OVER TRAFFIC FATALITY

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 24.—A Coroner's jury yesterday held an inquest in the death of Carl G. Lauman of Walnut Park, who was fatally injured Sunday morning when a machine driven by Raymond Wall of Pasadena collided with the Lauman car at Mountainview avenue and Hope street. The jury returned a verdict that death was due to a basal skull fracture with concussion of the brain as a result of an automobile accident, and that it is believed by the jury that Wall was driving at an excessive speed.

Lyman at the time of the accident was on his way to his Sunday-school class at the First Methodist Episcopal Church. He was taken to the Huntington Park Hospital, dying within an hour. Deceased was 24 years of age and resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Lauman.

The funeral services will be conducted at the Easterling chapel here Saturday at 2 p.m. Rev. S. S. Sampson will officiate.

Lumber Yard Burns at Pico

PICO, July 24.—The lumber yard, office building and service station of the Kidder Lumber Company was destroyed by fire here this morning entailing a loss of approximately $8000.

The plant is located a mile and a half east of Montebello on Whittier Boulevard. The fire broke out in the southwest corner of the yard, but none of the employees could account for the cause of the blaze.

The lumber yard is located beyond the fire limits of this city and also the Belvedere Gardens substation, but due to the fact that the telephone lines were damaged at the outbreak, making it impossible to notify the Santa Fe Springs fire department, the Belvedere Gardens fire department answered the call.

The lumber yard was owned by David Hamud and the service station by R. T. Reed.

BEACH GIRLS VANISH FROM THEIR HOMES

HERMOSA BEACH, July 24.—Reported missing since late Sunday night, two local girls, Seena Young, 17 years of age, of 1771 Marshall Field avenue, and Rosalie Edwards, 17, 751 Fourth street, have become objects of search by police officers of this district. The girls, clad in bathing suits and beach pajamas when last seen, both have brown hair and blue eyes and are of medium build.

SAN DIEGO'S RICHES GROW

City's Assessed Valuation is About $158,000,000, Not Including $7,500,000 Taxed by State Only

SAN DIEGO, July 24.—The city's assessed valuation for tax purposes is approximately $158,000,000, it was learned today from a statement by County Assessor George W. Moulton. The figures returned to the Board of Supervisors were $166,893,490. Deducted from this is the value of utilities taxed only by the State, aggregating $7,500,000. The City Council has approved a tentative budget aggregating $3,400,000. On the basis of $158,000,000 this would require a tax rate of $2.15.

Councilman Louis C. Maire, chairman of the budget committee, has announced figures by the auditor showing the tentative tax rate would be $2.30. This, however, was based on a reported valuation of $160,000,000, he said.

The Council has yet to officially fix the tax rate, which will be the result of the budget hearings when the assessed valua-

SURPRISE DEMAND ON CITY MADE

Jennie F. Tozier Wants Damages of $22,000 From Corona For Accident

CORONA, July 24.—Asking for damages of $22,000, Jennie F. Tozier, address unknown, through Harry D. Parker, Los Angeles attorney, served Mayor Herbert M. Key, A. M. Hinkley, City Clerk, and Walter S. Clayson, City Attorney, local officials, with a surprise demand.

The demand states that Mrs. or Miss Tozier was injured in an automobile crossing at the West Sixth-street dip at Buena Vista street at midnight on June 23, 1930, such injuries confining her to a hospital.

Since no accident was reported to the police department on that night, the demand, read before the City Council last night, was noted in the minutes of the meeting and held over for a week's investigation.

Mrs. or Miss Tozier asks $20,000 for injuries received, charging negligence on the part of the city, and $2000 for medical and hospital expenses.

In her demand, which was given personally yesterday to the city officials, the Tozier woman states that she was riding through Corona at midnight on June 23, last. The car approached the dip going in a westerly direction. At the dip, the woman asserts, she was thrown with such force as to sustain a fracture of the lumbar vertebrae, besides receiving numerous other bruises and suffering a shock to her nervous system.

It was pointed out at the Council meeting that the approach to the dip has been marked and that the twenty-mile limit signs are along the highway on both ends of the street at the city limits. Therefore anyone traveling at the speed required by the State law through incorporated cities would find it impossible to strike the dip in such a manner as to injure either car or passengers. Since no one present at the Council meeting had ever heard of the accident on the night of June 23, the demand came to the Council out of a clear sky.

At the next session the Council will probably reject the demand and defend the city in the court suit which seems likely to follow such action.

SANTA BARBARA, July 24.—Santa Barbara's history from time when the picturesque Cumaah Indians wandered about the foothills and ocean front, through the Spanish conquests, the Mexican rule, the Bear Flag days and the entrance of California into the Union, will be traced in the historic and colorful street pageant to be held Thursday, August 7, the first day of the three-day Old Spanish Days Fiesta here.

Nearly 1000 persons in costumes of the earlier days, all in keeping with the various periods, will march or ride in the great parade. The characters in the parade also will appear in the "Romantic California," written and directed by Charles E. Pressley, to be given in Peabody Stadium on Thursday and Saturday nights, August 7 and 9.

The action for the night pageant, the various scenes which are to be produced on a revolving stage, starts as a pair of American tourists stop to question Don Antonio Lugo, who tells the story of the city.

The first scene is an Indian village as it was discovered by Juan Rodrigues Cabrillo in 1542. Then other episodes follow, the raising of the Spanish flag by Don Gaspar Portola in 1769, the raising of the cross by Padre Junipero Serra in 1782, the building of the Old Mission, the raid of the pirates of Hippolite Bouchard in 1818, the Mexican conquest under Luis Arguello in 1821, the great fiesta held in honor of the wedding of Anita de la Guerra, a belle of the city, to Alfred Robinson, an Englishman, and the raising of the American flag over the Presidio by Col. John C. Fremont in 1846.

The entire pageant at night will be staged with an elaborate musical accompaniment worked out by Raymond Eldred, Sr.

Gertrude and Albert Ruiz take the parts of Miss De la Guerra and Robinson, the Englishman.

Louis Frondi and Georgia Graham are cast in the respective roles of Lieut. Arguello and Carmelita, another pair of characters around whom the pageant's love scenes are woven.

SHE FALLS ASLEEP, THEN OFF HER COT

UPLAND, July 24.—Sleeping on a cot has its dangers and hazards, Mrs. Joseph W. Waterbury of Monrovia on a pleasure jaunt to a San Antonio Canyon resort was enjoying her stay immensely, but when she slept so soundly she fell from her cot a trip to San Antonio Community Hospital was necessary.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER UNITED

String of Circumstances Beginning Fifteen Years Ago in South America, When Tom Galvin Nursed Edward H. Shea, Brings Search to Close

SANTA BARBARA, July 24.—Through an uncharted string of circumstances, starting back in South America fifteen years ago, when Tom Galvin nursed Edward H. Shea, 752 West Twenty-third street, San Pedro, through a dangerous and almost fatal illness from fever, a father and a daughter, separated for twenty-one years, may be reunited soon in Oakland.

The daughter, Mrs. Eileen Dismukes, was found in her home here by Shea after a seven-year search. The father, Tom Galvin, is living in Albany, near Oakland, according to Shea, who traced Mrs. Dismukes through old addresses, friends and houses where she formerly lived. The trail for the daughter dimmed as he inquired in and about Santa Barbara, as the girl had married, but he finally located her in the Chamber of Commerce office here. He told her that her father was living, and wanted to see her.

Shea told Mrs. Dismukes that he and her father met years ago in British Columbia before Galvin married, and that Galvin had nursed Shea through a severe attack of typhoid fever. Thep separated and lost track of each other until Galvin learned Shea's address from a mutual friend. They have kept up a correspondence since.

Seven years ago Galvin asked Shea to aid in the search for Mrs. Dismukes. "I was so surprised and happy that I was all in a whirl," said Mrs. Dismukes after Shea had visited her. "I couldn't sleep that night.

"I was just a little girl when my father went away and I cannot remember what he looked like. All these years I have wondered about him, and finally persuaded myself that he must be dead. And now, to find he is alive—I can scarcely wait."

NAVY FLYER DIVES INTO BAY

Lieut. Thomas G. Fisher Joins Caterpillar Club in Leap for Life From Disabled Plane at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, July 24.—Lieut. Thomas G. Fisher, naval aviator attached to the air squadrons of the Battle Fleet, leaped 1000 feet into the bay late this morning, being saved by his parachute as his disabled plane plunged close beside him to destruction. Fisher was flying in a three-plane formation of single-seater fighting ships of the BF-6 squadron. The mishap occurred in the air over the destroyer base, the pilot falling into the water near the end of the National City wharf.

A speed boat from the destroyer base put out without delay and took the struggling aviator aboard. North Island Naval Air Corps officials, in an effort to determine the cause of the accident, were on the spot shortly after noon, working on the partially submerged wreckage. Until their investigation is concluded, no official statement will issue regarding the reasons for Fisher's leap.

Eye witnesses at the destroyer base say that Fisher either collided with another plane of his formation, or narrowly avoided such collision, losing control of his ship during the maneuver.

Reseda Starts Plans to Lay Sewer System

RESEDA, July 24.—Request for the installation of sanitary sewers throughout the Reseda district was made today to the City Council's Health and Sanitation Committee. The committee and city engineer are considering the request. The petition sent to the Council by the local Chamber of Commerce asked that the engineer prepare necessary survey maps and plans for a complete sewer system in the Reseda townsite, contracts covering the project to be held in abeyance until such time as the contract is let for the main outfall sewer.

Projects of a sanitary nature, such as sewers, may be ordered by the Council without a majority petition being received from the taxpayers in the district concerned, it was stated here. The Council is expected to order the engineer to proceed with plans for the project on the strength of the local chamber's assurance that a majority of the people favored the system. Taxpayers, of course, are given an opportunity to protest before final action is taken by the Council. There is expected to be little opposition in this district, however, it was announced.

Attorney Calls All Local Bar Into His Case

ONTARIO, July 24.—Practically every attorney in this city will be called to trial soon, through an action on file today in Superior Court.

John McCutcheon, local attorney, set the wheels in motion to get all the lawyers together to settle a case in which he is involved. He filed a complaint against Kathryn Dent, local woman, seeking to obtain $290.30 attorney's fees from her, assertedly due and unpaid for past legal services.

McCutcheon has retained Attorneys Pollock & Mitchell, Leland S. Davidson and Thomas J. Pitts, and all other attorneys in the city will be called as witnesses to testify that the fee asked by the plaintiff is within reason.

McCutcheon has represented the present defendant on several previous occasions, two of which have been criminal actions brought by the State, his counsel reported.

Slash Made in Assessments for Burbank

BURBANK, July 24. — Assessed valuation of Burbank real estate as tentatively fixed by the County Assessor is $23,640,655 this year. This is a reduction of $2,326,305 under the valuation of last year, it is announced here today.

According to the Assessor's records, the assessed valuation of Burbank land this year is $17,708,445. Last year's taxes were based on a valuation of $20,268,930. Improvements in Burbank are valued at $5,932,210 this year, as compared with $5,888,030 last year. The assessment roll reveals that the total assessed valuation of Burbank property subject to the ad valorem levy this year is $25,832,325, with the probability that this figure may be lowered somewhat by the Board of Equalization.

Even as the figures stand now they represent quite a reduction under the totals of the previous year.

City Destroys Puncture Vines

REDLANDS, July 24.—The job of ridding the city streets of puncture vines to supplement the work being done by the county along these lines has just been begun under the street department and W. L. Fowler, commissioner of the department.

At a recent meeting of the City Council this matter was discussed and it was decided that the city should co-operate with the county. Fowler has men at work now spraying the puncture vines along the streets in an effort to effectually check the spread of the vine, and, if possible, eliminate it.

The puncture vines are especially prevalent in the sandy sections of the city and along the streets that have orange groves. They have caused orange growers a great deal of trouble, and it is impossible to keep them out of the groves so long as they are to be round along the streets. The county has had a force of men patrolling the roads and spraying the vines for some time. After they are sprayed and dried they are raked into piles and burned, for this is the only effective way of getting rid of them.

BUSINESS WOMEN TO GATHER AT REDONDO

REDONDO BEACH, July 24.—Members and executive officers of the Business and Professional Woman's Clubs of the district will meet at a round-table conference breakfast here Sunday morning. The breakfast, set for 9:30 o'clock, will be in the Woman's Clubhouse and Mrs. May E. Eisen of Los Angeles will preside. About 200 members, representing five clubs, are expected.

Court Cleared as Girl Tells Jury Her Story

RIVERSIDE, July 24.—Doors of Superior Judge Freeman's courtroom were closed to spectators as the 13-year-old girl accuser of Henry McGuire, Corona service-station owner, on trial for statutory offenses against the child, was called to the witness stand by Dep. Dist.-Atty. French, in charge of the prosecution.

The girl's testimony was believed the outstanding part of the evidence thus far presented to the jury of six men and six women. Her pathetic story withstood the attacks of defense attorneys in the preliminary hearing. She accused McGuire of forcing his attentions upon her numerous times between September of last year and January of this year, while she was living in their Corona home.

Clara E. Kelsey of Murrietta, the woman to whom the child was given after juvenile authorities had taken her from the McGuire home, was the first witness for the prosecution. She told of admission made to her by the girl, and of her reporting the case to the juvenile authorities, who caused McGuire's arrest. The girl was the only other prosecution witness called during the day.

Truck Drivers Doze; Crash on Road Follows

ONTARIO, July 24.—It was early in the morning when the truck drivers became sleepy, otherwise a serious accident might have occurred on Valley Boulevard at the west city limits.

The driver of a huge oil truck, with trailer attached, felt the urge of sleep overpowering him, so he parked his heavy vehicle at the curb.

Along the boulevard rumbled another large oil truck with trailer following. This driver was also in the grip of Morpheus, and dropped off to sleep just in time to permit his tanker and trailer to crash into the other one.

The impact was great enough to swing the parked truck and trailer across the highway, and the leviathans of transportation effectively blocked traffic for an hour.

Fred A. Tebo of the local police force investigated the tangle, and reported no one injured, but all desire to sleep was knocked out of the drivers.

SIX-SHOOTER "ROD" USED BY FISHERMAN

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 24. Two bluefin were hanging around Billy's barge and "Dutch" Davis, the skipper, shot them with a six-shooter, gaffed them and hauled them on deck. One weighed eight pounds, the other was a ten-pounder.

Three men, it seems, were trying to outdo each other—J. Debba of Long Beach caught a fifty-one-pound halibut, Harvey Walker, a fifty-pounder, and J. J. North, best fisherman here, landed one that tipped the scales at forty-nine pounds.

Alvin Koenig of this city, State high-school champion sprinter in the 200-yard dash, caught eighty pounds of barracuda yesterday. Record crowds fish from the barge operating from the Huntington Beach municipal pier and great hauls are brought in, amounting to several hundred pounds on many days. Barracuda, halibut, calico bass and mackerel are caught every day and frequently jewfish are captured, and a few of the great fighting yellowfin have been caught. The warm weather has brought more to these waters.

Thirty-eight fishing and trolling boats and private yachts were counted yesterday operating in the big schools of fish near Billy's barge three miles from shore. Fishing is good from the pier also.

ORANGE COUNTY ADDS PRECINCTS

Fifteen New Voting Areas Ready for Primaries

This Makes Total of 189, Clerk Backs Reports

More Than 1100 Election Officials to Function

SANTA ANA, July 23.—Orange county will conduct its primary election this year with an increase of fifteen voting precincts, which now total 189, County Clerk J. M. Backs announced today, as he prepared a list of precinct election boards named late yesterday by the County Supervisors.

More than 1100 election officials will handle the ballots at the approaching election, it was shown, all but a few of the less populous having six members for each election board.

New precincts established this year are known as Alamitos, carved out of Garden Grove and Westminster, Sunset Beach, created from a portion of Wintersburg Precinct; Seal Beach No. 2; Garden Grove No. 5; West Anaheim No. 2; Buena Park No. 3; Laguna Beach No. 3; Midway City taken from Westminster and Wintersburg precincts; North Main precinct, constituting that remaining portion of West Orange Precinct "marooned" between the newly annexed areas of Orange and Santa Ana; and six new Santa Ana precincts, Nos. 51, 52, 53, 54, 55 and 56.

Registration for the approaching primary, which closes next Saturday, is proceeding steadily, Backs said today. All those who desire to register or transfer their registration from one precinct to another, or to change party affiliation, in time for voting at the primary, must do so this week, Backs warned.

Workers Today Pour Concrete at Tujunga Dam

TUJUNGA, July 24.—Work will start tomorrow on the Big Tujunga dam with the pouring of concrete, according to E. C. Eaton, chief engineer of the county flood control. Rock conditions are better than expected, he says, and work is going ahead rapidly. The dam, 240 feet in height, will back up a huge lake of water for a distance of a mile and a half. There is already some talk of converting the district into a State or county park, Eaton says. The dam will cost $1,000,000 and it will require a year to build.

According to Eaton the building of this dam will have a great effect on the flood-control situation in San Fernando Valley. He says the Pacoima Dam has already demonstrated its usefulness in this regard, and the Big Tujunga also will be helpful in not only handling the storm waters from that big watershed, but in holding back the water for conservation.

OKLAHOMAN JUDGES LIVE-STOCK FOR FAIR

POMONA, July 24.—W. L. Blizzard, head of the animal husbandry department at Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College, has accepted an invitation to do stock judging at the Los Angeles county fair here next September, according to word received here today. Few college men in the United States have a record comparable to that of the Oklahoman when it comes to judging live stock, it is said. Others are authorities on hogs or sheep or horses or cattle, but Blizzard is a competent judge in any or all of these classifications. He began judging live stock at the Kansas State fair in 1912. Since then he has been honored with invitations to judge in every part of the United States. Last year he was the only North American judge of a group in attendance at the International Live Stock Exhibition, Chicago. Others were from Scotland, Canada and South America.

PATRIOTIC BODIES INVITED TO PICNIC

ONTARIO, July 24.—A. Podrasnik Camp, No. 18, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civi War, and auxiliary will be hosts August 2 at a picnic in Fourth-street Park at which the five patriotic organizations of the community will be entertained.

The organizations invited are Grand Army of the Republic, Women's Relief Corps, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War and the Sons of Union Veterans and auxiliary.

COACH CHANGES JOBS

SAN FERNANDO, July 24.—Coach Jack Hughes, who for the last five years has been at the head of the athletic department of the San Fernando High School, has resigned to take a similar position with the high school at Venice. Hughes is well known in San Fernando Valley for the number of excellent football teams he turned out for the San Fernando school.

BUDGET ESTIMATES MADE

Ventura County Board of Supervisors Figures Annual Expenditures Expected in Coming Year

VENTURA, July 24.—Estimated total governmental expenditures for the county of Ventura during the next fiscal year aggregate $7,045,963. This was made known today as the Board of Supervisors met to consider the county's budgets for the coming year.

Figures released now are not final, as they are in the form of requests from the various county department heads, and are subject to change by the Supervisors.

The estimated total expenditures for the county are about $250,000 above the amount allowed last year, which was $6,791,693.

A final statement regarding the actual allowances for each county department will not be forthcoming until early in August, it was decided.

SUPER X-RAY NOW SOUGHT

Biological Institute Tells of Present Research

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—New powers to unlock far-reaching healing powers of X-rays are sought by the Biological Research Institute, latest American scientific so-

ACCURACY VITAL

"Accurate measuring of X-ray [illegible] is becoming vital. There is [illegible] more powerful poison than [illegible] of X-rays or radium. For [illegible] the rays should be standardized under government regulation, but we cannot do this with [illegible] of the present irregular performance. We aim to use research [illegible] help produce better Americans. [illegible] Europeans are ahead of us [illegible] this respect."

Cheaper radium is another objective. Others are American control [illegible] of its own radium supply, establishment of a central radiological research laboratory, fostering pure biological research in colleges, co-operation with the National Institute of Health created by Congress, and an advisory board of fifty scientists to extend X-ray research use [illegible] all walks of life. SUCCUMBS EN ROUTE TO PANAMA CANAL

Rear-Admiral Harry H. Rousseau

DEAD MAN DECLARED GANGSTER

Body Found in Mississippi Identified by Chicagoan as Terry Druggan

BROOKHAVEN (Miss.) July 24. (AP)—A former Chicago resident today tentatively identified a body being held here as that of Terry Druggan, reputed Chicago gangland character. A. R. Glover, the Chicagoan, used newspaper pictures to substantiate his statements.

The body was picked up along the tracks near Roxie, twenty-five miles west of Brookhaven, last Saturday. It was brought to Brookhaven early this week and hundreds of persons have viewed it here with no added clew to its identity being uncovered until today.

Investigating the lead given them today, local officers telegraphed to Chicago this afternoon for a description of Druggan, but at midnight had received no reply.

CHICAGO, July 25. (AP)—Chicago police were doubtful early today concerning reports that Terry Druggan of the beer barony of Duggan and Lake was the man found near Brookhaven, Miss. They said one informant they regarded as reliable told them he had talked with Druggan here as late as 5 o'clock last night.

Postoffice Chief Scores Leasing

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—Government leasing of postoffice branch buildings in large cities was termed "poor business" tonight by Postmaster-General Brown in proposing Congressional action to permit their purchase.

In an address in the national radio forum sponsored by the Washington Star and the Columbia Broadcasting Company, the Postmaster-General said the leasing policy was "forced on the Postoffice Department by the government's suspension of ordinary building operations during the war and for a considerable period thereafter."

Bandits Make Race Clean-up

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP)—Regardless of whether the horses were running well, there were no profits yesterday for racing followers at Argo, a southwest suburb. Five bandits, armed with a machine gun, took all the money.

The bandits slipped into a handbook, in the rear of a barber shop, lined up the betters against the wall, took $2700 from the proprietor and an unestimated amount from the patrons.

FALL KILLS JERSEYITE

PHOENIX, July 24. (AP)—Matthew Jolly, 20 years of age, of New Bergen, N. J., lost his footing while walking along the top of Cave Creek Dam, thirty-five miles north of Phoenix today, and plunged to his death seventy-five feet below.

DEATH CLAIMS NAVY ENGINEER

Rear-Admiral Rousseau Dies on Shipboard

Was Director of Naval Petroleum Reserves

Attained Rank by Work on Panama Canal

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—Rear-Admiral Harry H. Rousseau, who once acted as a co-receiver of government oil lands during the Elk Hills naval reserve litigation, and who was made a rear-admiral by an act of Congress because of his work on the Panama Canal, died today aboard a ship on his way back to Panama on a government mission.

Admiral Rousseau was director of the naval petroleum reserves as well as chief co-ordinator of the Bureau of the Budget. He was returning to the Canal Zone on the steamship Cristobal on navy business and to consider problems in connection with the Panama Railways, of which he was a director.

He had been in excellent health, and reports to the Navy did not divulge the cause of his death. The Cristobal said it would put in at Charleston, S. C., and debark the body there.

Admiral Rousseau served for three years as a receiver of the Elk Hills reserve and because of his familiarity with the problems later became director of all naval petroleum reserves.

As a member of President Roosevelt's Isthmian Canal Commission, he had charge of considerable construction and after the workers had overcome malaria and finished the project, he took charge of the design and construction of the Canal terminals, dry docks, piers and other essentials. Congress then elevated him to the rank of rear-admiral. Only two other men have been thus honored: Robert E. Peary, discoverer of the North Pole, and Richard E. Byrd, South Polar explorer.

Admiral Rousseau's home was in Washington. He leaves a widow and three sons.

SOLO HOPS BY WALES ASSERTED

Several Brief Flights Made by Prince Alone in His Own Plane

LONDON, July 24. (Exclusive)—According to the well-informed aviation correspondent of the Daily Telegraph it can now definitely be stated that the Prince of Wales has recently made a number of solo flights.

The solo flights have been only of short duration and have not taken him far from the airdrome. The news that the Prince has actually flown alone has caused considerable surprise in aviation circles as, despite numerous rumors to the contrary, it was always officially understood he was either accompanied by a private pilot or in cases where a service plane was utilized—a service pilot.

The Prince's solo flights were made in his own two-seater plane which he recently entered in the King's Cup race in his own name, piloted by Squadron Leader Don.

FOREIGNERS FLEE CHINA RED TERROR

Missionaries Quit Areas of Danger in Interior; Forty-four at Foochow

SHANGHAI, July 24. (AP)—Foreign missionaries are fleeing from the interior of China as a result of conditions of banditry and Communist outlawry which they declare to be no longer tolerable by them.

Accompanied by American and British consular officials, forty-four missionaries, long marooned in the upper Min River Valley near Shaowu and Yenping, Fukien Province, were taken in safety last night to Foochow, capital and metropolis, near the seacoast.

Of the forty-four missionaries arriving at Foochow last night, twenty-one are Americans, and the remainder British.

PEACH AND FIG MEN AIDED

Federal Farm Board Grants Substantial Loan With Which to Finance and Reorganize Group

FRESNO, July 24. (AP)—Obtention of a substantial loan from the Federal Farm Board with which to reorganize and finnance the California Peach and Fig Association was announced tonight by E. I. Feemster, president. The amount of the loan was withheld.

Included in the reorganization program which has been approved by the Farm Board are the following points:

Transfer of four packing plants from the Delaware Corporation of the association to the California Corporation and cancellation of claims held by the California co-operative against the Delaware co-operative for $200,000.

Giving to the Farm Board of a mortgage against the four plants, valued at $500,000, to secure the Farm Board loan.

Offer on July 29 to all peach and fig growers, whether or not members of the present co-operative, of a new grower contract with withdrawal periods every year. The contract will not be a lien on the land as is the present contract.

Final liquidation of the Delaware corporation with payment dollar for dollar of all obligations, save possibly that to preferred stockholders. Other plants and equipment owned by the Delaware or manufacturing corporation of the association are valued at $900,000, the preferred stock totaling $1,000,000.

Feemster, in making the announcement, said there would be no campaign for grower members and that the reorganization had nothing whatever to do with the program for the grape industry which is now being completed.

GAME OF PITCH DECIDES CANDIDACY FOR SHERIFF

HERKIMER (N. Y.) July 24. (AP)—Fortune lay in the cards tonight for Daniel F. Strobel. He won not only the right to enter the primaries as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Herkimer county, but the good will and support of the man he beat in a game of pitch, otherwise known as high-low-jack.

To a little tavern outside this village they went, Strobel, Fred Sauer, against whom he was to play pitch with the principal place on the Republican county ticket at stake, and a retinue of followers. They have been friends for a quarter century and neither would enter a political fight against the other. So they decided to leave it to the cards.

While self-appointed sergeants - at - arms promptly squelched the Kibitzers who could not refrain from offering advice at intervals, Strobel and Sauer faced each other as grimly as any duelists. The cards were dealt and play began. Strobel took some friendly jeering when his hand shook as he attempted to light a cigarette. Sauer was twitted because he couldn't decide whether to leave his hat off or on. The goal was eleven points. Strobel got there first.

At an adjoining table three other Republicans played pinochle to decide who next would hold the appointive office of county purchasing agent. Maurice Kraus, with 1000 points, emerged the victor over M. L. Hyde, who had 490, and John Flank, whose total was 380.

HUGE DAMAGE CAUSED BY FLOODS IN INDIA

KARACHI (India) July 24. (AP)—Property losses estimated at more than $1,000,000 were caused in this area today by floods due to a rainfall of approximately six inches in the last twenty-four hours. Huge stocks of grain, sugar and cotton have been wiped out by a tide which swirled through the streets and cut off telegraphic communication with the rest of India.

PRIEST WILL COVER ALASKA BY PLANE

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP)—Rev. George J. Feltes, flying Jesuit missionary, left Chicago today after a one-day stop here en route to his mission post in Alaska. The priest will stop at Dubuque, Iowa, Wichita, Kan., Phoenix, Ariz., Los Angeles and San Francisco before shipping his plane and taking a steamer to Alaska, where the plane will be used to help him cover the remote mission stations of his territory.

GROWERS' GOAL JUST OVER HILL

Seventy-five Hundred Acres Needed for 85 Per Cent

Last-Minute Drive Today on Grape Contracts

Much Hard Work Necessary, Campaign Chief Warns

FRESNO, July 24.—With approximately 7500 acres of vineyard remaining to be signed up in the campaign to bring 85 per cent of the State's acreage under control in the Federal Farm Board's stabilization program, Wylie M. Giffen, chairman of the organization committee, today expressed a feeling of optimism that the campaign will come to a successful close tomorrow night.

Giffen warned, however, that the goal will not be reached without much diligent effort on the part of the volunteer workers throughout the State, and particularly in the Central San Joaquin Valley.

A large portion of the unsigned acreage is in Fresno county and it is here that the greatest effort is being expended to induce the holdout growers to sign contracts binding their acreage to either the fresh fruit or raisin divisions.

Group Dentistry Reduces Costs of Serving Public

High prices often keep people away from the dentist. They may know that their teeth are decayed, and that diseased teeth are a danger, but they cannot pay the high prices generally asked.

The only way to reduce prices is to use system and advertising to increase the volume of business. Here "group dentistry" as practiced in the offices of dentists using the E. R. Parker System has many advantages. Group dentistry means business methods and increases professional efficiency. Several dentists work together and the cost of rent, heating, lighting and instruments is divided among them.

Combined buying power also greatly reduces the cost of materials used. Time is saved by the use of modern appliances, and still further savings are made possible by the fact that every dental office where the E. R. Parker System is used is completely equipped with X-ray machines and laboratories for the making of crowns, bridges and artificial dentures of all kinds right on the premises. The various savings made are shared with the patient.

There are 31 offices in the United States and Canada where dentists are using the E. R. Parker System. Collectively these dentists have the world's largest practice

GEHLBACH STILL HAS DERBY LEAD

Arkansas Flyer Gets $500 Houston Lap Prize

"Little Rocket" Far Ahead in Aerial Race

Herman Hamer Forced Down by Motor Trouble

HOUSTON (Tex.) July 24. (AP)—Eleven of the twelve planes which sped away from Little Rock, Ark., this morning in the All-American Air Derby had checked in here late today. Lieut. Lee Gehlbach in the Little Rocket, the Arkansas city's entrant, still was far ahead of the field with elapsed time of 3h. 1m. 34s. from Little Rock here and a total unofficial elapsed time of 15h. 22m. 32s.

Gehlbach won $500 of the $1000 lap prize offered here. "Stub" Quinby of Moline, Ill., took the second money of $300 and J. R. Wedell of New Orleans the $200 third award.

Herman Hamer of Chicago arrived several hours after the others. He had been forced down fifty miles from Houston by motor trouble.

The other finishers in the order of arrival were Towell Bayles, Springfield, Mass.; Stanley Stanton, Blackwell, Okla.; Charles Meyers, Cleveland; Joe Meehan, Ironton, O.; Bill Cahill, Cleveland; Harry Ogden, Inglewood, Cal.; Larry Brown, Los Angeles, and Cecil Coffrin, Brooklyn.

FINAL PREPARATIONS MADE FOR VISIT HERE

Final preparations for the basing of the All-America Flying Derby planes when they arrive at the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport, Van Nuys, Sunday for a two-day halt, have been completed, according to Waldo D. Waterman, general manager of the port.

A feature air meet will be staged in conjunction with the derby arrival, in which many of the world-famous men and women flyers will participate. Races, maneuvers, speed demonstrations, balloon-breaking contests, parachute drop and plane exhibits will form part of the day's program.

NEW POET MAKES BOW; HE PILOTS REFUSE SCOW

NEW YORK, July 24. (Exclusive)—The soothing roll of a garbage scow as the tides of Narrows bathe her prow is a lovely thing in this dull, drab age—witness the tale of young John Cabbage.

He steers a refuse scow to sea, occasionally giving himself a spree with pen and ink and clean, white paper, cutting a rhyming nautical caper.

It seems that this John Cabbage is the author of a number of sea chanteys which were printed the other day in a New York newspaper under the name of John Case, exciting considerable attention.

That John Case is John Cabbage, the garbage scow pilot, was disclosed today by the editor of the Seaman's Church Institute house organ, who also explained that the pseudonym was adopted after another publication to which his verses had been submitted indulged in humorous quips at the expense of Cabbage's name.

The name used to be Kepec, which is Polish and sounds like Cabbage, so the author took to spelling it that way quite a while back.

New York Bank Escapes Fine of $3,000,000

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 24. (AP)—A $3,000,000 fine imposed by a Federal bank inspector on the National City Bank of New York for asserted infractions of the banking laws through exchange transactions in the Sao Paulo branch several months ago has been remitted by decision of the Minister of Finance with the approval of President Washington Luis.

The bank inspector last January investigated certain exchange transactions and declared that he had found irregularities for which he imposed the huge fine. The National City Bank placed $3,000,000 in the Banco Do Brazil on March 14 as a guarantee of payment and then appealed the decision with the result it was reversed.

PRIX DE ROME WON BY COOLIDGE'S KIN

NEW YORK, July 24. (Exclusive) A distant cousin of former President Coolidge has won this year's Prix De Rome award in landscape architecture, which has an estimated cash value of some $8000 and enables the winner to study three years abroad. The successful candidate in this year's competition is Richard Coolidge Murdock, 25 years of age, who was graduated by Cornell University in 1929. Mr. Murdock said that he had never met the former President and did not even own one of his autographs.

Court Declares Jury Advice Not Binding on Judge

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24. (AP)—The California Supreme Court today ruled a trial judge is not bound by the recommendation of a jury.

The court affirmed a Merced county Superior Court judgment sending Peter Lopez, convicted of driving while drunk, to the County Jail for one year. The jury had recommended Lopez's sentence be suspended. Lopez appealed on the ground the court had ignored the jury's verdict.

The Supreme Court held the jury has nothing to do with the character or extent of punishment, its province being solely to determine the guilt or innocent of a defendant.

RACKET RUMORS SIFTED BY JURY

Newspaper Men Questioned on Grafting Charges

Reporters Linked to Gangs by Published Stories

Ex-Police Heads and Chief Aide to Mayor Called

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP)—A grand jury manifestly determined to thresh the chaff of false gossip from the ample harvest of rumor gleaned from the underworld since Jake Lingle died went into action today.

Three newspaper men were taken before the jury to give their accounts of published charges and insinuations of racketeering among Chicago reporters. Ten other witnesses, two of them former heads of the police department and another, the Mayor's chief adviser, were asked to testify tomorrow.

Harry Reutlinger, assistant city editor of the Chicago Evening American, was the first witness today. Emerging after nearly an hour's hearing, he said he had told the grand jury all he knew, and added he believed Harry T. Brundidge, St. Louis Star reporter, was "the victim of a hoax."

It was the publication of Brundidge's stories of asserted racketeering by Chicago reporters and his testimony before the jurors on Tuesday that started the parade of witnesses before the grand jury.

Reutlinger was followed on the stand by Robert M. Lee, city editor of the Tribune. Harry Reed, city editor of the American, who has confirmed Brundidge's story that Read was a visitor at Al Capone's Miami estate, was the third witness of the day.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The hills in front of von Harben seemed to rise out of a great void, and it was as though between him and them there existed nothing. He might have been looking across an inland sea to distant, hazy shores—a waterless sea, for nowhere was there any suggestion of water—and then, suddenly, he came to a halt, startled, amazed.

The rolling plateau ceased abruptly at his feet and below him, stretching far to the distant hills, lay a great abyss. Perhaps a mile below him lay the floor of a sunken canyon, the further wall of which he could but vaguely estimate to be something between fifteen or twenty miles to the north, twenty-five or thirty miles from east to west.

Almost below him was a large lake or marsh that seemed to occupy the greater part of the east end of the canyon. He could see lanes of water winding through what appeared to be great growths of reeds and nearer the northern shore a large island. Three streams, winding ribbons far below, emptied into the lake. He saw moving figures of what he thought to be grazing game.

The sight below him aroused the enthusiasm of the explorer to its highest pitch. Here, doubtless, lay the secret of the Lost Tribe of the Wiramwari and how well nature had guarded this secret with stupendous barrier cliffs! The cliffs seemed impossible of descent, and yet he knew that he must find a way—that he would find a way down into that valley.

CLAY PRODUCTS PROFITS LOWER

Key Reports, However, New High in Cash

Earnings in Half-Year $1.45 Against $2.07

Progress Reported in Plant Operating Efficiency

Gladding, McBean & Company, Los Angeles Clay Products Company, reported the first half of 1930 with a balance of $34,819.74 carried to surplus after all fixed charges and current liabilities were met, liberal charges for depreciation and depletion authorized, bonded debt further reduced, all reserves set up including state and Federal taxes, and regular dividends paid, according to a statement to stockholders issued yesterday by William Lacy, president.

The earnings for the period were at the rate of $1.45 a share as compared to $2.07 a share earned in the first half of 1929, according to the statement. In the first half of 1930 the company reported net earnings after all charges and Federal taxes of $205,138.10, or $2.07 a share on 99,197½ capital shares outstanding. With the same number of outstanding shares, the total net earnings for the first six months of 1929 are indicated at $143,-.

As of June 30, last, cash on hand was at the highest point in the company's history at $587,784.46 while the ratio of current assets to current liabilities also went to a new high record, being 11.27 to 1, the report stated.

In reviewing briefly the business depression that started last fall and continued through the first half of this year, Mr. Lacy said that naturally the company's business was affected along with all others and therefore the results of the past six months as outlined in the report will perhaps be gratifying to the stockholders.

"While it is hazardous to venture definite predictions for the coming half-year, present indications point to an increasing volume of business with a total somewhat larger than the volume for the half-year just closed," Mr. Lacy said. "Meanwhile, the slack period is being utilized to increase efficiency, lower costs, and strengthen the organization in every way possible. Important additions and improvements to both Los Nietos and Santa Fe Springs plants are under way and will be carried to completion within the next few months. The effect of this will be to broaden the company's line of products and to reduce costs in those now manufactured."

The regular quarterly dividend of 80 cents a share accompanied the statement to the stockholders.

EDIE MODERATELY BULLISH

Detroit Economist Does Not Hold With Boom Ideas, But Looks for Fair Upturn in Fall Months

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Nothing in the nature of a boom for American business in the next twelve months is foreseen in the business horoscope cast by Lionel D. Edie, economist to the Investment Research Corporation of Detroit and former professor of finance at the University of Chicago.

This widely known financial authority, now visiting in Los Angeles, is conservative in his forecast. He looks for moderate business recovery in the fall months, a possible reaction in the winter, and revival to normal levels in the spring.

Mr. Edie's principal interest now is in the security markets, although his work carried him last year to Europe, where he made a study of central bank policies and participated in the discussions preliminary to the formation of the Bank for International Settlements. The Investment Research Corporation, for which he is economist, is the research organization for the two investment trusts of which Henry S. McKee of Los Angeles is the president.

FALL RISE SEEN

Applied to the trend of securities, Mr. Edie explained yesterday that his estimate of the business outlook would suggest higher prices by fall, followed by another rising period by the middle of 1931. In the interval he expects to see a series of violent fluctuations, much more severe than the market has witnessed in past years.

Investors and traders, he said, should double their expectations of stock performances. The violence of intermediate movements, in his opinion, will produce 20-point rises or declines where only 10 points were expected. For illustration he cited the June break in which the averages broke further than in any intermediate movement in the last thirty years.

Mr. Edie's prediction of severe fluctuations over the near-term course is contrary to the general belief. Most observers look for prices to hold to a narrow range until the fall improvement materializes.

POOLS FACTOR

His idea is that pool operators will contribute largely to violent movements in stocks. Only in recent months, he pointed out, have pools discovered their real power. Outstanding stock issues were well distributed in the hands of private investors, large corporations and investment groups, leaving a relatively small floating supply. This situation makes it relatively easy for professional groups to operate.

Availability of a large volume of credit at low rates also will influence active fluctuations, Mr. Edie said. And he also attaches considerable importance to the effect of organized and expert publicity activities of the large pools.

The effect of the large volume of credit on security prices should not be minimized, he added. It is his opinion that the Federal reserve banks are desirous of a strong bond market and will continue the purchase of government securities and bank acceptances with this end in view. Security purchases by member banks are also increasing, which will stimulate rising bond prices, followed later by rising stock prices.

CHIEF INDICES LISTED

Business men and investors, Mr. Edie advised, should follow principally the trend of steel ingot operations, automobile production and building activities as the earliest and most reliable indicators of business improvement.

His own studies have led him to the conclusion that business revival may be said to have materialized when steel ingot operations are around 70 to 75 per cent of capacity, compared with approximately 55 per cent at present; and when automobile production has increased to 350,000 automobiles monthly compared with approximately 250,000 for the current month. He expects these higher figures to be reached this fall.

On building he is not so optimistic. If the seasonal decline in the present six months is no more than normal he will be satisfied, but he does look for a severe condition of unemployment in the winter months when building comes to a standstill.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—Cotton was lower again today, with some of the active new crop positions making new low records for the season. ZUKOR BLAZES PEACE TRAIL

Visit to Germany Results in Pact for Pooling of American and Teuton Film Interests

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, July 24.—Germany was hard boiled, American films, using American equipment, had lost out. . . . The German courts had passed the death sentence. Soon not an American film would be shown in Germany.

Then last May, Adolph Zukor, president of Paramount-Publix, arrived in Berlin. He had a few confidential conferences with leading German motion-picture officials.

Upon his return to the United States ten days later, he announced that it was possible for the German and the American groups "to quit fighting and get together."

Within two weeks, Will Hays had left for Europe, followed by J. E. Otterson, representing the Electrical Research Products; C. J. Ross, representing the R.C.A. Photophone, and J. C. Graham, representing most of the other motion-picture companies. In Paris they met with the German representatives.

After five weeks of negotiations the hatchet has been buried with the pooling of the German and the American patent rights. The German groups get the right to manufacture motion-picture equipment under the pooled patents, for nearly all of Europe; American interests for North America, Australia, New Zealand, India and Russia.

The rest of the world, including France, England, Italy and Spain, is open to the competition of both groups.

"The purpose of the arrangement," says the official statement, "is to provide for the widest possible use of patent rights and technical information controlled by German and American interests. These rights are available, not only to American and German interests, but to the interests of all other nations."

The automobile industry, after being harassed for years by patent lawsuits, pooled their various patents for the good of the trade and built up the greatest industry in the world. The motion-picture industry, learning from experience, has decided to do likewise. It's a big step ahead.

Why did the City of New York this week issue $130,000,000 in short-time obligations (not exceeding nine months) to secure funds for its various long-time construction programs? Why were not long-time obligations sold instead of short-time ones?

The answer is that the short-time issues are in great demand by the banks at this time. Witness the interest rate of 2 3-4 to 2 7-8 per cent annually—a record price.

Long-time bonds are not yet selling with any particular briskness. Why? Because the banks are loaded up with them and they have dropped in price to a point where they cannot liquidate without suffering substantial losses.

Until the future trend of money becomes clearer, short-time obligations will remain in the center of the picture.

Too many long-time bonds were sold in the boom hysteria. These have to be "digested" before the market can absorb any further substantial volume of them.

Latham, Whiting Put on Board of Pacific Finance

Election of Dana Latham and Dwight Whiting to the board of directors of the Pacific Finance Corporation was announced yesterday, the action having been taken at the regular monthly meeting of the board.

Mr. Latham, who has advanced rapidly since he joined the group of interests directed by Lee A. Phillips, is also a director of the Pacific Company, wholly owned subsidiary of Pacific Finance, and is assistant to the chairman of the board of the Pacific American Fire Insurance Company, Pacific Indemnity Company and the Pacific Finance Corporation.

Dwight Whiting, one of the founders of the Merchants' Finance Corporation which was absorbed by the Pacific Finance Corporation a few months ago, is prominent in Los Angeles financial circles, being vice-president of Pacific Finance and of Union Oil Associates, president of the Indemnity Mortgage Insurance Company and a director on the boards of the Union Oil Company, the Rochester American Insurance Company of New York and the Gilmore Oil Company.

Net Profits on Listerine Sag

NEW YORK, July 24.—Lambert Company, manufacturers of pharmaceutical supplies, today reported net profits for the second quarter of $1,696,082 after charges and taxes, based on the ownership of 95.8 per cent of the stock of the Lambert Pharmacal Company and including Pro-Phy-Lac-Tic Brush Company. This amount is equal to $2.26 a share on 748,996 shares and compares with $2,068,267, or $2.76 a share in the preceding quarter. On a similar basis the net profits in the second quarter of 1929 would have been $1,483,820, or $1.98 a share.

Consolidated net profits for the first six months of the year totaled $3,764,349, equal to $5.02 a share on 748,996 shares, compared with $3,809,461, or $5.08 a share on the present basis in the first half of 1929.

PRICES DECLINE ON QUIET MART

Moderate Losses Recorded at End of Day

Volume of Trading Drops to 1,475,000 Shares

Profit Taking Chief Factor in Dip Downward

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—Stocks declined today in one of the year's dullest markets. The bull faction, cautious after the advances of yesterday and Tuesday, was active in only a few stocks, but supported leading shares on a scale-down.

The bears likewise seemed reluctant to take chances in view of the market's recent strength, and profit-taking rather than short selling was probably the dominant factor in the dip. Losses averaged about 2 points.

Those espousing the long side took some comfort from the fact that trading volume shriveled. Total sales were only 1,475,000 shares, the smallest since the 9th inst. The decreased activity was interpreted in the bull camp as evidence the market was consolidating its gain, and also taking care lest an advance be carried too far at a time when confidence is beginning to be restored.

There were two or three attempts at a rally, none of which got very far. American Can touched its best price in more than a month and Westinghouse Electric rose about a point.

General Motors' earnings report stimulated accumulation of the shares, which were firm, reacting only a small fraction. Reports that American Can's statement would be favorable and that United States Steel would show about $3 for the second quarter, thereby assuring that the year's dividend would be nearly covered in the first half, were well received, although Steel lost 1 3-4 on the day.

United States Industrial Alcohol was conspicuously weak, tumbling nearly 8 points net on selling in anticipation of the unfavorable first-half report. National Cash Register was in supply after the announcement of the 10 per cent wage reduction. Follansbee Brothers broke 3 points on the dividend cut.

Stocks off 2 to 3 points included American Telephone, Columbian Carbon, Vanadium, Worthington Pump, Foster Wheeler, Chesapeake and Ohio and American Tobacco "B." J. I. Case, R. H. Macy and Allied Chemical suffered larger losses. International Harvester, Radio-Keith-Orpheum, General Electric and Radio yielded about a point.

The decline of $17,000,000 in brokers' loans reflected the market's reaction last Saturday and Monday, and was somewhat of a surprise, for in many quarters a small increase had been expected.

The Federal Reserve statement showed a drop of $36,000,000 in the amount of credit outstanding. Discounts and open market bill purchases were off about $17,000,000 each for the system.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Trading Continues at Slow Pace With Price Changes Remaining in Narrow Range

Trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday continued its recent slow pace with the volume less than that of the preceding session and with price movements again restricted mostly to fractional changes. The market is apparently marking time and waiting for developments that will indicate the trend of the next major movement.

Transamerica, Richfield Oil, Southern California Edison, Boisa Chica Oil, Claude Neon and Pacific Finance were among the most active stocks traded yesterday. Transamerica, with total sales of 5700 shares, opened on a sale of 300 shares at 25, moved to 25 1-4, receded to 24 7-8 and after touching 25 on several transactions closed strong at 24 7-8, a net decline of 5-8 from the previous close.

Globe Grain and Milling common on a turnover of 200 shares again made a new low for the year, closing at 22½, off 1. The directors of the company in declaring the regular quarterly preferred and common dividends, payable October 1 to stock of record September 20, on Wednesday announced that the company is in the strongest financial position it has been in in ten years, and should find it easy to maintain the present dividend rate.

Pacific Finance, which has been inactive recently, showed a net decline of 1½ in closing at 24½. Southern California Edison common was off 3-4 at 57 3-4. Richfield Oil advanced 1-4 to 17⅛, as did Boisa Chica Oil A, in closing at 10, while Claude Neon at 33½ was up ½.

Los Angeles Investment held firm at 16. Pacific Western Oil, which has just issued its half-year report in which per share earnings were given as $1.22, as against $1.06 for the 1929 period, attracted some of the oil-share followers and on a turnover of 300 shares made a net gain of 1-4 to 15 1-4. Security-First National held to 102½ on sales of 200 shares. Union Bank on an odd-lot was unchanged at 325, and Seaboard National on a sale of ten shares eased 1-8 to 44.

Sales totaled 16,958 shares, valued at $506,141; previous day, 19,985 shares, valued at $620,892.

FACTORY EMPLOYMENT LOW

Reserve Board Survey Reports June Number on Pay Rolls Smallest for Year

WASHINGTON, July 24. (AP)—Factory employment and pay rolls in United States declined to new low levels during June and industrial profits decreased.

The Federal Reserve Board added to its summary of business and financial conditions for June today that the volume of building contracts awarded was large but prices declined sharply, and money rates continued downward.

Wholesale commodity prices declined a more rapid decline in June than in any other recent month and were about 10 per cent below the level of a year ago. Prices of many important agricultural products and their manufactured products dwindled while those of mineral products such as petroleum, rubber and coffee reached new lows.

There were further declines in prices of steel and copper, but prices of wool, hides and raw sugar advanced slightly in June.

The June industrial production showed a further substantial decline and the board's index, which declined to the lowest point since last December," the report said. "Output of steel ingots declined in June and early July to a rate that is unusual at this season of the year. Automobile production was partially curtailed to a level considerably below that of the same period of the last two years.

Cotton consumption, already at a low level, declined further in June. Factory employment and pay rolls decreased further in June. The number employed at steel plants and in the automobile, agricultural, rubber and cotton goods industries declined more than is usual at this season and employment in lumber and lumber industries continued at unusually low levels."

This large corporation is a holding company organized in May, 1929, to acquire the stock of the American Radiator Company, leading manufacturer of heating apparatus, and the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company, a large producer of plumbing fixtures and supplies. Following this combination, other important acquisitions have extended the company's activities into the production of metal windows, plumbing specialities and copper radiators. The thirty-two present subsidiaries of the parent company maintain factories, warehouses and branch offices throughout the United States, Canada and the principal countries of Europe. It is expected that completion of the present program of co-ordinating new subsidiary units and eliminating duplication of warehousing facilities and sales offices will result in substantial economies in selling, administrative and storage expenses.

Reflecting the large decline of residential building in 1929, both net income and sales dropped about 3 per cent from the combined 1928 results of the constituent companies. Management has successfully concentrated its 1930 sales efforts upon the rehabilitation of heating and plumbing equipment in old buildings to offset the sharp slump in new residence building. A current ratio of 7 to 1 reflects the exceptionally strong financial position of the company.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—Under the leadership of obligations of railroads operating in the southwest, carrier bonds developed real strength today. The market as a whole showed no reversal of the firm trend, which has carried the price level upward at a consistent but slow pace and the increased demand for prime rails provided impetus for broadened activity. The volume of sales was the best in two weeks, approximating $9,855,000.

Confirmation of reports the Southern Pacific Railroad was seeking control of the St. Louis Southwestern Railroad, having already acquired a large minority interest, turned the spotlight on carrier bonds of roads in that section. Unusual activity in several issues developed, and net gains ranged up to nearly 2 points, and a dozen or more new 1930 high marks were established.

Market activity developed in bonds of the Southern Pacific; St. Louis and San Francisco; Kansas City Southern; Missouri, Kansas and Texas and Missouri Pacific railway. Kansas Southern 5s gained 1¼ and Missouri, Kansas and Texas 4½s 1¼ to reach new highs. Other advances were in Atlantic Coast Line 4½s, Chicago and Northwestern 3½s, Canadian Pacific 4s to reach new prices of the year. All in all, rails made the best showing in the week despite quietness of some of the most popular issues.

Utility issues moved slowly, apparently affected by the lack of large new issues which shows no signs of slackening for some time. As the latest offering of the so-called electric bond and share group of utilities, Texas Electric Service Company will place $13,730,000 in 5 per cent bonds on the market tomorrow. Nominal gains were made by American Telephone issues, Consolidated Gas 5½s and International Telephone 5s. Detroit Edison 6s sagged.

Especial interest was displayed in Liberty Fourth 4¼s and Treasury 4¼s, with the former reaching a new high price for the year. Other governments were irregular.

Stock privilege issues were hesitant, but dipped slightly at the close.

With the exception of a few high-grade issues, foreign issues received little attention and fluctuated within a narrow range.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the highest and lowest prices in one or eleven. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—Curb shares fluctuated uncertainly in dull and listless trading today. Oils and the more active utilities were inclined to sag. Among the industrials and specialties, there were numerous firm spots although most of the low priced issues sagged to new lows. Sales aggregated 400,700 shares.

Gulf Oil lost 3 and Humble and Vacuum about 2 points. Cities Service sagged more than a point, but soon attracted support and closed off only a fraction. The oil shares have failed to make notable response to the improvement in petroleum statistics. With the price situation still none too satisfactory, market sponsorship has not been forthcoming.

In the utilities American Superpower, Middle West, Electric Bond and Share and United Light A sagged fractionally. American Light and Traction lost more than a point. Tampa Electric shot up 7 points. Power Securities, an investment trust specializing in power stocks, advanced to a new high at 34½, which is now 30 points above the year's low.

In the investment company group, Transamerica, in its last day of trading before transfer to the big board, sagged about a point in realising on yesterday's rise. Removal of this active stock will cost the curb's volume of trading about 25,000 shares a day or more. United Founders was firm, not only retaining yesterday's gain, but adding a fraction to it.

Aluminum Company dropped 4, and Dyers 3, the latter getting down to within ⅛ of its record low at 82. Sherwin Williams recorded a new low.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

The Del Rey Oil and Refining Co.'s pipe line system in the Venice field now is gathering oil from producing organizations which made arrangements to bring the production from more than a score of other operators who have crude to market. Yesterday the Venice Oil Co. hooked into the recently completed pipe line, together with the Petroleum Company, and reported that other operators also are supplying the Del Rey plant with oil when their lines are completed.

According to current reports the Del Rey Oil and Refining Company has entered into a temporary agreement with major oil companies to handle the production at Venice. The Venice Oil Company's gathering system is taking oil under the new arrangement and storing it at the plant, which will be within two days of the time when the oil will be ready to be delivered to Rosecrans or Torrance. The Del Rey Oil and Refining Company is constructing an absorption plant at the southerly end of the Venice field. It will be capable of handling 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Companies unable to pipe out their production at Venice now are having it trucked out. Among them is the Hanna F. Getty, Inc., and the Venice Oil Company.

Trend is Redrill

In Venice field, experienced its greatest delay during drilling operations when two wells were discovered to have come together while they were progressing with the drill. The Venice Oil Syndicate's No. 2, located near the intersection of Thirty-second avenue and Pacific Court, reported to have encountered the sand of Dean & Hall's No. 1 well a few feet west of the former. Instead of drilling mud between the two projects indicated that one of them had gone through the casing of the other.

A preliminary survey disclosed that the drill of Venice Syndicate's No. 2 had wandered off its course and as a result the crew backed up about 90 feet to redrill straight. It is said this will be lost, because the sand is the earlier stages of completion at Venice. Venice Syndicate's No. 3 is preparing to spud in today, and its No. 4 near the corner of Thirty-ninth avenue and Ocean Front is preparing to receive its new derrick.

Well Another Mile-Stone

Although no announcement is forthcoming as yet from the Standard Oil Company, it appears highly probable that the company may establish a new location near Saticoy which will be nearer the ocean than the Circus No. 3, which recently was abandoned with bottom of the hole at 4,000 feet.

Drillers have run into a series of difficulties and lost many days' time in Saticoy-Citrus operations, necessitated considerable reaming. Mechanical troubles have delayed progress in the well which is the deepest active wildcat in Ventura county.

Drilling Down

Production from the Pacific Western Oil Company's Tideland Permit No. 1 at Elwood yesterday was shut down to control the excessive gas pressure. It is flowing at the rate of 4,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Well Another

The California Ventura Oil Company is preparing to construct derricks for a test in the Potrero town-lot area. The company set to 6110 feet and bottomed the hole at 6234 feet. It is one of the deepest active projects in the field.

Next Deep

Among the operators reported to be planning a deep test northwest of the Potrero town-lot area, are the Richfield Oil Company, already active in that district, and George L. Bowen. According to field reports, the well will be drilled in the north part of the district near the Ring Wells. The company's property, it is reported, holds several holes were drilled more than a year ago.

The Exploration Company has been down some about a mile northwest of the Potrero town-lot area and is said to have encountered the sand at 5,000 feet, although finding production. Other reports were drilled by L. C. Simmel, whose property is suspended. Several companies have long considered a test there to discover what sand might be a small structure. Indications are that the extension of this work will be shared by a number of new operators.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Bard's, Eighth between Broadway and Hill—"True to the Navy." For once Clara Bow has more than she can handle.

Boulevard, Washington and Vermont—"On the Level." Reviewed in today's Times.

California, Main near Eighth—"A Lady to Love." A capable, though censored, transcription of "They Knew What They Wanted." Good performances by Vilma Banky and Edward G. Robinson.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"So This Is London." Will Rogers goes abroad again and finds London as funny as Paris.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"Hell's Angels." It took Howard Hughes four years and $4,000,000 to produce Mr. Coleman of the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Romance." Garbo once more glamorous than ever in a picture not equal to the play.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"The Border Legion." One of the best of westerns is made funny and exciting by Richard Arlen and Jean Arthur.

Fiesta, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"True to the Navy."

Figueroa, 1222 South Vine—"Asphalt." Opens tonight.

Fox, Pico at Norton—"Sweethearts and Wives." Another social triangle but adroitly handled. With Billie Dove.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Wild Company." Reviewed in today's Times.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"The Big Pond." A comedy of gum and beer. Maurice Chevalier.

Fantasy, Hollywood at Vine—"The Big House." An exciting story of prison life and "old Walter Beery at his best." Chester Morris.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Queen High." Reviewed in today's Times.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"The Social Lion." A very humorous picture of a prize fighter who went polo, then back again. Jack Oakie.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"The Runaway Bride." Reviewed in today's Times.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Dixiana." Bebe Daniels in a musical sometimes of the South and of very uncertain color.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Dumbbells in Ermine." A bit of frothy entertainment provided by Jack Oakie and Lilyan Tashman.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"The Social Lion."

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"Three Faces East." Good entertainment furnished by the war and Eric von Stroheim with Constance Bennett.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"The Way of All Men." An effective storm spectacle that just misses its point. With Dorothy Fairbanks, Jr.

Westlake, 658 Alvarado—"True to the Navy."

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"Rebound." Ina Claire sparkles in various moods, and the dialogue has bright moments.

El Capitan, Hollywood Blvd. at Highland—"To the Ladies." The lighter side of domesticity provides amusement such as only Gwen Hunter can offer.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1733 N. Vine—"Fata Morgana." Elsie Ferguson charms anew in this dramatic tale by Ernest Vadja. Tom Douglas comes near to being a sensation as the boy.

Vine Street, Vine near Hollywood—"Oh, Judge." A musical melange somewhat enlivened by Bernard Granville.

VARIETIES

Follies, 4th and Main—Burlesque.

LADY OWEN UNDER QUIZ IN SHOOTING

Widow Who Faces Charge of Wounding Woman Says Money Ruined Romance

VERSAILLES, July 24. (AP)—Lady Owen, a wealthy titled woman and the French-born widow of Sir Theodore Charles Owen, who last night was arrested for shooting and wounding the wife of Dr. Paul Gastaud, Paris radiologist, appeared before a magistrate today.

This official sought to find out details of Lady Owen's tragic romance with the Parisian doctor.

"The question of money ruined my romance," Lady Owen said.

Mme. Leone Gastaud, her victim, lies near death in her husband's clinic at Paris.

Police said Lady Owen shot Mme. Gastaud as the climax of a triangular drama.

About a year ago, they explained, Lady Owen became a patient of Dr. Gastaud and an attachment grew between them. The police asserted Dr. Gastaud promised to divorce his wife and marry Lady Owen, but changed his mind and yesterday told Lady Owen of his intention to break with her.

Hace Uso de un Gato Como Arma Contundente

NUEVA YORK, Julio 24.—Después de haber derribado a una muchacha con un gato que tenía cogido de la cola, Charles Bronowitz, de 37 años de edad, fue sentenciado a quince días en el hospicio por crueldad para con los animales.

Una Mofeta Da al Traste con la Estancia de un Hombre en un Arbol

LEXINGTON (Kentucky), Julio 24.—L. T. Brumagen, joven hombre-ardilla de ésta, se vio obligado a abandonar su puesto entre las ramas de un árbol, porque una mofeta le disputó la posesión de éste. Brumgen, que quería batir un record, llevaba cincuenta y seis horas de estar encaramado en el árbol, cuando se presentó la condenada mofeta y le gustó mucho el árbol de Brumgen. Los ayudantes de éste acudieron en su auxilio y dieron muerte al pestilente animalillo. Así y todo, Brumgen y su gente decidieron abandonar el árbol.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

VIII.

Antes de que tuviera Rosa doce años, murió su madre. Muy solos se quedaron los cuatro niños y su padre en el minúsculo cuarto de arriba de la tienda. (Before Rosa was twelve years old, her mother died. The four children and their father were left very lonely in the tiny room above the shop). Dos primas viejas y bondadosas se llevaron a los tres más chicos a vivir con ellas; pero nadie deseaba a Rosa, porque era una niña tan extraña, muy semejante a un muchacho con enaguas, que solía caer sobre los muebles, derribar los platos, y quebrar y desordenar cuanto había a su alrededor (Two kind old cousins took the three younger children to live with them; but no one wanted Rosa, for she was a queer child, very much like a boy in petticoats, who used to fall over the furniture and knock over the dishes, and break and disarrange everything around her). Mandóla su padre a vivir con una modista, que trató de enseñar a Rosa a permanecer quieta en una silla y echar largas y fastidiosas costuras (Her father sent her to live with a dressmaker, who tried to teach Rosa to sit quietly in a chair and sew long stupid seams).

FITTS WINNER IN STRAW VOTE

Independent State-wide Poll Conducted

He Receives 2295 Out of 4100 Ballots

Ralph Second and Young Poor Third

The results of an independent, state-wide straw vote strongly favor Frank Fitts, Los Angeles Republican candidate for Governor, it was announced yesterday. The poll was taken in twelve representative counties of California, seven in the north and five in the south.

Out of a total of 4100 straw votes, Fitts received 2295, a majority of 1087 over both Young and Rolph. Rolph placed second with 1208 votes, and Young a poor third with 597. The plurality given Fitts over Rolph was 1087.

RESULT SUBMITTED

Result of the poll was submitted yesterday to the Fitts headquarters in a sealed form, subscribed and sworn to by Ralph Holme, representative of a national advertising agency doing business in California.

In his affidavit, Holme says: "At the request of a business concern in this city (Los Angeles) a State-wide poll was made in the present gubernatorial campaign. In the county of Los Angeles 3000 people were polled through the method of dividing the county into thirty districts and an assignment of a girl to each district. She was instructed to poll citizens driving into oil stations in the districts. The concern I represent is not supporting the candidacy of any particular person for governor, and this poll was made only at the request of a business concern hereinbefore mentioned. In each of the counties out of Los Angeles 20 citizens were polled."

Of the 3000 ballots cast in Los Angeles county, Fitts received 1890, Ralph 834 and Young 267. As this county is expected to be the pivotal county in the forthcoming primary, Fitts supporters now feel confident that his home county will give him a majority of 100,000 votes on election day.

FITTS SWEEPS SOUTH

Fitts was out in front in Orange, San Diego, Riverside, Ventura and Los Angeles, the five southern counties included in the poll. He also led in Santa Clara, placed second in Alameda, third in San Francisco and Marin, third in Yolo, Sacramento, Yuba and Monterey counties by small margins. In only two of the twelve counties polled did Gov. Young assume first place. These were Yolo and Yuba counties.

The count by counties follows:

	Candidates—
	Young	Rolph	Fitts
Los Angeles	267	834	1890

COUNCIL TO HEAR PLAN ON SCHOOLS

Proposed Change in Way of Electing Board to be Discussed at Session

A hearing before the City Council on the morning of August 4 will be devoted on the proposition of changing the number and method of electing the Board of Education.

The Legislative Committee, which had a hearing on the matter last week, proposed that the Council should hear the arguments, inasmuch as proponents of the measure desire to be placed upon the November ballot as a charter amendment.

It is proposed to elect fifteen members instead of seven, as at present, and to have each one from a district corresponding to the Council districts. While making no recommendation, the committee recommends that the lines of the present seven school district are not changed, and that any vote on the matter will leave many thousands in the school district without a voice in the matter.

WORK ON AIR TONIGHT

John R. Quinn, incumbent and candidate for election to the office of County supervisor for the Fourth district, will speak over radio KFI tonight from 8:30 to 8:45 o'clock. Mr. Quinn will discuss the magnitude of county business.

"Our preacher talked about this bein' the age of leisure worship, an' Ma says church worship is gettin' so terribly leisure that she must have given up religion."

Idol of Japanese Pupils Returns

Showing Her Gift to School

Mrs. Mildred O. Waliser, principal of East San Pedro school, and statue of Japan's Abraham Lincoln, brought back from gift visit to Nippon.

JAPAN FOUND HOSPITABLE

San Pedro Principal Returns from Gift Tour With Story of Warm Welcome Throughout Nation

The Japanese harbor no resentment toward America or American legislation and desire fervently to be really understood by Americans.

That is the report brought back from Japan by Mrs. Mildred Obar Waliser, who was given a seventy-five-day trip as the guest of the Japanese Parent-Teachers' Association of East San Pedro where, as principal of the grade schools thirteen years, she has been much beloved.

Mrs. Waliser saw the island empire in blossom time and toured into wildernesses of beauty never before trod by a white person. Wherever she went she reported a friendliness overwhelming. Perhaps her happiest time was in the luxuriant state of Wakayama, she said, where most of the Japanese near her school came from, and where she found almost 200 former pupils now grown and attaining success in life.

PRESENTED TO PRINCE

In one place school children had built a 500-foot walk so she wouldn't dirty her shoes climbing the mountain on her visit to their school. In another place the entire town appeared in the rain at 5 a.m. to meet her incoming train.

She was one of 400 invited to the royal garden party, and was presented to Prince Chichibu, heir apparent, and his brother, Prince Takamatsu. She was showered with gifts of books, art, bronze pieces, character dolls, and given crested pictures of the late Emperor and Empress, which are never given except for some extraordinary service. The Minister of Foreign Affairs presented her a letter giving her carte blanche throughout the empire. Although her visit was entirely as a private American citizen, officialdom, the press and the public responded as though it were a matter of State.

STATUE GIVEN SCHOOL

Japan she found spending 50 per cent of all revenues on schools, "and in junior high schools all are studying English; they herald it as the coming universal language."

Among the twenty some boxes of gifts and purchases which, unwrapped, filled her East San Pedro school auditorium, is a small bronze statue of Kinjiro Ninomya, her gift to her pupils. It is the inspirational statue of the boy with the hoe who attained the heights through denial and difficulties, and is revered in Japan as Abraham Lincoln is in this country.

Throughout the summer, although it is vacation time, Mrs. Waliser will be found at the school, greeting the Japanese children and counseling with their parents. It is home, she says, to her, and she loves it, and they, her.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the improvement of Cherokee avenue between Franklin avenue and Hollywood Boulevard and for the sewering of Reeves street at Pico Boulevard.

COUNCILMEN IN TILT ON SIDEWALKS

Burns and Randall Have Heated Exchange Over Fund for Improvement

Councilmen Burns and Randall engaged in another passage-at-arms yesterday over an argument on Pershing Square sidewalks. The Public Works Committee, of which Randall is chairman, recommended several weeks ago that the Fifth and Sixth street sidewalks be widened. Yesterday the Finance Committee, of which Burns is a member, recommended that the matter of appropriating the money be filed.

Randall protested, and accused the Finance Committee of trying to run the whole city government. Burns came back, several others joined in, and President Sanborn banged away with his gavel.

The Finance Committee recommendation then was defeated, 10 to 4, and the committee directed to bring in a report providing the money.

After it was all over, up spake Councilman McAllister, desiring to know what he had voted on. He said he wanted to change his vote.

"Too late, Mr. McAllister," said the Council's legal adviser, Deputy City Attorney Neal, and that was that.

Weather Will Stay Moderate

Another day with a maximum temperature below 80 deg. was recorded here yesterday and according to the outlook from the United States Weather Bureau today and tomorrow will be duplicates.

"Moderate temperatures with fog along the coast and variable winds" is the forecast.

The maximum of 77 deg. was reached at 2:30 o'clock yesterday. The minimum of 50 deg. was reached during the early morning hours.

At noon yesterday 54 per cent humidity was registered and at 5 p.m. 61 per cent was shown. At 5 a.m. 88 per cent was recorded.

GUIDE TO LONG LIFE REVEALED

Ninety - eight - Year - Old Long Beach Woman Says "Eat Well, Don't Worry"

LONG BEACH, July 24. (Exclusive)—Recovering from a fractured hip and walking about again as freely as if she had never been injured does not seem at all remarkable to Mrs. Lucetta L. Payne, who celebrated her ninety - eighth birthday anniversary today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Annie Payne Ader of 803 Junipero street.

MRS. LUCETTA L. PAYNE

Neither does the fact that she confidently expects to pass her 100th milestone in perfect health seem cause for comment to her.

"Why not?" she asks, "I feel well, eat everything and never worry." In proof of which, her daughter chimed in with the observation that "at the Indiana picnic last year we found mother bribing some of the young folks to bring her more coffee and she had had three cups before we took charge."

Born in Attica, Ind., Mrs. Payne was a school teacher at the age of 17. When she was 20, she eloped on a canal boat up the Wabash River with a young furniture dealer from Virginia, whom her parents did not fancy as her husband. She was forgiven, however, and settled with her husband in Wabash, where in addition to bringing up her five children, she found time to crusade for the W.C.T.U. and to be an active member of the Women's Home Missionary Society and the Daughters of the American Revolution. She is believed to be the oldest living member of the two latter organizations.

In addition to Mrs. Ader, Mrs. Payne's children are B. Otto Payne, a rancher of Cochise, Ariz.; Frank C. Payne of New York, who is a former theatrical publicity man and newspaper publisher and now edits the Quill; De Witt Payne, broker, and Dr. A. J. Payne, both of this city.

Mrs. Payne is a cousin of Vice-President Curtis and received birthday greeting from him. Her noted kinsman always remembers her at Christmas with a token of some kind.

PLEASURE HOP ENDS IN DEATH

Passenger Killed and Pilot Mortally Injured in Plane Crash

Within five minutes of the time they set out on a pleasure air jaunt, Tate Burke, pilot, and Harry Hastings, passenger, were lying mortally hurt in the wreckage of their plane near Fillmore Airport last evening.

Hastings died in California Lutheran Hospital, Los Angeles, and little hope was held for Burke's recovery at Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital in Glendale, where he was taken.

Burke and Hastings took off from Fillmore Airport at 5:30 p.m. Neither man was in condition to tell what happened before being removed to the hospitals but from an eyewitness, C. W. Armstrong, it appeared the motor stalled when the plane had reached an altitude of 300 feet.

The machine at once went into a dive out of which Burke could not straighten it.

Armstrong with the assistance of others who ran up placed both men in his automobile and took Burke to the hospital at Glendale and Hastings to the California Lutheran Hospital in Los Angeles. The latter never regained consciousness. He and Burke lived at Fillmore.

KEATON FOUND WORTH $15,000

Public Defender Vercoe Gives Up Case

D'Orr and Partner Expected to Take Defense

Prosecution Reports New Threats Witnesses

The revelation that Frank D. Keaton, slayer of Motley Flint, did not lose all of his money in stocks, but in reality is the owner of unincumbered property valued in excess of $15,000, yesterday led Public Defender Vercoe to announce that his office will withdraw from further efforts to defend Keaton.

"My office is for the defense of persons who do not have money enough to hire a lawyer," said Vercoe. "I found, upon investigation, that Keaton is the owner of two bungalows and an acre of ground in Lennox, in addition to a duplex house in Los Angeles, and have informed Mrs. Miriam Keaton, wife of the accused man, that she will have to retain counsel for her husband's defense."

D'ORR MAY TAKE CASE

In line with Vercoe's statement, it was also learned last night that in all probability Attorney Paul Barksdale D'Orr, who defended Rev. R. P. Shuler in three criminal libel cases, and D'Orr's legal associate, Attorney Thomas A. Reynolds, will undertake Keaton's defense.

"While negotiations have not yet been definitely completed, it appears at this time that Mr. D'Orr and myself will take the case," said Reynolds late yesterday. He added that he expected the arrangements to be completed today.

Vercoe's announcement that Keaton was moderately wealthy came as considerable of a surprise, as Keaton has been quoted as saying that he lost all of his money in the stock market, and the circumstance was regarded as one of the things that led him to shoot Flint, who, the slayer declared, was responsible for him losing considerable money in bank stocks. It was later revealed from bank records, however, that not only did Keaton not lose money in bank stock but actually made a profit on it. In addition, it was shown that he had no direct business dealings with Flint at any time.

The change in counsel, it was thought possible yesterday, will probably result in a continuance of at least a week in Keaton's trial, tentatively set for August 1 before Superior Judge Schauer.

THREATS VOUCHED FOR

While Keaton's defense was taking shape, Dep. Dist.-Attys. Burgess and Russell, in charge of the prosecution, yesterday announced that they had taken a statement from another man who declared that he had heard Keaton make a threat against the life of Flint two weeks before the murder. A few days ago they reported finding a witness who recalled Keaton making a similar threat two months ago. These witnesses, the prosecutors stated, will be used to refute Keaton's assertions that he had not premeditated Flint's murder, but was suddenly seized "with a pain in the head" just before he shot the former banker in Superior Judge Collier's courtroom.

Burgess yesterday had a conference with Dr. Thomas J. Orbison, alienist employed by the District Attorney's office to make a test of Keaton's mental condition, but no announcement of Dr. Orbison's findings was forthcoming. Three other psychiatrists, appointed by the court, also have the slayer under observation at the County Hospital.

Child Granted Injury Damages

Mornazell Leech, 9 years of age, was awarded a judgment of $5000 for the injury to her leg suffered when hit by M. E. Bennett's automobile, by a jury in Superior Judge Sproul's court yesterday.

Witnesses testified the little girl was crossing the street when struck. She suffered a broken leg and collar bone.

MEDALS REVEAL STORY OF SUSPECT'S HEROISM

They found out plenty yesterday about Capt. George Reid Clifford, World War ace who was arrested Tuesday after snatching a woman's purse—found, in short, that he is of the "stuff of heroes." So deeply moved were the police by what they uncovered that they announced their unwillingness to oppose any motion that the prisoner be paroled.

While the battle-scarred veteran was waiving preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Ballard and indicating he will plead guilty to the charges in a grand theft complaint, investigating officers conducted a search of his rooms at 126 North Verdugo Road. And there they resurrected from his personal effects medals, citations and miscellaneous documents supporting in full the statements made to them earlier in the day by Joseph Hersham of 1302 West Twenty-fourth street.

Hersham had come forward to report that, as sergeant-major of a squadron in the Independent Royal Air Force, he was a war-time buddy of Capt. Clifford. The accused officer, he said, was in supreme command of all squadrons of the contingent during the waning period of the conflict, and, despite his many narrow brushes with death in the skies, lived to be one of only five survivors.

Among the decorations police found in Capt. Clifford's trunk were the D.S.O., Belgian Legion of Honor, Croix de Guerre, Medaille Militaire, and Meritorious Service Medal. Moreover, it was learned, the only reason he did not achieve the cherished Victoria Cross was that he "wouldn't stay put" in the base hospital.

A service record—already yellowing with age—proclaimed, the officers reported further, that Capt. Clifford is credited officially with having shot down many enemy planes in engagements where he received serious injuries.

Capt. Clifford's surrender to uncontrollable impulses were noted first, according to Hersham, the former sergeant-major, after he had brought down his eighteenth plane. For various infractions of army regulations, due to his condition of shell-shock as diagnosed Wednesday by Dr. S. M. Marcus, local neurologist, he was court-martialed five times. He was constantly disobeying orders, Hershman says, by taking "French leave" from hospitals, flying out of formations and in other ways behaving erratically and not at all times like an exemplary flying man.

Once, while leading a combat patrol, Capt. Clifford sped away from the flight under his command and gave pursuit to a Boche plane. He flew after it far into German territory, where he forced it down, made the pilot his prisoner and returned with him to the Allied lines. He explained his departure from military tactics by saying he "didn't like the way that fellow flew." The prisoner, incidentally, proved later to be commander of the protection works at Friedrichshafen.

On another occasion, the reckless

FEDERAL NEEDS STUDY SET

Survey of Building Requirements to be Made; Civic Center Favored for Main Structure

A new survey of Federal building needs in Los Angeles is to be made this summer and by October Federal officials in charge of the proposed work will make a report disclosing what is to be provided here, it came out yesterday at a conference of a local citizens' committee with three Federal officials here from Washington.

That the main new Federal building is to be in the Civic Center, in harmony with existing structures there and one that the city can be as proud of as its City Hall, already has been stated by the Federal visitors. But there is less certainty about the site for it, it was learned, with the information, however, that no sites outside of the Civic Center were considered at yesterday's conference.

Certainly little has been determined, according to conferees, about the proposed structure's plan, size, cost or architecture. Plans for a second structure were declared to be even less distinct. It is these things that the final survey and October report are to provide when they are worked out in conjunction with the preliminary work that has been done here along that line in recent years.

Two general considerations were before the conferees yesterday. One is for a magnificent new Federal building upon an enlargment of the site of the present postoffice building. It would contain the main postoffice and all Federal offices, such as courts and the like. This idea contemplates also a more or less elaborate mail-handling building to be built in conjunction with the proposed new union passenger terminal of the transcontinental railways here—if such a terminal comes to exist, or enlargement of the present Arcade postoffice facilities at the present Central station used by two of the rail-

PIONEER RAILROAD MAN DIES

Joseph Levy Present When Huntington Drove Golden Spike at Sacramento

Joseph Levy, pioneer railroad man of California and a resident of Los Angeles for the last fifty-three years, died yesterday at the family residence, 1016½ South Ardmore avenue, following a long illness.

JOSEPH LEVY

Funeral services will be conducted at Pierce Brothers' chapel at 2 p.m. today, and will be in charge of Dr. M. Dubin, associate rabbi of Temple B'nai B'rith. Cremation will follow at the Los Angeles Crematory.

Born at New York City, Mr. Levy, who was 78 years of age, came across the plains with his parents when he was only 3 years of age. A lover of the Southland, and proud of the miraculous growth of Los Angeles, Mr. Levy often recalled the "old, quiet days" when the site on which the Nadeau Hotel now stands was a cow corral and when this city, as it is today, was only a dream in the minds of progressive pioneers.

In 1879 Mr. Levy was married by the late Rabbi Edelman to Miss Ray Marks, a native of San Francisco, and last February 9 they celebrated their golden wedding.

Mr. Levy had been with the Southern Pacific Company for more than forty years, having retired on pension thirteen years ago, leaving his position as superintendent of shops. He was present when Collis P. Huntington drove the golden spike into the rails of the Southern Pacific at Sacramento. He was a staunch Republican and had read The Times since the date of its first issue.

Besides his widow Mr. Levy leaves his daughter, Mrs. Leo Altman, and his sister, Mrs. Sarah Horanson of Sacramento.

Plans for New Lincoln Heights Jail Submitted

Superintendent of Construction Brittain and Chief Jailer Shand yesterday submitted plans for the proposed jail building at Lincoln Heights station to the Police and Fire and Finance committees of the City Council, but estimates of cost, ranging up to $481,000, were deemed too high.

Revised plans and estimates will be submitted this afternoon and it is expected that by changing some of the individual cells to dormitories the costs will be reduced about $100,000.

The Council has considered expending about $300,000.

SYNOD ELECTS DR. SPAULDING

Santa Barbara Pastor Named California Moderator

Dr. E. W. Webb of Tucson Chosen for Arizona

Nearly 1000 Delegates at Presbyterian Meeting

Dr. Clarence A. Spaulding, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Santa Barbara, was last night elected moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of California succeeding Rev. Frank Mitchell Silsley of Oakland. The election was unanimous.

Dr. E. Wrenn Webb, synodical executive of the Presbyterian Board of National Missions, of Tucson, was elected moderator of the Arizona synod, succeeding Rev. C. A. Dugger of Superior, Ariz.

The elections featured the first day's sessions of three synods, which gathered yesterday at Immanuel Presbyterian Church, Wilshire Boulevard and Berendo street, for a meeting which will continue until the 30th inst.

ATTENDANCE NEAR 1000

Close to 1000 official and unofficial delegates are present from all parts of the State and from Arizona. Gathering with the California and Arizona delegations are delegates from the United Presbyterian organization and the Woman's Synodical Society for Missions.

Dr. Spaulding has been stationed at the Santa Barbara charge for over a decade. He is known as a moderate liberal and is chairman of the California synodical pension committee and vice-chairman of the national assemblies committee on marriage and divorce. He is a graduate of Occidental College and has studied abroad. His church at Santa Barbara was destroyed by the earthquake but through his efforts the structure was rebuilt.

The feature of this morning's session of the California synod will be the address of Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, pastor of the New York avenue church of Washington, who is the presiding officer of the convention. Tonight Gov. Young will give an address on "What the State of California Is Doing on Character-Building Work." There will be a musical program by the Wilshire choristers and John Heustis, boy soprano, will sing.

RECEPTION GIVEN

A reception to the new moderators and Dr. Sizoo was held last night following the business sessions.

The sermon of Dr. Silsey, retiring California synod moderator, touched on Christian leadership and the Christian message.

"A great element in real Christian leadership is the magnifying of duty, simple obvious obligations, but the proclamation of truth and duty is, after all, not the heart of the real Christian message," Dr. Silsey said. "It is the exaltation of Jesus Christ as personal Lord and Saviour. Christ was never partisan, for while the message of Christianity is fundamental it is not technically fundamentalism and while it is modern it is not modernism. It is personal, tremendously personal.

CORRUPT POLITICIANS

"The very foundations of civilization are threatened if men continue to worship machines and markets, radios and airplanes, trains and steamships rather than God. We must apply Christian truth to civic and state relations. The storm center of our civilization today is the corrupt city administrations. There is hardly a city that is not affected. Christians should see to it that their standards of civic virtue are maintained within their own towns."

James B. Wootan, Chicago journalist, will speak several times during the conference to laymen gatherings. He will deal with current problems as well as topics affecting the church.

GANGSTERS DISCUSSED

"Chicago is not as bad as it is painted," he said at the first informal discussion yesterday. "It is far down the list in murders per capita. Most of the murders are gangster bootleg killings. The gangster front is exceptionally quiet now since the recent embargo against their activities. How long it will last I do not know. The answer to the whole question is the separation of the criminal outside from the criminal in office. They have been working in collusion."

The Woman's Missionary Society convention will open this morning, the sessions being held in the banquet hall of the church. Mrs. J. G.

NEW GAINS SEEN FOR PORT

Three Developments Auguring More Business Listed in Foreign Trade Club Talks

Three new developments expected to increase enormously the flow of business through the port of Los Angeles, and which are now subjects of deep interest in shipping and foreign trade circles, are:

First, conversion of various imported raw materials into more finished products.

Second, exportation of foodstuffs frozen under conditions that practically restore their original freshness when thawed.

Third, expansion of refrigeration facilities in ships and at terminal points in the Orient.

The extensive new fields thus opened to Southland products were described before the Foreign Trade Club of Southern California yesterday at the City Club.

Plans were disclosed for a raw material conversion plant with extensive warehouse facilities at the harbor at a cost of about $250,000, it was asserted. This enterprise is stated to bring into the Los Angeles industrial field an eastern manufacturing organization of extensive financial resources.

Trade authorities hail this as a significant materialization of their belief that this locality affords exceptionally good opportunities for manufacturing from imported raw materials now sent east to be manufactured into products that are shipped back here for sale.

Russell E. Forsell, recently returned from a three months' trade study in Europe, outlined important possibilities for shipping large quantities of frozen fruits and vegetables to Germany and the Scandinavian countries. The utilization of an especially low freezing temperature, it was explained, has been a chief factor in the feasibility of exporting frozen foodstuffs. The small ice crystals formed thereby are assertedly better as a freshness preservative than are the larger ice crystals formed at a higher temperature.

AS YET no coal has been sent to Newcastle, but we are sending cheese to Italy. Carnera, the prize fighter, is going back home.

And he is going with a fortune donated by the sap American public. He never has fought anybody over here that could have won a longshoremen's fight in an alley. It is amazing that so many dubs and hamstrung, decrepit old cripples could have been collected.

Incidentally, it is a reversal of the best traditions of the nursery tales. When we were little we demanded that Jack kill the giant. We wouldn't have thought it much of a story if the giant had killed Jack.

WAR-WHOOP SPEECHES

As affirmed by the Attorney-General of California, Indians have the right to vote; only the politicians are praying with palpitating hearts that the Indians never find out about it.

If they do, Arizona is likely to have a Senator some day in a Navajo blanket and a silver squash-blossom necklace. With the Hopis, the Apaches, the Navajos, the Yaquis, the Pimas and various other Arizona tribes, the Indian vote will be no joke to handle.

PHONEY COPS

I don't know whether this is to be considered as a statement or a confession on the part of the Police Commission, but it appears that in Los Angeles there are 800 "honorary" policemen's badges. It appears from the version of the politicians that they have given out all these phoney badges "because of aviation." I'll bet that means something, but I just can't figure out what it means. Anyhow, aviation or not, the practice of giving out police badges to those who are not policemen is vicious and dangerous.

BABES AND PUBLICITY

My idea of nothing to get excited about is a tree-sitting contest between little boys. The only thing either important or interesting about it is the cross-section that it offers of the times and morals of the day.

When I was a little boy we seemed content to play our own games in our backyards. Now little boys seem only to be interested in games that will get them on the front page of newspapers. It is an awful thought to contemplate that they may all grow up and have private radio hours.

MINIATURE GOLF

Somebody is due to be trimmed—plenty—with these miniature golf courses. It is a game that has come to stay; it will always be played; but not at this furious rate. When school opens in the fall and the football season opens there will be some sad hearts in some deserted golfette links. The funny part of these crazes is the suddenness with which they start and stop. Mah jongg, for instance.

THE NORMAL DOLLAR

One valuable sign of the times that does not seem like such a fragrant blessing just at the moment is that the dollar is returning to its normal purchasing value. Some day this had to happen; it was boosted during the war by deliberate manipulation; that is to say, its purchasing power was lowered intentionally. The readjustment is rather tough going.

MOTHER HELD IN FIRE DEATH

Crippled Daughter in Bed as Flames Take Life

Septuagenarian Unable to Give Coherent Story

Authorities Place Her Under Observation as Result

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, July 24.—A few hours after her crippled daughter had been found burned to death, Mrs. Jennie Davidson, 72 years of age, was taken in custody by the police here today for observation as to her sanity.

The daughter, Miss Bertie May Davidson, 40, a school-teacher, had long been an invalid.

Police tonight are investigating three theories; that some one had poured kerosene over her as she lay in the bedroom of the home at 905 Rose avenue she occupied with her mother; that she had ignited the bedclothes herself; that the tragedy was an accident.

MOTHER INCOHERENT

Decision by the police to hold Mrs. Davidson for observation grew out of her seeming inability to talk coherently, or seriously, about her daughter's death. Invariably when questioned concerning some detail of the burning, she would burst into laughter, police declared.

Tomorrow morning an autopsy will be performed to determine whether or not the daughter was stunned by a blow before the bedclothes were ignited.

Finding of a can of kerosene and some matches in a room adjoining that in which the invalid was burned to death stimulated the police investigation.

STORY TOLD POLICE

The story told by Mrs. Davidson before being ordered in custody for observation was that she had left her home this morning to go to a public market, and on returning found the house afire. She tried the door of her daughter's bedroom and found it locked. She screamed, and told neighbors she thought someone had "bombed" the house, though there was no evidence of this.

Mrs. Davidson added that her daughter long had been ailing mentally as well as physically.

Dr. C. R. Bishop, police surgeon, and the Long Beach detective bureau decided tonight the burning required additional investigation. The police surgeon attempted several times to get a coherent story from Mrs. Davidson but declares he failed and thereupon decided that she should be sent to the psychopathic ward at General Hospital, Los Angeles.

TWO DYING AFTER AUTO COLLISION

Man and Wife Expected to Succumb to Injuries; Two Others Hurt

Four persons were seriously injured, two of whom may die, in a head-on collision last night at Crenshaw Boulevard and Washington streets between a sedan driven by Mrs. Verne A. Martin, 512 West Ninth street, and a roadster driven by Germain Fourcade, of 5623 Fountain avenue.

All of the injured were riding in the roadster. Mrs. Margaret Fourcade, wife of the driver, and her husband are not expected to survive basal skull fractures and other injuries, according to the Georgia-street Hospital surgeons. Thomas A. Browne, 6752 Fountain avenue, and Miss Dewey Donovan, a sister of Mrs. Fourcade, were both badly bruised, but expected to recover.

The roadster was a complete wreck, according to the investigating officers, and parts of the car were strewn along the street. Mrs. Martin was held for questioning by Wilshire Station police after a sobriety test is reported to have revealed that she had been drinking.

Artist Visualizes Proposed Federal Buildings

How Structures May Look in Civic Center

Two principal proposals for a magnificent new Federal building in the Civic Center have been laid before Federal officials here from Washington to hear local wishes in the matter. One is an enlargement of the present postoffice site and erection of the new structure on the spot as shown in (1) of this drawing. The other is a much more elaborate structure at the end of the Civic Center as shown in (2) of the drawing. The drawing was made in the Regional Planning Commission offices on the officially adopted city and county street plan for the Civic Center, toward which various forces are working. The City Hall is (3) in the drawing, Hall of Justice (4,) artist's example on State building site where construction soon is to begin (5;) the other drawings are the artist's examples of various other buildings which may some day be in those places, viz. a county courts building (6.)

Plans in Picking Route to be Told by Water District Directors at San Bernardino

Steps to be taken by the Metropolitan Water District in the final selection of a route for the Colorado River aqueduct will be announced by the board of directors of the district at a Boulder Dam celebration to be held Monday evening in San Bernardino.

The district directors have accepted an invitation to attend a civic celebration of the commencement of work on Boulder Dam to be held Monday afternoon and evening by San Bernardino. Chairman W. P. Whitsett announced yesterday that the directors, accompanied by Chief Engineer Frank E. Weymouth and General Counsel W. B. Mathews, will attend in a body, making the trip to San Bernardino and return in a private car on the Pacific Electric as the guest of D. W. Pontius.

With R. C. Harbison, a member of the district board of directors representing San Bernardino, acting as chairman of the day, and Representative Swing scheduled as the principal speaker of the evening, the celebration is being directed by the San Bernardino Chamber of Commerce.

Directors who are scheduled to attend the celebration are Chairman Whitsett, John G. Bullock, W. L. Honnold, O. T. Johnson, Jr., John R. Richards, all from Los Angeles; O. E. Steward from Anaheim; Paul E. Schwab from Beverly Hills; Harvey E. Bruce from Burbank; Charles A. Hutchinson from Colton; W. Turney Fox from Glendale; Franklin Thomas from Pasadena; William O. Harris from San Bernardino; Harry L. Heffner from San Marino; S. H. Finley from Santa Ana, and George H. Hutton from Santa Monica.

WILBUR MAY BE TOLD PLANS FOR AQUEDUCT

Anticipating that Secretary of the Interior Wilbur will seek assurance of the Metropolitan Water District that its plans for the construction of the Colorado River aqueduct will move forward as expeditiously as possible now that the Federal government has started work on Boulder Dam. W. P. Whitsett, chairman of the district board, may disclose the program for bringing water to Los Angeles and neighboring cities at the luncheon meeting honoring the Cabinet official next Tuesday.

This was indicated yesterday while plans were going forward for the Southern California luncheon at which Secretary Wilbur will be honored, at the Biltmore. Both city and Chamber of Commerce officials agreed that the Federal government will in all likelihood make inquiry now as to when purchase of Boulder Dam developed power will be started.

The Colorado River aqueduct program is still understood to rest with the engineers, working on surveys under the direction of Chief Engineer Frank E. Weymouth of the Metropolitan Water District of the four routes picked by three nationally known engineers, headed by Thadeus Merriam, chief engineer of the City of New York water system.

GAS PLANT HEAD GIVES TESTIMONY

Day Questioned at Trial of City's Suit to Enjoin Utility Corporation

Addison B. Day, president of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, late yesterday was on the witness stand in Superior Judge Collier's court at trial of the city's suit to enjoin the corporation from using certain streets for distribution of power. W. B. Mathews, counsel for the Metropolitan Water District, formerly City Attorney and formerly special counsel for the Department of Water and Power, preceded him as a witness.

Day was interrogated by S. B. Robinson, special counsel, as to whether there were any negotiations on the part of the city to acquire the defendant corporation's property prior to the bringing of the present suit in 1927. Objections by Garrett McEnerney, of the corporation's counsel, blocked this line of questioning. After lengthy argument, President Day was excused.

Mathews was interrogated concerning relations between the city and the corporation and as to the city's negotiations for the acquisition of the defendant's property at a price to be fixed by the Railroad Commission. The witness said that the corporation always took the attitude that its property was not for sale.

commander, swathed in bandages, eluded his hospital nurses, commandeered a plane, shot down two enemy Fokkers in flames, then returned calmly to the hospital and submitted to further surgical treatment.

Since coming to Los Angeles from Brockton, Mass., police also learned yesterday from the Motor Vehicle Bureau, Capt. Clifford has deliberately driven an automobile on several occasions into other cars, explaining afterward that they had refused to give him the right of way. For a time, too, since coming here, it is understood, he flew an air-mail route to San Francisco, although he declines comment on this phase of his record.

Questioned after his arrest, Capt. Clifford told police he had come here two years ago from Brockton. Dispatches from there yesterday stated he is not known at the Brockton airport, but that he entered the employ of Daniel W. Field, millionaire philanthropist, as a chauffeur shortly after the Armistice, leaving this position voluntarily two years ago.

Aside from his war record, little is known of Capt. Clifford's background. He admits, however, having been born in Scotland, and Hersham says he enlisted in the Independent Royal Air Force as a buck private and rose to its leadership.

Traffic Victim's Skull Fractured

Attempting to negotiate the heavy traffic at Broadway and Eighth street, Mrs. Amelia Muller, 62 years of age, of 420 South Savannah street, was struck yesterday by an automobile driven by Stanley V. Whitworth of 1034 Compton avenue. Her skull was fractured. She was removed to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital in a precarious condition. Whitworth was not held.

ways if there is not to be a union passenger terminal.

FOR SINGLE STRUCTURE

The other conference consideration is for an elaborate and immense single structure north of the present Federal property and somewhat across the end of the projected Civic Center. In this would be contained all Federal offices, postoffice and replacement of the Arcade station facilities in anticipation of the union passenger terminal eventually to be located in that immediate vicinity.

While the visiting Federal officials were very careful to have it understood that nothing definite has been decided even in their minds or that anything like permanent opinions have been formed, yet it appeared to some of the conferees that they favor the first proposal rather than the second. In any event, they declared, plans are to be made to cover twenty-five years in the future and the survey to be undertaken is to have that in mind.

The cost ratio of the first proposal to the second, as to site, was said to be about that of 9 to 20.

GROUP AT PARLEY

Henry O'Melveny was chairman of the citizens' committee which was made up of James E. Martin, investments; Joseph F. Sartori, president of the Security-First National Bank; C. J. S. Williamson, director of the Chamber of Commerce city and county planning department; E. I. Flemming, attorney; Charles H. Diggs, director of the Regional Planning Commission; Carl Bush, secretary of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce.

The three Federal officials are Ferry K. Heath, assistant Secretary of the Treasury; Arch Coleman, First Assistant Postmaster-General, and John W. Philp, Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General.

The men were in conferences about two hours. After they adjourned the Federal officials went to Beverly Hills for a luncheon with Will Rogers. They spent the afternoon looking into Hollywood's postal service and last evening were guests at a dinner in Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce.

Judge Lewis Works was master of ceremonies and introduced a number of well-known Beverly Hills residents, who in turn made brief speeches favoring a new postoffice building for Beverly Hills. Among them were Richard L. Hargreaves, president of the First National Bank of Beverly Hills, George R. Barker, Lon J. Haddock, J. Lewis Ross and others.

WILL ASK FOR FUNDS

Today the officials are to be guests of the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon. Tomorrow Heath will leave and the other two will remain until Sunday. Coleman came Tuesday and the other two Wednesday.

The three have stated that they are trying to be ready to go to Congress in December and ask for an allocation of money for whatever it is decided to build in Los Angeles.

HAM WITH APRICOTS ON WYMAN PROGRAM

The program which Chef Wyman has arranged for the Los Angeles Times' free cooking school today offers some interesting novelties for women who are planning to entertain, since she will prepare baked ham with apricot stuffing, rolled sandwiches and a frozen Zanite grape salad. Those who are interested in baking will enjoy her demonstration of an orange cream cake with filling, and a custard pie. The class begins promptly at 2 p.m. in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, and The Times invites everyone interested to attend.

Registration Total Forecast

More than 800,000 voters, it is expected, will have registered in the county by tomorrow midnight, the zero hour, according to announcement yesterday by W. M. Kerr, Registrar of Voters.

The total registration up to yesterday for the city was 458,318; for the county outside the city, 339,913; grand total, 778,231.

DECREE WON BY WIFE OF ESHLEMAN

Absence of Husband on Christmas Eve and Other Indignities Charged

On a Christmas eve her husband failed to arrive home to trim the tree, Mrs. Agnes L. Eshleman testified yesterday in obtaining a divorce from George B. Eshleman. This absence humiliated her before friends gathered in her home, she told Superior Judge Morton, who granted her a decree. The Christmas Eve incident, she asserted, was on the night of December 24, 1925.

Mental anguish was hers, she complained, because her friends, neighbors and relatives knew her husband would not take her to theaters or other entertainment. He was extremely jealous, added the wife, and forbade her to associate with relatives or friends of long standing. On three or four occasions Eshleman left her, the wife continued.

Mrs. Eshleman was awarded custody of her son, Robert, 6 years of age. The Eshlemans were married April 3, 1916, and separated April 16, last. Attorney A. S. Michael Narlian represented the wife.

Judge Morton granted the divorce a day after Mrs. Eshleman's lawyer withdrew a complaint containing more sensational charges, and substituted the mental cruelty complaint. In a separate action Eshleman had sued James Mullins for $350,000 heart balm, asserting he stole the love of Mrs. Eshleman. This suit was dismissed recently.

The contested divorce case of Mullins was continued until October, with possibility of a property settlement out of court and a default decree admitted. Mullins accuses Alexander B. Conlin, vaudeville magician known as Alexander the Great, with being in company with Mrs. Mullins.

HUSBAND UNFAITHFUL, WIFE CHARGES IN SUIT

Francis James Martin, film director, went out with women when he told his wife he was working, Mrs. Beverly Martin asserts in a divorce complaint on file yesterday. Mrs. Martin declares also her husband used rough language toward her. She asks a share of $10,000 community property and alimony of $250 a month pending the trial.

After Ollie Knowles, 20 years of age, of 3641 Trinity street, "picked up" James A. Walsh, 130 East Manchester avenue, in a barbecue stand at Manchester and Main streets on the 14th inst., she walked with him about a block and then signalled two youths, who took $8.50 from him at the point of a gun, Walsh testified yesterday in Municipal Judge Ballard's court.

Following his testimony and that of Detective Lieutenant Neeley, who recognized the girl later and arrested her, Mrs. Knowles, Paul Cranford, 19, of 8606 Hickory street and Raymond Britt, 24, of 8610 Hickory street, were held for Superior Court trial on robbery chages by Judge Ballard. At the request of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman, bail was set at $2500 each pending trial.

COUNTY JAIL TO HAVE UNIQUE SIGNAL SYSTEM

Installation of an emergency alarm and signal system throughout all departments of the County Jail as a precautionary measure against fire, earthquake, riots and uprisings was outlined yesterday by Sheriff Traeger.

Need of the system, which is to cost about $10,000 and will be the first of its kind to be built in any jail in the United States, has been apparent for several months and is hastened by the recent outbreaks and riots among prisoners in penitentiaries in other States.

Plans for the service, which is to be made up of lights, buzzers and an interdepartment telephone communication system, have already been approved by the Board of Supervisors, and actual work will start within ten days, according to Chief Jailer Peoples.

In explaining the system, Peoples outlines "flicker" lights on all four floors, which will be operated from a main switchboard in the jailer's office. These lights are to be operated in a series of red, green and white. They are to be so built along the hall ways, cells and walls that jailers, inspectors and turnkeys will never be out of sight of at least one of the signalling lights.

With each cluster of lights there will be a signaling buzzer which is to be used by the guard or jailer to flash the main office, where he will be connected by the telephone system. From this main board, which will be under supervision at all times, lights may be flashed as signals to all sections of the jail. A code of signals is arranged by which all guards and jailers may be summoned to a single row of cells in less than two minutes.

Peoples explained that the system would make it possible in case of fire or other disaster to empty all cells and have the prisoners on their way down the ten floors to the street in less than three minutes.

In connection with the signal system in case of fire, it is planned now to give the prisoners fire drills. Pointing out that the County Jail here is the largest institution of its kind in the world, and that the daily average population of 1500, with approximately 175 women on the thirteenth floor, Peoples says that the new system will work to their protection as well as prevent outbreaks.

Chinese Concern Given Citation on Fireworks

As an echo of the celebration of the Fourth of July, the firm of Wing Wo & Co., 917 Commercial street, was cited by the Fire Commission yesterday to appear before it next Thursday and show cause why a permit as a wholesaler and jobber of firecrackers and other explosives should not be revoked.

According to Battalion Chief Pierret of the fire-prevention bureau, the concern sold and delivered to Lew Ye Ton, 421 South Los Angeles street, firecrackers in violation of the fire ordinances which provide that such crackers may not be sold and delivered in the city limits except by common carrier.

Ton, according to Pierret, was convicted of selling the firecrackers in the city and sentenced to a fine of $25 or ten days in jail, in Judge Miller's court on the 10th inst.

WHO are the Angelus Independent Druggists?

LOS ANGELES citizens are known throughout the country for their open mindedness.

◆ That's why so many new ideas are "given a chance" here. And nourished to success.

◆ A group of Los Angeles druggists, identified as the Angelus Independent Druggists, are putting into practice a new idea in drug store merchandising. It affects every family head and others who make drug store purchases.

◆ It isn't exactly a new idea. In fact, it is simply an improvement of methods that have always prevailed to a certain extent in most independent drug stores.

◆ Angelus Independent Druggists believe that public protection necessitates applying the professional attitude of the trained pharmacist throughout the drug store and all its methods.

◆ With the countless number of items coming on the market, MANY OF THEM MADE PURELY TO SELL AT A PRICE, it is time that there be some scientific selection of merchandise to aid laymen in their purchases.

◆ No layman would step behind a prescription counter to fill his own prescription. The professional help of the trained pharmacist is needed for such a task. The Angelus Druggists know for a fact that "professional guidance" is just as vital in many other drug store purchases.

◆ The Angelus Druggist features scientifically selected merchandise as the first step in his improved public service. You will hear of other improvements in later announcements. And you will discover them for yourself in countless ways when you trade at an Angelus drug store.

◆ Perhaps you know your neighborhood Angelus druggist. You may already look on him as a friend, and reliable counselor. Perhaps he has helped you in sickness or distress, far beyond his capacity as a storekeeper. Such help, cheerfully given, is part of the professional attitude of the independent neighborhood druggist.

CHIEF WYMAN'S ANSWERS

CANDIED ORANGE PEEL

A. E. M. L., Roscoe Cal.: The chief necessity in making candied peel is that the syrup should penetrate thoroughly the fruit or rind, otherwise the product is tough. The usual process is to soak the peel overnight in clear, cold water to remove the bitter taste, then the water is poured off, then is boiled several times in clear, cold water. Pierce the rind to see that it is tender before putting it into the syrup, otherwise it will not absorb the syrup. When the fruit is put into the syrup it should be cooked over a slow fire, simmer until the peel or rind is transparent, allow to stand in the syrup for twenty-four hours, then remove the rind, reheat the syrup, return the fruit to it and allow it to stand another twenty-four hours. Repeat this process daily for about a week. Use the peel from six oranges, cut it in thin strips and boil, changing the water six times or until there is no bitter taste left in the water. Drain thoroughly, then put in a kettle with the sugar only, using the portion of one cupful of sugar to the peel from six oranges. Set it on a low simmer burner and stir it occasionally until the sugar is dissolved and the peel finally becomes candied and dry.

CANDIED GRAPEFRUIT PEEL

Cut the grapefruit into halves, remove the pulp, then place the grapefruit in cold water, two quarts of water to which two tablespoonfuls of salt have been added, let stand overnight, next da drain, and cook in clear water. When it begins to boil drain off the water and repeat this process five times. Place the fruit in a large enameled pan or crock, and prepare a syrup using the proportions of one cupful of white syrup, one and a half cupfuls of sugar, one-half cupful of sugar to every two cupfuls of water. Mix and bring to a boil and pour it over the fruit. Prepare twice as much syrup as you have fruit, so the fruit will be completely covered. If the fruit floats in the syrup, cover with a plate, so as to keep it down. Allow to stand for twenty-four hours, at the end of this period pour off the syrup and measure. To every five cupfuls of the liquid add three-fourths of a cupful more of sugar. Bring to a boil and pour over the fruit. Again let this stand for twenty-four hours, do this seven times, leaving a twenty-four-hour interval between each heating of the syrup. Until you have a syrup that is heavy like honey let remain in the syrup fourteen days, then remove the fruit from it and place on racks to dry, which will take from eight to ten days. When the candied grapefruit is no longer sticky and ceases to drip it is ready to pack.

BLACK BOTTOM PIE

C. R. D., Montebello, Cal.: Mix three-quarters of a cupful of sugar with three tablespoonfuls of sifted flour, and two squares of grated, unsweetened chocolate. Stir slowly into this mixture, one and a third cupfuls of scalded milk, and when it is well mixed add the beaten yolks of three eggs, and one whole egg. Flavor with one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, place in a double boiler, and stir over a slow fire until the mixture is thick and smooth. Pour into a baked pie shell, cover with sweetened whipped cream, cover tightly with a thick meringue, run into the oven and brown quickly.

COLORED ICE BOX COOKIES

R. K., Los Angeles: One cupful of butter, two egg whites, three and a half cupfuls of flour, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of sugar, four tablespoonfuls of milk, two teaspoonfuls of baking soda. Cream the butter, and gradually cream the sugar into it, adding the sugar a little at a time, then add the unbeaten egg whites, adding them one at a time, and beating well after each egg is added, then add the flour, which has been sifted with the baking powder and salt, adding it alternately with the milk. When the mixture is smooth, divide in half and color each half a different color. If you color one green, flavor it with a half-teaspoonful of almond extract, color the other half pink, and flavor it with a half-teaspoonful of lemon extract, chill the dough in the ice box for about an hour, and when chilled, roll out the green in a thin sheet, roll out the pink in the same sized sheet. Place the pink on top of the green, and roll up tightly like a jelly roll. If you wish you can make two rolls, reversing the colors. Place in waxed paper, return to the ice box, and chill for twenty-four hours, when ready to bake slice in very thin slices with a sharp knife, turning the roll over so that it will not become flat. Bake in a moderate oven, as they do not want to become brown.

Note: The other recipes you asked for am sending you in your stamped envelope. This one we have no more copies of and you will find the Strawberry Chiffon Pie was printed in the Practical Recipes column of The Times of the 18th inst.

TRAVEL MAY DECREASE, BUT NOT ITS PROBLEMS

Midyear reports of the Travelers' Aid Society of Los Angeles, with headquarters at 213 South Broadway, show that even though there has been a noticeable decrease in general travel throughout the country for the first six months of the year, there has been no let-up in the problems that beset the society, according to Miss Dorothy Wysor, general secretary.

In other words, regardless of stock market crashes, so-called quiet times and what-not, the problem class of traveler continues merrily on his or her way so that the Travelers' Aid irons out as many wrinkles, ranging all the way from retrieving a set of false teeth left at a railroad lunch counter when a train pulled out unexpectedly, to introducing a 65-year-old bride-to-be from Scotland to her childhood sweetheart whom she had not seen for forty-five years, as it has done in the past.

Figures for the first half of the year indicate that a total of 5811 persons were taken care of by the society. Of this number 1867 were children under 16 years of age, and some of them as young as 3 or 4 years, and 512 of the charges of the society were 60 years or more.

Contrary to the general belief that the Travelers' Aid Society has to do only with travel service, Miss Wysor says that its activities include social service work of almost every character requiring investigations and adjustments which account for the listing in the report of almost 3000 letters, 500 telegrams and approximately 1800 visits for the past six months.

Just as examples of some of the things the society has been called upon to do within the past few months, it reunited a brother and sister who had not seen each other for fifty years, it succeeded after three days in obtaining the address of a relative here in the city of a woman who arrived here from Albany and remembered that she had left the address on her mantel at home, it has witnessed marriages and it even strives to carry out such instructions as recently came from Germany, when a daughter asked that a taxi be obtained for her mother when she arrived to visit relatives, "to please tell the driver to drive not so fast; but carefully."

Tax League and Steckel Indorse Clyde Plummer

Clyde Plummer, candidate for Sheriff, announces the indorsement of the Citizens' and Taxpayers' Protective League, Inc., West Jefferson branch, and of Chief of Police Steckel. The former recommendation was announced by Mrs. Emma Budelier following a meeting of the league at which Capt. Plummer was the principal speaker, and Chief Steckel wrote as follows:

"I have known Mr. Plummer for twenty years. Over that period of time, I have never known him to take a drink of liquor or violate any of our laws. Neither have I ever known him, as an officer, to fail to do his duty in enforcing the law.

"During the last eight years of the time he was connected with the police department, Mr. Plummer served in the capacity of an executive as captain and deputy Chief. These positions he filled at all times to the entire satisfaction of his superior officers. His record on the police department is absolutely clean."

Last Sunday night the leading Protestant churches of San Pedro united in a farewell to the departing workers.

Last year the San Pedro headquarters provided 1678 men with meals, and 1567 homeless with night's lodgings. Three thousand one hundred thirty-two quarts of milk were distributed by them to undernourished children. Three hundred and fifty-six needy families also were fed.

Elevator Man Dies of Injuries

A. Cotterell, 55 years of age, who was caught between the elevator and the wall in the Grayco Building last Tuesday and held prisoner until firemen freed him by using axes and acetylene gas torches, died yesterday in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. He lived at 338 West Ninety-fourth street.

Cotterell had been employed in the Grayco Building as relief elevator operator. The explanation of the accident was that he jumped into the elevator while it was ascending and that his legs failed to clear the floor of the cage in time to escape the wall.

BOOSTING GOTHAM

New York has evidently awakened to the fact that other cities are threatening her supremacy and has decided to advertise. She has gotten out a booklet entitled, "The Most Interesting Vacation City in the Country." This would seem to be stealing the Angel City's thunder. The eastern metropolis is even watching other cities with jealous eye in the matter of conventions and is trying to lure conclaves by high-pressure methods. What was it that imitation was once said to be?

BABES OF GREECE

The babes of ancient Greece had their rattle boxes and toy horses the same as the tots of today. Recent excavations at Corinth bring to light a little ball with a handle and a few pellets within the sphere. There was also a very good-looking horse built of clay. It is known that the things unearthed were there more than 2000 years ago, so that the Greek kids of that day did not fare much differently from those of the present time. Demosthenes had his drum and whistle for all we know.

THE FIRST HORSE

They have just dug up a fossil horse in Idaho. All the fossils are not in Washington. This new find is thought by scientists to date back to the Miocene period, which is some thousands of years ago. The horse is a creature of evolution and is supposed to have risen from the dinky little eohippus of the eocene era. The eohippus was a midget animal standing about as high as a fox terrier. He had four and a half toes on his front feet and three behind. As a beast of burden he was about as impressive as a rabbit, but he was nevertheless the great great grandfather of Gallant Fox. The Idaho bones belong to a specimen of the horse preceding the present family. They are interesting in tracing the chain. The horse seems to have ranged North America from the very earliest day, although the steeds of the Spaniards were a surprise to the Aztecs.

SOFT PEDAL APPLIED

From Dwight W. Davis's first annual report as Governor-General of the Philippines it would appear that the Filipino agitators for the independence of the islands have begun to apply the soft pedal. Incident to the waning of the influence of the Quezon group as leaders of the independence movement and the failure of those who have been trying to keep up the fund for the sending of spokesmen to Washington to "further the cause," word has been passed about among the more intelligent leaders of Manila society that there is more to be gained by works than by words. They now feel that to be granted independence means that they must prove that they are capable of self-government and must make a showing of cultural and industrial improvement and also play the right sort of politics.

Mr. Davis says that when he arrived in Manila there was a great deal of independence talk, but it was based on generalities. Since then there has been, as he says, "a most encouraging and healthy trend toward the concrete." The Governor-General adds that "the people seem to realize the possible effects of independence. . . . They are discussing more and more the effects of possible severance of free-trade relations with America, problems of national defense and possible sources of revenue."

It is plain from this statement that the more sober residents of the islands are beginning to fear that unless they were able to take care of themselves, which is doubtful at the present, they would be left high and dry were they to cut themselves off from American protection and their highly advantageous trade facilities.

On quitting his office as Governor-General in 1904, William Howard Taft said that it would take at least twenty-five years for the Philippines to gain a position where they might safely be given their independence. The twenty-five years have passed, and unless the Filipinos buckle down to practicalities it will take twenty-five more for them to earn the privilege of self-government.

FEDERAL BUILDING PLANS

Estimates for a new Federal building to house the Los Angeles postoffice, Federal courts and other Federal offices probably will be ready for the opening of Congress in December, is the welcome news made public here by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Heath, Assistant Postmaster-General Coleman and Assistant Postmaster-General Philp. The building will be planned to take care of fifteen to twenty-five years of growth, in addition to present requirements, and it will be an addition to the Civic Center—in which it undoubtedly will be located—worthy of the other buildings which grace that area and will do so.

That more definite decision as to site and arrangement could be made were the site and general outlines of the Union Railroad Station at the Plaza known, and the union-station question definitely settled, is obvious. The fact that the new Federal building will necessarily be influenced by the Plaza station decision is an additional reason, though one is not needed, for pressing that decision to finality at the earliest possible moment. The carriers have appealed to the Supreme Court, which meets in October, from the decision of the California Supreme Court that the station must be built. But the court has a clean calendar and, if not delayed by the litigants, may be able to reach a conclusion in a few weeks. There can hardly be a good reason for any delay, since no case has ever been more exhaustively studied and the issues should be clear in the minds of counsel, if they ever will be.

It should not be necessary to remind the railroads, in this connection, that the government, through its mail contracts and otherwise, is the largest and most profitable single customer they have. The evident convenience of locating the railroad terminal and the postoffice next door to each other, or approximately so, ought to be a large factor, and since it is the plain desire of the government to locate at the Civic Center it would be a great advantage for the carriers also to be located there so that mails can be transferred at a minimum of time and expense. It is understandable that railroad counsel want the law clarified as to the power of State and interstate commissions over union stations, but the Plaza location is so logical that the situation practically compels the carriers to erect a station there some time, whether or not the courts require it now.

Traffic congestion along Alameda street, caused by the passage of trains as well as strucks and cars, is growing more serious daily, and steps to correct it will be an absolute necessity of the near future. The Alameda-street barrier is a menace to the development of a large portion of the city, costing millions through traffic delays, and the delay to trains must be both annoying and expensive to the Southern Pacific. All this, plus the grave peril of many grade crossings, would be obviated by a union station in the Plaza area.

Present quarters for the Los Angeles Federal offices have long been outgrown, and it has been necessary to scatter various departments about the city to the great inconvenience of the public and the holding up of public business. To reassemble these departments, and to provide fitting quarters for them as well as for the postoffice in the metropolis of the West, is both the duty and the intention of the Federal government, and it should be carried through at the earliest possible moment. The problem is a large one and needs much careful thought, so that too much haste would be a mistake, but the most rapid progress consistent with care is called for.

As for the Civic Center, construction of the new State building is to begin within sixty days. The site for the structure is now nearly clear and a few weeks should finish that part of the job. With this fine building on one side and the new Federal Building on the other, the Civic Center, already provided with a magnificent City Hall and a fine Hall of Justice, will begin to take final form, or at least will start to shape so that the idea of the planners may be better visualized. It would be worth as much to the railroads as to Los Angeles to detrain passengers before such an architectural vista instead of a factory, clothes-line and tin-can neighborhood as at present.

PART-TIME EMPLOYMENT

There is a good deal to be said for the plan of the Civil Service Commission for part-time employment of certain city employees where this is necessary to avoid the discharge of some of them for lack of funds. While some retrenchment seems to be required by the city's money stringency, which in turn seems to have been due to budget bungling on the part of the city administration, it is better for the burden to be distributed as widely as possible. At the same time, part-time employment should never be other than a temporary expedient and full time for as many as possible should be resumed as soon as possible.

For the good of the service, of course, any lay-offs that are necessary ought to be selective and the better workers and more competent ought to be retained. But a selective weeding out is almost impossible on short notice, and a general lay-off is automatically selective to the detriment of the service—as a rule, the better will get other jobs and only the poorer will return to the city's employ when the lay-off period is over. Individual cases will not necessarily conform to this rule, there are many highly competent men and women who prefer public service to private employment, as the Civil Service Commission points out. The part-time plan will hold them for the city better than any other.

There ought to be no lay-offs, however, in either the police or fire departments. The protective services need to be kept up to full strength. There is not and never will be any government function more important than the safeguarding of life and property.

STATIC

Peace is not a static thing, says President Hoover. He just wanted the country to feel in advance that the squawk and squall coming from the Senate would be from the politicians and not from the peace pact itself.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

"SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA at a Glance," a veritable encyclopedia of Southern California in one handy volume, has just been published. It is the most complete and easily informative volume of the kind we ever saw, a book so arranged that a couple motoring through Southern California could hold it on their laps as they drove and always know where they were, how far from this or that town or point of interest and all the romance and history of the very scenes through which they were speeding. Down the left-hand side of every page is a map so dividing the areas pictured—and pictured is the word, for those maps follow the pictorial map style made famous by Charles H. Owens—into ten-mile squares, that you not only can see where the highway you are following will take you, but what crops, what kind of country, what attractions of any notable kind may be found by this or that detour. And there is a great deal of data about every town and community—authenticated data much more accurate than can be found in most guide books—for the benefit of persons seeking locations.

And back of this unique volume there is a story.

World-Wide Interest in Southern California

Something over a year ago a little group of men decided that Southern California now is the most interesting area in the world to all the world—that in Europe, South America, Mexico, Canada, the Orient and the South Seas, men and women wanted to visit Southern California and to know facts about Southern California. One of these men had been a banker and during the war had had general charge of the second, third and fourth Liberty Loan allotments for the Army, with headquarters in Washington. Another had been Secretary of Finance in Bolivia. Another had been an officer of a big Chicago manufacturing concern. The others were a sales manager, an attorney, a writer, an engineer and an artist. They decided that a really authoritative book on Southern California would have a sale all over the world and organized a publishing company for the purpose of bringing it out. They have been hard at work ever since. They have spent money in a way most guide-book publishers would consider staggering.

But they think the book they have built will not only be wanted by tourists and vacation trippers here and people in other States who plan to come here, but by many thousands of people in other countries. A Spanish translation of "Southern California at a Glance" is to be distributed through Spanish-speaking America and they believe it will more than ever make Los Angeles a Mecca for travelers from South and Central America.

"Southern California at a Glance" is published by the States Publishing Company, 437 South Hill street.

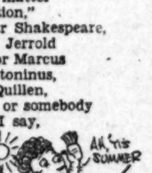
TENNYSON MABIE.

Young America—

Friend Leeway: On Gower street, near Hollywood Boulevard, I came on another sign of the times. It had been an ordinary back yard until 12-year-old Jack Hinkley got bitten by the humpty-dumpty golf bug. Jack was an honor pupil in the Grant school, with a reputation for enterprise. The first vacation job he tackled was cleaning off the back yard, about thirty by forty feet in area. The wrecks of last year's toys and all the accumulated junk were sold to the junk man—and the proceeds were the capital for the new venture. Bricks from old buildings and fragments of torn-up concrete walks were built into fairways. And the neighborhood youngsters can play there for a nickel a round. "Clubs is my biggest problem," says Jack. "I can buy 'em at the five-and-tin store, but the kids in this locality are such hard hitters that five-and-tin store stuff doesn't last 'em long. Guess I'll have to make my own clubs from discarded Ford axles."—A. M.



Chance For Bigger and Better Business

Now that the great dairies of California are getting into the export game, we respectfully call their attention to the market for cottage cheese in Turkey. Those Turks must have a passion for it—they're always knocking the whey out of the Kurds.

AVIATION'S GUIDING GENIUS

No name, not even that of Wilbur Wright, is so closely connected with the creation and development of modern aviation as the name of Glenn Hammond Curtiss, the guiding genius of the airplane since its first successful flight in 1903. The Wright brothers were the fathers of the heavier-than-air machine, but Hammondsport has well been named the "Cradle of Aviation," for its famous son, Glenn Curtiss, nursed and educated the new invention and helped to turn a scientific toy into a world-wide necessity.

His unexpected death, while he had apparently many more useful years to devote to his chosen calling, will be lamented by all connected either with the mechanical or business side of air transportation, for Glenn Curtiss was a leader in the financial organization no less than in the scientific development of airplanes and airways.

Not only was he among the first to demonstrate the practical possibilities of the heavier-than-air machine, but he was also among the first to interest American capital in its promotion and to inspire public confidence in its successful operation. No man perhaps has deserved better as a champion of the latest addition to man's agencies for swift transportation than Glenn Curtiss, inasmuch as he took a leading part in so many different activities connected with its progress.

Los Angeles will remember him as the pioneer who twenty years ago made the first successful flight at the demonstration staged at the old Dominguez Field when an airplane was regarded as a Jules Verne vision; hardly to be viewed in a serious light. Fleets of giant airplanes linking the many airports of Southern California with nearly every State in the Union are a tribute today to the faith, energy, courage and ability of the man who made that initial flight from a rough, ungraded field in the outskirts of what was then a small provincial town.

Glenn Curtiss has made his last and long flight—or it may be his shortest and easiest—who shall say?—death is not a difficult take-off for the brave soul.

THE BIG TIME

The National Academy of Sciences will hold its next assemblage in California. The sessions will begin at the University of California at Berkeley and two days later will be moved to Stanford. The last two days will find the scientists gathered at Pasadena to meet with Dr. Millikan and his associates at the California Institute of Technology and view the telescopic wonders on Mt. Wilson. The sessions will begin on September 23 and scientists all over the world will be interested in the deliberations and in the papers that will be presented.

TIT FOR TAT

Mussolini is getting back at our tariff makers. The Italians have been making a retaliatory tariff of their own. For instance, the rate on automobile parts is $92 per 100 pounds. This is enough to dismantle the Italian plants of Henry Ford and General Motors. They furnished work for a lot of men, but the Italians say they prefer to build up their own motor industry, which is already quite impressive. All Europe appears to be in a sort of retaliatory mood. How do they get that way?

WORTH TRYING, ANYWAY

By James J. Montague

I know that the person who gathers vast wealth
By toiling as hard as he can,
May speedily part with the blessings of health
And die a decrepit old man.
Far better be poor and be rugged and strong,
As our journey through lifetime we wend
Than vie with a greedy and ravening throng
For money we never spend.
Worth more than the prize is the cost of success,
But I envy the prosperous, nevertheless.

I know it is wiser to eat meager fare
Than to dine at an epicure's table;
Cheap clothing is fully as healthful to wear
As the costliest cashmere or sable.
The blessings of money are much overpraised,
Great fortunes can seldom endure,
The rich, I am sure would be vastly amazed
At the fun that is had by the poor.
But if I controlled my terrestrial lot
I'd have a great house and a big white steam yacht.

I have seen many haggard and feeble old lads
Who labored great fortunes to gain,
And gathered the glittering dollars in scads
Broken down by the struggle and strain.
But though I am more or less husky myself
I would take a long chance, here and now,
To hustle like they did to gather in pelf
If I just had the wit to know how.
And, if I broke down in the arduous quest
I'd go over to Europe and take a long rest.

LETTERS TO The Times

Can't See Rolph

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] For some time now Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco has been making his bid for gubernatorial honors and as his claim to the support of California's citizenry is thus well known, it may not be amiss to point out, from the standpoint of a resident in his home city, some valid grounds why such support should be refused.

Mayor Rolph heartily deserves the repudiation of every loyal Republican. Professing to belong to that great party he deliberately, although under cover, opposed the election of Hoover, California's first Presidential candidate, he placed the leadership of his San Francisco political machine in the charge of a well-known Democratic boss and as the returns show, San Francisco, of all California's large cities, gave an adverse vote to Hoover.

No war veteran should be expected to vote for Rolph. San Francisco is the only city in the Bay region without a memorial to war veterans and we all know that for this delay "Sunny Jim" is largely responsible.

As a vociferous proponent of municipal utilities Rolph has afforded strong concrete evidence against such a policy. The municipal street-car system for a number of years has proven a financial failure and the great municipal auditorium has developed into another white elephant for the city. The reason? Too much petty politics.

Mayor Rolph has shown himself an easy friend of petty grafters. When our city treasurer was denounced by a leading business man of San Francisco Mayor Rolph countered by denouncing that patriotic citizen as a "mischief maker!" But the investigation proved the charge. Is this the sort of man we would care to have in charge of our State government?

Noble Four Hundred

BALDWIN PARK, July 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] An item in the Sunday issue of The Times, on a civic question, reminded me that only a few months ago Riverside moved strongly against the sale of alcoholic tonics and several other times I have noticed their attitude was on the square.

And now 400 of their noble womanhood have moved against the "cigarette-smoking teacher" in the public schools. I have wondered many times why the men could not be counted in that. And I wonder how many hands I would see up. I ask men to indicate their desires in this way, who would want to be caught walking on the street, riding in a car, sitting in an office, trading or shopping with a clerk in a store, or the numerous other associations that might be mentioned "with a cigarette in her mouth"? If I happened to be in my audience and held responsible for an answer to this question I would be glad to answer, "Not guilty." Then I would back these 400 good women and fight the cigarette-smoking teacher till there would be no place for her. I have a boy 13 years old and when I know that his teacher smokes cigarettes I will make a move to get her out of the schools. I have never favored a double standard of morals to be divided between men and women, either. Am quite willing to accept the same fate.

Objection Sustained

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In an editorial of this date entitled "Negro Democrats" you refer to Negroes as "darkies." I am surprised at this lapse on your part because you have always shown my race the utmost courtesy and are the only newspaper in the city to use the capital "N" in the word "Negro."

Don't you know that the use of the word "darky" is a decided affront to your colored readers? We object to the use of the word because it smacks of a condescending paternalism. It indicates to us that you regard us as inferior children.

A Denouncer of Evil

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] If all the ministers had the backbone of R. P. Shuler and if they would all stand back of him now for a clean-up of Los Angeles, it would not be long before we would at least have an even chance for clean government.

Of course many cry that a minister should stick to preaching the Bible. Yes, and the Bible forcibly denounces evil in all its phases and if it's not a minister's place to denounce evil no matter who the transgressor is, well what good is religion?

If those in office were not afraid of being shown up they would pay no attention to Mr. Shuler and he would have very little effect on the minds of the people.

LO, THE POOR INDIAN

BY DR. GEORGE P. CLEMENTS

A year of new administration of Indian affairs under Commissioner Charles J. Rhoads and Assistant Commissioner J. Henry Scattergood has come to an end under thickening clouds. Secretary Wilbur, who undertook to reorganize the Indian Bureau and to cut down its czarlike powers over Indians, has been frustrated at every point, according to the American Indian Defense Association. Mary Ross, a war-relief associate and an intimate friend of Commissioner Rhoads, writing in the Survey, reports that not a single basic reform has been set in motion.

Secretary Wilbur practically confirms these judgments. Writing to Dr. Haven Emerson of Columbia University, president of the Indian Defense Association, the Secretary urges that the new commissioners be given additional time and points out that Congress has voted increased funds for the Indian Bureau to spend, but tacitly admits that his own program of reorganization has been thus far held up.

The causes of failure are all too plain. Commissioner Rhoads himself confessed to them before the Senate Indian Affairs Committee in May. New exposures of outrages against Indian children by bureau employees had been established under oath. Children at the Phoenix (Ariz.) boarding school had been ferociously beaten with straps, knocked down and kicked and even clubbed into unconsciousness by the so-called disciplinarians. One bureau inspector, Carl Moore, reported fully and corroborated a large number of the charges. His findings were ignored by Commissioner Rhoads and he was superseded by another inspector, H. E. Fiske, a close friend of the school superintendent, who, with his disciplinarians, was under indictment. Fiske made a social visit to the institution, accompanied by his wife, and after ten weeks sent in a report which ignored the charges, but recommended the prompt discharge from the service of those employees who had given evidence in support of the charges. Commissioner Rhoads, who had taken no action on the Moore report, took immediate and sweeping action on the Fiske report. He dismissed the charges against the bureau defendants and summarily turned out of the Indian service four employees who had given evidence of cruel beatings, bad and insufficient food, forced child labor and other evils. He transferred another witness and expelled one of the elder students who had given evidence. When called before the Senate committee, Rhoads admitted that the Fiske investigation had been "very unsatisfactory, to say the least," but stood pat on his actions which had carried the Fiske recommendations into effect.

The Survey and the Indian Defense Association have made public a long series of similar actions by the commissioner and assistant commissioner. One of the largest Indian reservations, and one of the most valuable, is the Klamath (Or.) reservation. Inspector Trowbridge of the Indian Bureau has condemned the reservation management in a series of reports. The Senate Indian Affairs Committee has issued a special report condemning it. The Committee of Advisers on Indian Irrigation Projects, appointed by former Secretary of the Interior Hubert Work, condemned it. And Secretary Wilbur, after a personal inspection of the reservation, expressed an unmeasured condemnation. The Indian Bureau practically levies a tax of $120 a year on every Klamath Indian, man, woman and child, using the proceeds to pay the bureau's salaries and other costs, but furnishing substantially no service to the Indians in return. Even schooling is not furnished these Indians by the bureau.

It is clear that Commissioners Rhoads and Scattergood began their terms of office by surrendering to the inside clique of bureaucrats who, with their predecessors of the same ilk, have dominated every Indian commissioner for fifty years. This inside clique of job-holders operates in close understanding with members of Congress in both houses who regard Indian affairs as a pork barrel for white constituencies. The new commissioners were placed in office by President Hoover to reorganize the Indian Bureau and to bring this ancient scandal to an end. Secretary Wilbur laid down his program of reorganization with sufficient detail and gave it the widest publicity. And the first year's record shows Commissioners Rhoads and Scattergood appended as a respectable label to the old rotten and poisonous consignment of bureau brutalization, parasitism and pork-barrel and job-holding graft that has come down the years through a "century of dishonor."

The embarrassment to President Hoover and Secretary Wilbur is of necessity a grave one. They cannot do less than go forward with the task which they started, of cleaning up the Indian Bureau and reorganizing it and transferring some of its 5000 job-holders to work in productive unofficial life. If Commissioners Rhoads and Scattergood have to be quietly retired, along with Inspector Fiske and Supt. Arnold of the Klamath reservation and those pensioners at the Washington headquarters who apparently give orders to Rhoads and Scattergood, this operation will have to be viewed as part of the day's work by the President and the Secretary of the Interior. Postponement of reform through another year will prove to be intolerable.

Said to be the highest automobile road in the world, the highway to the summit of Mt. Evans in Colorado is to be opened to the public this summer, after ten years of construction work.

THE PRIZE RING

The heavyweights seem worth bound to kill the gang that their friend, in which great fighters used to pound each other for two hours on end. In bygone times the man who put ten dollars for a ringside seat was sure a fair game would be played, his satisfaction complete. Whoever won, whoever lost, he viewed it all with seemly mirth; his seat was cheap, whate'er the cost, he surely got his money's worth. The gladiators toiled and bled through gory rounds, to gain the prize; in those old days an evening's fray was quite a feast for sportive eyes. But now each fight ends in a fout, before the pugs are fairly warm; the ringside buyers rise and howl, and righteously kick up a storm. Why are the modern heavyweights so anxious to depart the game, the game that brings them coin in crates, and lands them in the hall of fame? Perhaps at last they realize fighting is a brutal trade, that knocking spots from other guys can only sully and degrade. Perhaps they feel our native land will be much better for the race when pugilism has been canned and crokinole shall take its place. They may believe when rings are gone, and all the trappings done away, the people will gather on the lawn to watch a contest in croquet. What if they sacrifice the rolls that now reward the fighting men? If they can purify their souls they're following the right plan. And so, quite naïve, they proceed to kill the game that makes them rich; they're going it with frenzied speed; its head will soon be in the ditch.

The legislative action of the State of New York in offering protection to the song writer and composer by prohibiting the sale of copyrighted musical compositions without the consent of the owner is likely to be followed by similar action in other States. The pirating of music has grown to such an extent that it has been estimated that the loss of authors and publishers alone amounted to $15,000,000 annually. The legislation was almost unanimously approved by the song writers and publishers here and in Chicago, and had been published in German language papers here and in Chicago. efense Assigns Ruling Misconduct and Error

Reopening the prosecution's case Superior Judge Schauer's court A. G. McCartney, deputy District forgery prosecuting Jacob Berman embezzlement. Berman, in connection with the Julian Petroleum Corporation collapse, yesterday conducted additional testimony designed to prove that more than 400 shares of stock had been issued at the time Berman is alleged to have forged the certificates of which he is on trial.

John J. Hill, deputy public defender representing Berman, opposed McCartney's motion to reopen the case and when the court permitted the new evidence to be introduced assigned his ruling as misconduct and error.

The purpose of reopening the case is to establish definitely that an overissue existed at the time Berman is asserted to have directed the forgery of the certificates now in evidence.

The principal witness was A. [illegible], a vice-president of the defunct Pacific Oil Company, successor to the Julian Petroleum Company. He was followed by James [illegible], auditor, and Gus Blas[illegible], deputy sheriff and at one time chief of the seized Julian book[illegible]. C. Kotteman, Julian firm attorney, also was called. All of the witnesses testified concerning the stock situation, indicating that it was overissued. They also asserted that the stock had not been altered without their possession.

Defense and prosecution arguments will be resumed today.

Just $100,800 less value was placed on a scar yesterday by a jury in Superior Judge Hahn's court in deciding damages in Helen H. Rengstorff's suit against the Yellow Cab Company. Miss Rengstorff asked $102,800 damages, and the jury yesterday awarded her a verdict for $2000.

Miss Rengstorff complained that her cheek was scarred in a collision between a car she occupied and a cab owned by the defendant. This scar, she contended, impaired her chances of marriage or of obtaining employment. She is a cousin of County Counsel Mattoon.

Robinson Store Purchases Site for Warehouse

Purchase of a large parcel of property just outside the bounds of the downtown shopping area yesterday by the Robinson Fireproof Building Company was revealed through a formal announcement later as the preliminary step to the erection on the lots of a great warehouse and service depot by the J. W. Robinson Company. The company which bought the land is an auxiliary of the drygoods concern, and the location of the property is within 1900 feet of the Robinson store at Seventh street and Grand avenue.

The property has a frontage of 630 feet on Francisco street, sixty-seven on Corydon Drive and ninety-three feet on Eighth Place. The transaction was for cash and was handled through the office of S. I. Wailes Company, but the price was not disclosed.

Definite building plans have not yet been drawn up, it was said, but the statement was made that the cash purchase is part of a comprehensive plan for the development and expansion of the Robinson company's business.

Fitts to Speak Before W.C.T.U.

The Los Angeles City Federation of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold a mass meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Trinity Methodist Church, corner Twelfth and Flower streets, with Buron Fitts, Republican candidate for Governor, as their speaker. Much interest is centered in the meeting because of the action taken by the various units of the W.C.T.U. throughout the State relative to indorsement of a gubernatorial candidate.

According to Mrs. Hattie M. Doughty, president of the Los Angeles County Federation, the twenty-six units of the city of Los Angeles, representing more than 5000 women, have indorsed Fitts's candidacy. The action of the Los Angeles City Federation followed closely the resolution of eighty-six units of Los Angeles county, designating Fitts as their choice. Mrs. Doughty further states: "Our recommendation of Mr. Fitts means that the women of the W.C.T.U. will not only get out and vote for him, but will use our utmost influence to bring about his election."

LAWYER'S RITES WILL BE CONDUCTED TODAY

Funeral rites for J. Gordon Mills, Inglewood attorney, who was killed in a traffic accident near Wilmington Wednesday, will be conducted today at 2 p.m. from the Ruppe Mortuary, 950 West Washington street. Burial will be in Inglewood Park Cemetery. Mills resided at 4700 Angeles Vista Boulevard. He was 34 years of age. He leaves his father, Rev. Gordon William Mills, Los Angeles Presbyterian minister, his widow, Mrs. Mabel Mills, and two sons, Gordon and John Kent Mills.

DR. HOHANSHELT FIGHTS OUSTER

County Hospital Physician Before Civil Service

Attributes Dismissal to Grand Jury Testimony

Superintendent Wood Puts Blame on Disloyalty

Giving testimony before the grand jury relative to conditions at the General Hospital, and not the lack of loyalty to the management of that institution, caused the dismissal of Dr. Anna S. Hohanshelt from its medical staff by Dr. N. N. Wood, superintendent, according to her assertions yesterday afternoon before the Los Angeles County Civil Service Commission.

Following the action of Dr. Wood, Dr. Hohanshelt appealed from the dismissal. After hearing both sides, the commission took the case under advisement and will announce its decision at a later date.

After explaining many of the incidents recited in Dr. Wood's specific charges relative to her lack of co-operation, Dr. Hohanshelt was asked by Commissioner Mattison:

DIDN'T TELL SUPERIORS

"Do you feel that your dismissal was caused by your testifying before the grand jury?"

"I do," was the answer.

"When you were subpoenaed to testify before the grand jury did you tell Dr. Wood, or any of your superiors?" was the next question.

"No, I did not," answered Dr. Hohanshelt.

"Why not?" asked Commissioner Mattison.

"I was afraid to," the woman answered. "I felt that it would mean my dismissal."

The doctor asserted that instead of going to Dr. Wood when she was summoned to appear before the grand jury she went to Dr. Merle Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Pasadena, where she attends church, and asked his advice. The minister was one of her witnesses, declaring he told her to appear before the investigating body and answer the questions asked her.

DEFENDED BY HAHN

George Hahn, rancher, chairman of the committee that investigated conditions at the General Hospital, also testified for Dr. Hohanshelt. He asserted that when the jury committee visited the hospital they heard nothing but good concerning Dr. Hohanshelt, in fact she was known as the "Guardian Angel" of the hospital.

The hearing was closed late in the day with Dr. Wood presenting testimony in rebuttal. The burden of his charges was that Dr. Hohanshelt was disloyal to him as chief of the hospital. He cited numerous instances which he considered were overt acts of disloyalty to him and acts of insubordination.

Fitts and Rolph Appear Before Same Audience

For the first time in the primary campaign two candidates for Governor met on the same platform. When Buron Fitts and James Rolph, Jr., both appeared and delivered addresses last night at the Olympic Auditorium at a gathering sponsored by the All Veterans' League.

The two candidates met and shook hands, each wishing the other luck. Gov. Young, who was invited to attend, was unable to be present, but sent William Byrne to represent him. More than 3000 persons were in attendance. Mae Murray, motion-picture actress, made her first political speech, urging Southern California to unite and elect a Governor from this section of the State.

Rolph, the San Francisco candidate, made a genial talk. He declared that Gov. Young had failed vitally in handling great problems of the State.

Buron Fitts also leveled an attack at the present administration asserting that the man who pays $100 taxes on his home paid four times the amount that the Standard Oil Company did last year. He charged that this was made possible through the amended tax and corporation law which was sponsored by Gov. Young.

William Byrne defended Gov. Young and said that the incumbent had given the State a satisfactory administration.

Plank Resigns State Narcotic Division Post

Capt. J. A. Plank yesterday announced he had resigned from the State Narcotic Division after being in charge of its office in Los Angeles for two years. He gave as his reason the fact his office had been made subordinate to the police department under a plan decided on by Gov. Young and Mayor Porter.

"I believe the State Legislature created this division as a State force, not subservient to the Los Angeles police department," Capt. Plank declared in his letter of resignation to the chief division of the narcotic enforcement office in San Francisco.

Mrs. Mark Writer reported to United States Marshal Sittel yesterday that her son, Mark J. Writer, 30 years of age, has been missing since February 13, last, at which time he started for El Centro in a roadster, with license No. 87-5188. Mrs. Writer gave her address as 219 Bridewell street.

Brotherhood Official's Wife Divorces Him

Mrs. Richlie Greth Anderson

Dr. John A. Anderson, osteopathic physician, vice-president of the Church Brotherhood of Southern California and director in the Glendale Young Men's Christian Association, has been divorced by his wife, Mrs. Richlie Greth Anderson of 317 North Stoneman street, Alhambra, according to records of Superior Judge Guerin's court.

Mrs. Anderson, who has two children by a former husband, testified that her husband deserted her and refused to support her.

"The grocer sent him a bill and he returned it marked 'opened by mistake.'" said Mrs. Anderson, owner of an Alhambra theater.

Mrs. Anderson has been married three years. Dr. Anderson did not contest the suit.

LIGHT SHED ON HOWARD JURY ISSUE

Supreme Court Removes Confusion as it Grants New Murder Trial

Confusion as to the proper conduct of trial courts in substituting alternate jurors for regular jurors has been removed by the Supreme Court's decision in the case of John Lee Howard, garage man, granted a new trial by the tribunal on a charge of having murdered his employer, Victor A. Cooley.

Defense attorneys make this statement in a brief filed yesterday with the Los Angeles office of the Supreme Court in answer to a petition by the Attorney-General's and District Attorney's offices for a rehearing on the decision for the defendant.

The court found that the action of the trial court in substituting an alternate juror for a regular juror after the trial had started constituted reversible error. It was found that this is in violation of a section of the Penal Code providing that jurors can be replaced with alternates only when the regular jurors are unable to continue to act because of illness or death.

Assertion is made by the State that the substitution did not constitute a denial of a trial by jury, but was merely a matter of procedure in the formation of a jury. The court held that the substituted juror in the Howard case had no more right to sit than any other person who might have been selected under like circumstances by any method not authorized by the express provisions of the Penal Code.

A regular juror was replaced during the trial after she had told the court she knew two defense witnesses and was prejudiced against them.

SHULER AND MAYOR GET MEETING BID

Nix Also Invited to Speak at Olympic Auditorium Gathering Tonight

Invitations to attend the mass meeting and address the gathering at the Olympic Auditorium tonight were extended yesterday by the committee in charge to Mayor Porter, Rev. R. P. Shuler and City Prosecutor Nix. No word of acceptance had been announced at a late hour last night.

The meeting has been called for the purpose of discussing the activities of Shuler as they are concerned with the political and social affairs of Los Angeles, and to promote ways and means of combatting what the sponsors have termed Shulerism.

Reservations were made yesterday, according to Leo B. Lesperance, temporary secretary of the citizens' committee of 200, sponsoring the gathering, for a delegation of 500 persons from the Trinity Methodist Church, the religious organization of Shuler. Other delegations making reservations include several downtown business houses and industrial organizations.

Four speakers will address the meeting, in addition to the three to whom the invitations were extended, according to the secretary. Music will be furnished by two brass bands and ushers will be furnished by various civic groups. Special details of police will be provided.

RACE RESULTS PLEASE

Expressing keen satisfaction with the progress of the Northern California campaign of former Senator Harry A. Chamberlin for Lieutenant-Governor, Attorney Alfred Bartleft, a member of the Board of Bar Governors and one of Chamberlin's supporters, returned to Los Angeles yesterday after a tour of the San Francisco Bay district.

BEACH SURVEY ORDERS GIVEN

Playground Board Looking to Further Acquisitions

Data Sought With View of Oil Area Replacements

Use of Royalties for Buying of Property Considered

Raymond E. Hoyt, superintendent of the Playground and Recreation Department, yesterday was directed by the Playground and Recreation Commission to make an investigation and report at next Thursday's meeting as to what beach lands still are available for acquisition near Los Angeles, in order to inform the board on the areas that may be used to replace that portion of the Venice beach affected by the production of oil.

"The matter of providing adequate beach facilities for the citizens of Los Angeles is especially forceful at this time of the year," Hoyt stated in his recommendation that the survey be made. "Regardless how your honorable body or the City Council may act in the matter of the tideland leasing it is very evident that the one and one-half miles of south beach at Venice is no longer fit for recreation purposes, and it is the duty of your honorable body to investigate the possibility of acquiring additional beach area to supplant that which is apparently lost.

The department is without funds for the beach acquisition but recently, during a hearing on the applications for drilling in Venice tidelands, which still are pending, there was discussion on the possibility of using royalties to purchase more than three miles of privately owned beach north of Santa Monica Canyon, at present used by the public, but which at any time may be closed for private development.

Action by the board on the application for leasing has been held up pending a court decision on an injunction hearing.

Show Up Room at County Jail Wedding Scene

A steel-barred window served as an altar and denim-clad prisoners as spectators yesterday when the marriage of Victor Manuel Blanco, 20 years of age, to Ardith Woodling took place in the show-up room of the County Jail.

The groom, who is awaiting trial on charges of burglary and suspicion of violating the Mann Act, was attired in the conventional jail blue, but the bride was appropriately clad. The ceremony, which was extremely brief, was performed by Clifford Thompson of Burbank, justice of the peace, who is sitting temporarily in Municipal Court Division 11.

Blanco is accused of having brought Miss Woodling from Seattle to Los Angeles last June and abandoned her after she learned that she was to become a mother. It is believed the Mann Act charge will be dropped, following the marriage of the couple.

Former Wife Sues Alienist

Dr. Thomas J. Orbison, alienist, yesterday was sued for damages by his former wife, Mrs. Virginia Gile Orbison, who asserts that her former husband, who has since remarried, owes her $14,201 on a property settlement, and has permitted to lapse in violation of a separation agreement, $12,500 in life insurance.

Mrs. Orbison demands a total of $26,701 damages. She asserts that upon her separation from Dr. Orbison March 28, 1917, he agreed to pay $200 a month for the support of her and her two daughters. He paid $16,999 of this amount, it is admitted, and owes a balance. Mrs. Orbison also claims half of a $25,000 policy in which she says she had a half-interest.

TAXES MEAN SAFETY, SAYS PROFESSOR

Police, Courts, Sanitation and Such Attributes of Civil Life Depend on Levy

A visit to an imaginary land where no taxes are levied or collected was described in a lecture, "Let's Abolish Taxes," given at Bovard Hall, University of Southern California, yesterday, by Dr. Merlin H. Hunter, visiting professor from the University of Illinois.

The speaker cited the demands made by tax collectors in the United States, referring to the luxury, inheritance, travel, theater and scores of other methods used to raise moneys to carry on the government. He pointed out thatin tha imaginary land where they have no taxes they also lack police protection, courts, sanitation, public schools, good roads and the thousand or more things that make up modern civilization.

Prof. Hunter pointed out that in the United States, cities alone spend more than $4 per capita for protection, and that the deficit in the postal service which allows low rates of postage is made up from general taxation.

"We should willingly pay taxes for functions the government performs for its citizens," he said.

COLISEUM SOLUTION NEAR

Councilmen Expect to Find Answer to Fund Problem at Session, Monday

The matter of appropriating $227.00 to enlarge the Coliseum to seat 100,000 people for the Olympic Games will come before the City Council Monday morning, with prospects bright for settling the problem.

A report of the Finance Committee, contending that money for the completion of the job is not available at present, was before the Council yesterday, but Councilman Davis, whose district includes the Coliseum, proposed the delay, meanwhile calling on his colleagues to visit the Coliseum and see for themselves the hazardous condition the great bowl will be in for the fall football crowds if the funds are not provided to finish the structure.

Councilman Cooke, chairman of the committee, in answer to Councilmen Davis and Lewis, said the city is not legally or morally obligated to complete the structure.

Davis pointed out that many projects are now dormant, and that money from some of the special funds can be utilized for the city's share of the improvement. Even if action is not taken, he said, the city probably must spend $50,000 for protection of the public, or there will be the chance of loss of life.

Councilman Ingram concurred in what Davis said. Lewis said he had the understanding, when the money was voted for the first unit, that the city must appropriate funds soon to complete the structure.

The county stands ready to pay its share when the money is available from the city.

Hunters' Plane to be Refueled Over Hollywood

The four Hunter brothers, world's champion endurance flyers, flying directly over Hollywood Boulevard at noon today, will make a test of refueling possibilities in California air.

Since Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine now are circling over St. Louis in an attempt to break the Hunter brothers' record of more than 553 hours of sustained flight, the present champions want to have everything in readiness to start another endurance flight shou'd their record be shattered.

The City of Chicago and Big Ben, the two airplanes with which they established the present record, were tuned up yesterday at the Municipal Airport to have them in condition to make their first California test.

Leaving Mines Field around 11:30 o'clock, the brothers will pilot the two ships over to Hollywood. They will fly up and down the boulevard as the refueling takes place.

TUNE IN KECA Every Saturday Night 7:15 to 7:30

why MEN DREAD THE APPROACHING YEARS past 40

6 out of 10 are affected with an after 40 ailment.
Many needlessly so. What doctors urge....

AGE 40 is the turning point of health in average life, says medical science; the age when wear and tear of life begins to take its toll unless you've fortified against it.

"Protect health between the ages of 20 and 40" is sound advice that every doctor gives. One of the most prevalent ailments to guard against is kidney breakdown. Over half of men and women past 40 are affected. Many without knowledge, for there are no warning symptoms.

Kidneys excrete 75% of poisonous waste, much in too concentrated form. Through carrying this excessive burden, congestion occurs; breakdown follows, and poisons which should be eliminated are thrown back into the system—the forerunner of more serious ills.

One of the most effective preventives that doctors know is Puritas Water (mineral-free). Drink 6 glasses daily, they say.

First—it dilutes poisonous waste, dissolves and washes it away. Second—because of the absence of minerals in Puritas, it leaves no deposits to add further to congestion of kidneys.

Puritas is scientifically distilled and aerated, thus is both mineral-free and impurity-free; water in its purest state. Though its taste seems different at first, each drink you'll increasingly enjoy.

Protect your health before and after 40. Order Puritas today. 'Phone WEstmore 0381 for immediate delivery, anywhere in Southern California. A Puritas ice-less cooler furnished free.

NEW BAR TEST GAUGE ADVISED

Committee Urges Additional Schooling Requirements

Qualifications Called for at Present Held Inadequate

Report Will be Laid Before Convention in September

Additional educational qualifications should be demanded of candidates for admission to the State bar, in the opinion of a committee which was appointed at the bar's last annual convention to suggest amendments to Section 24 of the State Bar Act, which covers admission requirements. The committee's report, which will be considered at the annual convention in Pasadena on September 20, next, was made public yesterday.

At present the only requirements for a candidate desiring to take the bar examination are that he be 21 years of age, of good moral character, "and that he shall have studied law diligently and in good faith for the past three years." From the standpoint of educational preparation, therefore, the committee feels California's requirements are considerably lower than those of many other States.

CHANGES URGED

It recommends that the section be amended to require:

"(1.) Graduation from a four-year high school, or proof satisfactory to the examining committee that the applicant is possessed of the equivalent of a four-year high-school education in point of intellectual competency and achievement; and

"(2.) Graduation from a law school requiring substantially the full time of its students for three years, or graduation from a law school requiring a part only of its students' time for four years, or proof satisfactory to the examining committee that the applicant has otherwise diligently and in good faith studied law for at least four years."

JUSTIFICATION FOR STAND

In justification of its stand the committee points out that the laws of California require persons to attend school until 18 years of age, and, therefore, there is ample opportunity to obtain the prelegal training which it desires to be made a requisite for admission. It also calls attention to the fact that the suggested amendments do not definitely bar applicants who may not have graduated from high school or who may not have received their legal education in a full-time law school.

The committee is made up of Hubert T. Morrow of this city, chairman, and Fred E. Borton, Bakersfield; Ezra W. Decoto, Oakland; Russell A. Harris, Sacramento; Henry Heidelberg, San Francisco; Marion R. Kirkwood, Stanford University; Fred E. Lindley, San Diego; Robert L. McWilliams, San Francisco, and Joseph Scott, Los Angeles.

FATHER UPHELD IN WHIPPING

Court Regards Strapping for Twins Not Cruelty

D. P. McCalib, 5007 Laroda street, Eagle Rock, was not guilty of inflicting cruel and unnecessary punishment when he used a strap on his twin sons, David and Preston, 12 years of age, a jury in Municipal Judge Sheldon's court decided after more than six hours' deliberation yesterday.

McCalib, on the stand, said he punished the boys, but that he believed they had earned it by teasing his other sons, Daniel and Donald, also twins, 6, until he had to interfere.

Barnitz received the rank of captain, the others that of lieutenant of police. De Silva was named adjutant.

Following the ceremonies the city accepted delivery of a compass swinging table, gift of the Elgin Watch Company. It will be installed at the port.

FUNERAL OF MRS. PARKER TO BE TODAY

Resident of City Fifty Years Will be Buried in Rosedale Cemetery

At 2 p.m. today funeral rites for Mrs. Helen Henrietta Parker, 87 years of age, who died last Tuesday at her home, 2515 West Twenty-first street, will be conducted at Garrett Brothers' mortuary, 921 Venice Boulevard. Burial will be in Rosedale Cemetery beside the grave of her husband, Isaac F. Parker.

Mrs. Parker had lived in Los Angeles nearly fifty years. She had many friends in Los Angeles, was interested in charitable work, and belonged to the Order of the Eastern Star. Six or seven years ago she fractured her hip in a fall and had been a cripple since, passing most of her time in a wheel chair.

She was born in Connecticut, November 22, 1842. Before coming to Los Angeles she was for a time in Seattle, and was present at the dinner in that city given in commemoration of the completion of the Northern Pacific line to Seattle. Another diner was Queen Angeline, the Indian girl who was credited with having saved the inhabitants of Seattle from massacre by her father, Chief Seattle.

Bathrobe Ride Costs Actress Driver Permit

Evelyn Egan, 21-year-old film actress, didn't really stage a modern version of Lady Godiva in a roadster in Hollywood on the night of the 13th inst., Detectives Larimer and Johnson, who arrested her on a drunk-driving charge, testified yesterday in Municipal Judge Ballard's court. She wore a bathrobe and a pair of beach slippers, even though the bathrobe was flying loose in the breeze, the officers said.

EVELYN EGAN

Miss Egan's attorney, Newton Kendall, told the court that she had been swimming at the beach and, as it was a hot night, had changed from bathing suit to bathrobe for the drive home. He asked that the charge of drunk-driving be dismissed and that Miss Egan's driving license be suspended for a year.

Judge Ballard declared the evidence sufficient to hold the girl for trial on the charge, but agreed that withdrawal of the driving license would be the most effective punishment. The license was delivered to the court, which continued the case until August 5, next, to dismiss the drunk-driving complaint.

Miss Egan said the bathrobe was rapped tightly about her when she was halted by the officers near her residence at 2133 Fairfield avenue.

COUNCIL REFERS MAP

The assessment district map for the construction of sewers in the Phillips Way and Coringa Drive district was submitted to the City Council yesterday by the City Engineer and referred to the Health and Sanitation Committee.

Doctors Deny Heating Table Killed Infant

Two physicians connected with the California Lutheran Hospital, Dr. Earl N. Tarr and Dr. Lyle G. McNiele, testified for the hospital in Superior Judge Thompson's court yesterday in the $25,000 damage suit filed by John T. Keirns and Mrs. Louise Keirns for the death of their day-old infant, March 19, 1929.

Keirns and Dr. H. W. Carlin testified Wednesday that the baby was literally baked to death by being placed on a heating table to keep it alive after it was born by a Caesarian operation.

Dr. Tarr and Dr. McNiele testified, however, that the table was incapable of being heated to more than 118 deg. Fahr., and that temperature was not fatal. At a Coroner's inquest it was determined the child died of natural causes.

MILLIKAN CHILD INTERRED

Private Funeral Services Conducted at Request of Parents Who Are in Europe

SAN MARINO, July 24. (Exclusive)—Private funeral services for 1-year-old Marcia Millikan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clark Millikan, were conducted this afternoon at the residence of Dr. Robert A. Millikan, 1640 Oak Grove avenue, followed by burial in Mountain View Cemetery, according to requests in a cablegram from the baby's parents, who are in Germany attending scientific gatherings. Dr. Leslie E. Learned, rector of All Saints' Church, conducted the service.

The child died from suffocation yesterday afternoon when her neck was caught between the edge of her crib and a screen covering. When her parents left for Europe a few weeks ago, they left the baby at the home of the grandparents in charge of Mrs. Robert A. Millikan, wife of the California Institute of Technology director, and a registered nurse. A few minutes before the tragedy was discovered the nurse had looked at the baby and reported her taking her regular nap.

Dr. Clark Millikan is assistant professor of aeronautics at the California Institute. Mrs. Millikan was formerly Mrs. Helen Staats Battle. She is the daughter of Mrs. William R. Staats, who also is in Europe.

Telegrams and expressions of sympathy from all parts of the world were received by the grandparents, who are grief-stricken as the result of the accident which robbed them of their only grandchild.

SHERMAN STAYS AT R.-K.-O.

Little Robert Coogan May Create Lead in "Skippy;" Ramon Novarro Plans to Direct Spanish Version; Charles Ruggles Plays Lead in Bow Film

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

It is all settled that Lowell Sherman is not to depart from the R.-K.-O. rooftree, but is to continue his labors at that center of art and culture. Sherman was signed yesterday on a long-term contract, both to direct and act exclusively for R.-K.-O. during the next five years.

LOWELL SHERMAN

His first assignment will be the star role in and the direction of Sam Shipman's "The Losing Game."

Sherman, who is considered one of the finest actors in the country, was born in San Francisco, and went on the stage as a child. His first New York appearance was at the Belasco in "The Girl of the Golden West." He appeared afterward as juvenile and lead in Mrs. Leslie Carter's companies, and altogether maintained his supremacy on the New York stage during many seasons. His first appearance in pictures, I believe, was in D. W. Griffith's "Way Down East," in which he made a notable success.

YOUNGEST COOGAN MAY ENTER FILMS

It appears that Jackie Coogan is not the only child member of the Coogan family who is to achieve fame in the movies.

Victor Schertzinger is to direct "Skippy" for Paramount, the picture to be made in New York.

And Schertzinger wants none other than little Robert Coogan, 3 years of age, for the leading part. Whether his fond parents will allow him to play the role is not certain. It is said that the youngster inherits the acting talent of his parents.

Little Jackie Coogan began his stage career at a very early age, however, as is natural for one coming from a family of actors, and so it is quite within the range of possibilities that another member of the family may make his mark in the film world.

RAMON NOVARRO TO DIRECT FOR M.-G.-M.

The handsome Ramon Novarro is about to hide his personal light under a directorial bushel, if present plans do not miscarry.

It has long been known that Novarro desires ultimately to direct pictures. Now it is planned, down at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, that he shall direct the Spanish version of his own current starring vehicle, "The Singer of Seville."

Charles Ruggles Plays Lead

It looks as though the producers are not going to allow Charles Ruggles to depart in peace for New York and the stage, but are going to keep him here for the talkers.

CHARLES RUGGLES

The Broadway comedian has just been signed for the featured lead in Clara Bow's next starring picture, "Her Wedding Night," according to an announcement made by B. P. Schulberg.

In coming to Hollywood for his part in the Bow picture, Ruggles returns to his old home town, since he started with the old Morosco company.

Ruggles, formerly star in many notable New York successes, has already made a name for himself in "Gentlemen of the Press," "The Lady Lies," "Young Man of Manhattan," and others, all produced by Paramount.

Marie Callahan Here

The brilliant little Marie Callahan, star of "New Moon" in the New York production, is in Hollywood, where she arrived four or five days ago.

Miss Callahan is the guest of Anita Stewart, who in private life is Mrs. George Converse. She is the fiancee of George Stewart, Anita's brother, who is ill in a sanatorium, where he went two years ago following a nervous breakdown. Though his condition is said to be improving, he is not yet able to leave.

A pathetic and romantic story is bound up in the devotion of Miss Callahan and George. They have been engaged about four years. Two years ago Miss Callahan came west, and the wedding license was procured. Then George suffered a complete breakdown and was sent to the sanatorium. Miss Callahan returned to the New York stage, but remains devotion itself.

Marion Byron With Warners

Petite Marion Byron, called "Peanuts" for short, has just been signed by Warner Brothers for the ingenue lead in "Children of Dreams," it was announced yesterday.

MARION BYRON

Sigmund Romberg held the first rehearsal of the musical features yesterday, with Alan Crosland directing the dialogue and action.

Margaret Schilling, who is to play the romantic lead, has arrived from the East, and Paul Gregory will be here shortly.

Paul Porcasi Signs

Paul Porcasi has been signed by Paramount to enact the important role of the cafe proprietor, Lo Tinto, in "Morocco," a part which is reminiscent of his role in "Broadway."

The actor, noted on Broadway for many fine roles, has just completed the part of Jenny Lind's manager in M.-G.-M.'s picture, "Jenny Lind."

Officials Visit Howard Opening

Congratulations were extended yesterday by Mayor Porter, Councilman Burns and President C. C. Smithers of the Western-avenue Chamber of Commerce to the Howard Automobile Company of Los Angeles which will formally open a new building at Western avenue and Fourth street tomorrow. A luncheon, attended by 150 persons, was held by the Western-avenue civic organization in the showrooms of the new building. Harold W. Tuttle, general manager of the Howard company, responded to the welcome address. Music was furnished by Charlie Wellman, June Parker and Nell Larson of KHJ.

The new Howard Building, with an eighty-foot tower, is one of the largest automobile structures in the western section of the city.

Dickinson Riches Issue at Trial

Testimony regarding the personal fortunes of Justin W. Dickinson was before Superior Judge Smith yesterday in the contested divorce suit instituted by Mrs. Josephine Dickinson.

Mrs. Dickinson, on the stand, described it as "near a million." Expert accountants summoned by Dickinson declared it was about $137,000.

Other witnesses were called to testify regarding Mrs. Dickinson's fitness to care for her minor child, for whose custody she is asking. It is expected the case will be decided by Judge Smith today.

HUSBAND IN MARINES DIVORCED BY SPOUSE

Duty called her Marine Corps husband to China and she was willing to accompany him, but he would not take her, complained Mrs. Frances L. Robinson yesterday in obtaining a divorce from Capt. Ralph R. Robinson. Superior Judge Morton granted her a decree. Judge Morton ordered the husband to pay $150 a month for the support of their two children, Ralph, Jr., 10 years of age, and Frances, 8. Attorney S. S. Hahn represented the wife.

CITY BANS GOLF IN PARKS

Refuses Application of Veterans to Install Courses on Percentage of Receipts Basis

Reiterating its stand against efforts to establish miniature golf courses in Los Angeles parks on the ground that it does not desire to compete with the private business in such an industry, the Park Commission yesterday denied the request of the Allied Veterans' Association of Los Angeles for permission to place courses in Echo, Lafayette, Barnsdall and Point Firmin parks.

The application was accompanied by a letter from Albert E. Sherman, campaign manager for Mayor Porter, and a member of the law firm of Sherman & Sherman, who recently represented Allied Post No. 302, American Legion, in an application for permission to establish miniature golf courses in Westlake, Hollenbeck, Lincoln, Exposition, South Park and Sycamore Grove Park. The latter application, signed by J. Clark Sellers, adjutant, was turned down for the same reason as was yesterday's application.

The Associated Veterans offered to pay the Park Department 10 per cent of the gross receipts from a charge of 25 cents a game, while Allied Post offered 50 per cent of the net receipts to the department in return for the privilege of using the parks.

Sherman wrote as follows in behalf of the Associated Veterans:

"I am handing you herewith a petition to install miniature golf courses in certain parks of the city of Los Angeles and trust the same will be given consideration."

Sherman has appeared before the Playground and Recreation Commission in behalf of petitioners for permission to drill for oil in front of the Venice beach, before the Police Commission in behalf of dancehall and poolroom petitions, and before the Health Commission and Health and Sanitation Committee of the City Council in behalf of a poultry slaughter house on Beverly Boulevard.

The Park Board several weeks ago turned down the applications of the Carnie-Goodie Company of Kansas and a number of individuals seeking permission to install miniature golf courses in the public parks.

GOLF CLUB OWNERS FORM ASSOCIATION

An organization comprised of more than 200 owners of miniature golf clubs was formed at a meeting held at the Elks' Club yesterday. The owners of the midget courses, which have sprung up like magic on vacant lots throughout the Los Angeles area, asserted their organization had "become necessary to protect a new Southern California industry."

According to spokesmen at the meeting opposition from billiard hall and theater owners is being met in extending the business of popularizing the new sport. At the meeting J. G. Key was elected president of the Miniature Golf Club Association, with H. G. McCausland, vice-president; Phillip Racine, treasurer, and M. J. Hall, secretary.

"There are more than 500 miniature golf courses in and around Los Angeles," President Key asserted. "The new industry has grown with such a spurt that we are at a loss as to just what we are supposed to do about regulating it. The building of the courses has offered many idle men work and wages and the maintenance of them offers work to others."

BRAVOS FOR MOLINARI RENDITION

"Pines of Rome" Climaxes Program of Varied Interest at Hollywood Bowl

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Bravos and cheers rang forth in the Hollywood Bowl last evening betokening a genuine outburst of enthusiasm over Bernardino Molinari's conducting of "The Pines of Rome." It was one of the most spontaneous demonstrations of enthusiasm heard this season for an individual number. But then it so happens that Respighi's symphonic poem is a star piece of the Italian director's. Few others can render it as does he.

"Pines of Rome" climaxed a program of varied texture, though it was without any outright novelties. As I recall it, Vivaldi's "Winter" from the "Four Seasons" has been played before by Molinari. Yet neither this nor "A Night on Bald Mountain" (Moussorgsky) nor the "Italian" symphony by Mendelssohn has been overfamiliarized by previous presentations Molinari chooses judiciously from the better known works.

The Vivaldi composition was substituted for the "Egmont" overture, and afforded Sylvain Noack opportunity for expressive violin playing, which met marked response. The "Italian" symphony followed, and Molinari brought warmth and refinement to its interpretation. The second movement was especially lovely, and the tempi of the first and the finale were taken with spirit, and an evidently fine control of the string section of the orchestra by this competent conductor.

"The Pines of Rome," it seemed to me last evening, was most triumphing in the final movement, as it well should be. The brasses occasionally lacked in tonal quality earlier in the work, and the bird passage seemed to be unduly suppressed. There is a haunting quality that Molinari obtains in the more subdued sections of this work, however, which compensates in the enriching mood that it evokes. He imbues these episodes with a true poetry.

"A Night on Bald Mountain" was more colorfully than weirdly done, but, even so, had distinct character and pleased.

The impression achieved by Molinari is always eminently satisfying in authority and musicianship.

Unusual Study Presented in Current Film

Tense drama is the keynote of "Way of All Men," the First National production now playing at the Warner Brothers Hollywood Theater. This story deals with ten men and one woman locked into a flood-swept room. These people are from all walks of life, a preacher, an old-time actor, a confidence man, a stock broker, a cotton broker, an attorney, a saloon keeper, a bartender, a down-and-outer and a young millionaire.

Each has exactly six hours to live and all are brought to the same social level. Most of the men are enemies. In their ordinary life they fight one another. But here they are destined to die together.

Prison Story Screened at New Pantages

A compelling narrative of the effects of prison environment on men is screened on the Pantages Hollywood Theater screen this week, where "The Big House" is playing to large audiences.

Dramatic scenes include the breaking in of the prison doors by army tanks, the revolt of hundreds of convicts in the prison yards, the demonstration in the cell house and the death scene of one of the criminals.

An excellent cast includes Wallace Beery, Chester Morris, Robert Montgomery, Leila Hyams, Eddie Lambert, Karl Dane and Lewis Stone. "The Big House" will be shown for one week only.

On the stage Panchon and Marco present a double stage presentation, featuring their "Hollywood Idea" and "The Green Devil Idea." "Slim" Martin conducts the theater orchestra.

Popular Star Scores Hit in Stewart Farce

With one of the most brilliant first nights ever seen at the Belasco Theater and with capacity attendance at every performance since, the noted comedienne, Ina Claire, will Monday night start the second week of her brief engagement in Donald Ogden Stewart's stage comedy, "Rebound," with Robert Williams and others of the original cast.

It has been some time, according to the theater management, since a star and a play have acquired such instantaneous success as has Ina Claire in "Rebound." The entire capacity of the theater was sold out for the first night one week in advance of the opening date and since then the S.R.O. sign has been displayed early each evening.

Miss Claire's engagement is limited to a few weeks, with no performances Sunday, but with the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

RECKLESS YOUTH

Young William Bakewell is now getting his first taste of this so-called "Hollywood night life," which he has been reading about for some time, but which until now he has never encountered. As the featured juvenile in "The Bat Whispers," which Roland West is directing for United Artists, Bakewell starts work after dinner and retires for the day around 7 in the morning.

Irish Lass Provides Love Interest

Maureen O'Sullivan

Enacts a prominent role in "So This is London," starring film vehicle for Will Rogers, which will terminate its engagement in a fortnight at the Carthay Circle Theater.

"ON THE LEVEL" AT BOULEVARD

A vehicle whose strength does not equal the popularity which is enjoyed by Victor McLaglen comes to the Boulevard this week under the title of "On the Level."

Somewhat obscure and always uneven is this story of a simple-hearted riveter who is vamped into the uncertain position of tool for a band of crooks. It was distinctly a surprise to see how Irving Cummings handled his material. Seldom was the hand responsible for "In Old Arizona" in evidence. But then, Mr. Cummings had little or nothing in the way of story value, much less dialogue, to inspire him.

There is, however, in "On the Level," a quantity of that florid, virile humor with which McLaglen seems definitely associated and which he is peculiarly adapted to put over. The audience showed no lack of appreciation for the most part.

McLaglen has had roles which fitted his personality and ability much better than this one. He injects into it enough rough comedy though to carry it through. In particular stands one scene which he alone enlivens by his pantomimic expression. That occurs in what is suspected to be a high spot, the moment in the cafe where Fifi Dorsay discovers him in the company of Lilyan Tashman and proceeds in her French fashion to practically tear him limb from limb.

It is Miss Tashman who delivers the performance of the evening, in a role scarcely subtle enough for her prowess. In type it is the sort of part to which she gives her best, that of a hard-boiled lady with a polished exterior. Miss Tashman's flair for comedy is particularly evident in the moment when she tries her ladylike best to make away with a hot dog.

Chosen as a foil for McLaglen is William Harrigan, a brother riveter, but of a more simple disposition. Some of the hardest lines in the show fall to his lot, so it is only fair that he should win the heart of steadfast little Mary in the end.

Although episodes, taken one by one, do not miss in a degree of enjoyment and interest, an obvious disconnection between situations destroys that element of suspense and climax so necessary to the pitch of any picture.

A travesty on the West is a short comedy, "Western Knights," which features Eddie Lambert and Al St. John.

Jackie Souders and his Boulevard Band supply the musical event of the week and on their program is to be seen Mel Elwood.

MELODRAMA LIGHTENED BY COMEDY

"Runaway Bride" Shares Honors at R.-K.-O. With Carroll Revue

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

A pleasantly exciting romantic comedy, "The Runaway Bride," took possession of the R.-K.-O. Theater yesterday along with Harry Carroll and assorted talent. The result was good entertainment.

"The Runaway Bride," according to program, is an adaptation of the stage play, "Cooking Her Goose," by H. H. Van Loan and Lolita Ann Westman. This, in its stage form, as many theatergoers will recall, was premiered at the El Capitan Theater last fall.

The play has lent itself well to film production, although, as one might imagine, many changes, both in script and in characterization, have been made. In original form, more stress was laid on the comic angles than has been done in the picture. The latter verges rather strongly toward melodrama, what with not one but several scenes of gun play.

Mary Astor and David Newell, in the persons of two wealthy young people, start about the business of eloping. In process, they quarrel bitterly. Before this has been settled one way or another, both become involved in a jewel theft, precipitated by the invasion of Miss Astor's room by the thief and a policeman "shooting it out."

Mary runs away from the notoriety and unpleasantness to take a job as a domestic in the service of Lloyd Hughes, characterized as a noble young bachelor. Some plotting soul has slipped the jewels in her pocketbook. And, oh my goodness, both cops and members of the thief's gang trail her to her hide-out. There is more shooting, an exciting automobile chase and a fade-out with Miss Astor in Mr. Hughes's arms.

The leads, Miss Astor, Hughes and Newell, are played straight and effectively. A neat bit of characterization comes from Paul Hurst in the role of the butler, and from the man who plays the bulldozing detective (I think this is Edgar Norton.) Other performers include Natalie Moorhead (good as the villainess) Maurice Black ("Red" Dugan) Francis McDonald, Harry Tenbrook, Phil Brady and Theodore Lorch.

Hailed as the "1930 edition, Harry Carroll's revuette," the stage show is brimful of personality, color and song. Among the participants in the merriment are Eddie Bruce, a juvenile comic; Harry Foster Welch, musician; Maxine Lewis, a singer, and the Kanazawa boys, Japanese equilibrists.

NEW PICTURES TO BE IN TECHNICOLOR

Technicolor has scheduled two new pictures for early production, it has been announced. Tiffany has contracted to make "The Barbarian" in Technicolor throughout, with Bert Glennon directing.

Warner Brothers will produce their current stage hit, "Fifty Million Frenchmen" in Technicolor.

PREACHMENT PLEASANTLY PRESENTED

"Wild Company" Reflects Credit Upon Director and Cast of Players

BY JOHN SCOTT

When Leo McCarey started out to direct a film piece, later christened "Wild Company," he jumped from downright comedy to drama, because the director had turned out some mighty successful farces, but few, if any, serious problem pictures. His subsequent success is being flashed across the screen at Loew's State Theater this week.

In "Wild Company" there is brought out a mixture of business which is indeed rare these days. To present an out-and-out challenge, if you please, or dyed-in-the-wool preachment to parents, is rather a ticklish job, but McCarey combined his knowledge of comedy with the serious side, scattering the former about freely in the story. He makes his audience laugh, then strikes it between the eyes with a piece of drama. Directness may also be added to his virtues. The director, it would seem, has won his spurs with this first serious effort.

However, the talent in "Wild Company" is not to be passed over lightly. Heading the list is a juvenile named Frank Albertson, who plays with sincerity, appeal and that likeable quality which at once brings sympathy fairly oozing from theater patrons. His comedy, and he has a lot in the film, is boisterous yet not overbearing; his serious moments are well handled, yet not naive or again tricky. He is himself at all times, natural and competent.

Albertson portrays the happy-go-lucky youth whose parents are too indulgent. He finds himself in trouble and is saved only by a kindly judge. This magistrate, George Fawcett, in speaking presumably to the boy and his father in the courtroom, really addresses individual persons in the audience. It is nicely worked out, and justice tempered with mercy removes the sting of the spectator's conscience, if he has one.

H. B. Warner is well cast as the father, playing the part with restraint and dignity. Claire McDowell is appealing and attractive as the mother, Sharon Lynn does good work, Joyce Compton handles a small role well and Mildred Van Dorn and Richard Keene please. Kenneth Thomson as the shady gentleman is splendid.

The story by a Mr. Johnstone and Bradley King is excelled only slightly by the direction and acting. It makes a very suitable vehicle, indeed. The dialogue of Miss King may be listed as her best to date.

The surrounding program includes a Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Below Zero." It is interesting to note that the voices of the comics are heard but a very few times during the film. The pantomime is sufficient. The current Fanchon and Marco idea is called "Wild and Wooly." The highest spots are Louis Armstrong, who offers his noted brand of trumpet playing, and a male singing chorus.

'QUEEN HIGH' VIGOROUS OFFERING

Light Entertainment in New Film at Paramount Theater This Week

BY WHITNEY WILLIAMS

Billed prominently as the first of Paramount's new season hits, "Queen High" opened yesterday at the local Paramount house with little of the fanfare that is presumed by theater officials and publicity men to accompany such an occasion. Based on the Edward Peple play, "A Pair of Sixes," the picture provides suitable entertainment for summer audiences but lacks the lightness and humor that distinguished its stage appearance.

Charles Ruggles, so popular now in the talkies, costars with Frank Morgan, another Broadway comedian. The two play their respective roles with vigor, but it is obvious from the beginning that the material at hand is far more adaptable to the stage than to the screen.

"Queen High" is a product of the New York studios, with a metropolitan cast. It might be held by enthusiastic west coasters as an example of the type of picture produced in the East. Undoubtedly is it below the standards set for production in Hollywood and were it not for a speedy ending and clever portraitures on the part of the cast it could scarcely be termed intelligent comedy or an evidence of good showmanship.

Ruggles and Morgan are cast as partners in a women's garter concern. Their constant quarreling leads to a determination to dissolve the partnership. Rudy Cameron, their lawyer, tired of the bickering between the two that has always accompanied his association with the firm, makes them a sporting proposition—that a hand of poker be dealt, the winner to continue running the business and the other to act, for a period of one year, in the capacity of butler in the home of the one with the high hand. This, after Ruggles and Morgan cannot agree to any settlement in the dissolving of the partnership.

A pair of sixes, held by Morgan, triumphs over the queen in Ruggles's hand. The remainder of the action unfolds then in Morgan's household, where Ruggles shaves off his mustache, grows sideburns, and awaits his ex-partner's pleasure, with complications developing, complications of a most amusing nature.

"Queen High" has been presented in somewhat slip-shod fashion. Little originality is displayed either in direction or in plot construction and small credit goes to Schwab and Mandel as the producers. There is many a laugh, certainly, but had more care been exercised in preparation the quality of the entertainment would have been manifoldly enhanced. Time and again possibilities for laughs and amusement are ignored, with the result that the picture is a mediocre screen production.

Ginger Rogers and Stanley Smith carry the romantic interest, and Helen Carrington and Betty Garde enact the wife and sweetheart, respectively, of Morgan and Ruggles. Nina Olivette, Tom Brown and Theresa Maxwell Conover appear, too. Fred Newmeyer directed.

Tom Terriss, the director, takes one to Ankor, Indo-China, in a short subject titled "Temple of Silence." The film is one of a series known as Vagabond Travelogues, intensely interesting. A Sennett comedy, "Good-by Legs," a news reel and an organ solo complete the program.

Dual Premiere Arranged for Film in East

The premiere of "Hell's Angels" on Broadway will be staged in two theaters at one time, when Sid Grauman introduces the film to Manhattan audiences.

The Hollywood impresario, who is directing the road showing of the production over the country, has just announced that leases have been signed for the Criterion and Gaiety theaters in New York for the double opening. The simultaneous premiere will take place on or about August 15, next.

Gala features of the world premiere of "Hell's Angels" at Grauman's Chinese Theater here, hailed as one of the most spectacular openings in Hollywood, will be duplicated for the eastern theater patrons, Grauman says.

Grauman and Hughes formulated plans for the dual premiere in the belief that "Hell's Angels" will prove such a tremendous attraction in New York that one theater will not be sufficient to accommodate the crowds eager to see it, it is said.

Warner Picture Held Over for Another Week

The combination of Larry Ceballos stage revue and the Warner production, "Three Faces East" is proving to be a popular one at Warner's Downtown Theater and the management is holding these attractions over for another week starting today.

Costarring in "Three Faces East" are Constance Bennett and Erich Von Stroheim. It is a story of intrigue and romance and has in the supporting cast Anthony Bushell, William Courtenay, Crauford Kent, Charlotte Walker, William Holden and William Von Brincken.

The stage show includes more than 100 performers.

Filmarte Will Screen 'Asphalt'

"Asphalt," a melodrama from the UFA studio in Berlin, opens tonight at the Filmarte Theater for a week's showing. Joe May directed.

Gustav Froehlich portrays a youthful Berlin traffic policeman, Betty Amann is the pretty adventuress, Albert Steinrueck and Else Heller play the boy's father and mother and Hans Adalbert Von Schlettow is Betty's lover.

The story catches a group of people from the crowded city pavement and swings them into an unusual series of circumstances.

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the lovely affairs of recent date was the musicale reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Beaufort B. Stallcup, the occasion serving to announce formally the engagement of their talented daughter, Miss Violet Stallcup, to Dr. Frank Lynn Wightman. The affair took place in the studio of the bride-elect in South Westmoreland avenue. Three hundred guests were bidden. The announcement was cleverly concealed in the wings of orchid, green and silver butterflies mounted on corsages served out of doors in pottery flower pots filled with ice creams, fancy petit fours decorated with violets and lilies of the valley.

Miss Stallcup, who is a talented musician, passed the summer of 1928 studying and traveling abroad and holds the distinction of being the youngest student to receive a diploma of graduation from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. In 1925 she won the Arizona State Federation of Women's Clubs contest and the first Hollywood Bowl contest of pianists, and was given an honor appearance with the Bowl orchestra.

Dr. Wightman attended the University of Arizona and was graduated from the University of Southern California dental and pharmacy colleges. He is a member of Kappa Sigma and Xi Psi Phi fraternities.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Wightman of Phoenix, parents of the bridegroom-elect.

The wedding is to be an event of early September and will be followed by a honeymoon in Honolulu.

The program, under the direction of Clarence Krinbill of Long Beach, included numbers by Misses Helen Haworth, Catherine Nason, Margaretto Lohmann, Justine Van Cort, Eunice Hobson, Esther Beck, Dorothy Perry, Inez Harding, Mariquita Klaas, Thelma Patterson and Raymond McPeeters. Assisting hostesses included Misses Dorothy, Sarah and Marjorie Layton, Bonita Johnson, Lillian Warriner, Edith Van Dyke, Mmes. Howard Baker, Roy Daniel, Clay Johnson, Wilson McGuire, Lauren Fife, Elmo Lyons, Alice Bauer, Eugene Miller of San Diego and Gene Redewill of Phoenix.

Dinner-Dance

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Harris at a recent dinner-dance at the Surf and Sand Club were Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Dill, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Brownell, Mrs. Eddice Wagner, Miss Alice Bloodgood and William Brownell.

Will Visit Yosemite

Miss Georgie Truman, who recently returned from a motor trip through the national parks, is passing the month at the Hotel Del Mar. She plans to visit Wawona and Yosemite in August.

Wed in New York

Mrs. Ida Friedman, 833 South Gramercy Drive, announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Florence Friedman, to Nathan King, formerly of St. Johns, N. B. The wedding was celebrated the 12th inst. at the Teneyck Hotel, Albany, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. King will make their home at La Belle Farm, Delanson, N. Y., following a honeymoon at Lake George.

Novel Entertainment

Moonlight flying has been inaugurated as a new pastime for some of the guests of the Huntington Hotel, Pasadena. John Burnham's passengers on a recent night flight were Miss Catherine Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Howard, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Halsted.

Sail From New York

Mrs. Thomas N. Newell of the Los Altos Apartments and her daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Ballreich of Windsor Boulevard, sailed from New York recently for a European tour. They will return in September.

Sorority Sisters Guests

An attractive affair of recent date was the party given by Miss Helen Pollack, 923 South Highland avenue, when many of her guests were her sorority sisters, members of Zeta Chapter of Phi Sigma Sigma Sorority at the University of California at Los Angeles. Among those bidden to the affair were Mrs. Gilbert Tepper and the Misses Frieda Baum, Belle and Ethel Bleck, Pearl Dyer, Harriet Epman, Margaret and Grace Freeman, Estelle Gilan, Thelma Gold, Stella Coffin, Esther Jacobsen, Genia Kahn, Ethel Lane, Fayga Lane, Elaine Osterman, Gertrude Phillips, Madeline and Marcella Ravitch, Helen Singer, Muriel Tow, Ruth Zeigler, Ruth Kleinman, Dorothy and Jeannette Zeitlin.

Winget-Payne

The Wilshire Methodist Church was the appropriate setting for the wedding recently of Miss Grace Adelle Winget to Guy Payne, as the bride's father built the edifice and was an active worker in the church. The bride's mother is Mrs. Minnie Winget and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Payne of Missouri.

Given in marriage by her brother, Glenn Winget, the bride made an attractive picture in a white chiffon frock. Her bridal bouquet was of white roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. F. J. Porter of Riverside, Miss Nell Bradshaw, Miss Jean Price and Miss Florence Ware were her attendants, and Granville Poole served the bridegroom as best man.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Glenn Winget residence. Mr. and Mrs. Payne motored to Watsonville, and are traveling from there to Portland via Lake Tahoe. They will pass the summer at Monterey and Carmel-by-the-Sea, returning to Los Angeles in September.

Riffey-Rowe

One of the lovely weddings of recent date was that of the 6th inst. when Miss Beatrice Anne Riffey, became the bride of Harry Tippett Rowe at a ceremony performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Pontius, 2177 West Live Oak Drive, Hollywood, with Rev. Franklin Gibson officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Riffey of Johnstown, O., while the groom, formerly a resident of Ohio, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Rowe of Johnstown.

Given in marriage by D. W. Pontius, a close friend of the family, the bride was charming in a gown of eggshell satin, princess style, with a lace yoke and long tight sleeves, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her long tulle veil fell from a headdress of folds of the same material caught with orange blossoms.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Esther Wyeth, also of Johnstown, O., who wore a gown of pale blue crepe and carried pink rosebuds and orchid sweet peas. Miss Virginia Billhardt, in orchid and rose organdy, scattered rose petals before the bridal party.

Harry Godshall of Los Angeles served the bridegroom as best man.

Following the reception, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Priest, cousins of the groom, at 1624½ Arlington avenue, Los Angeles, the bridal couple left for a brief wedding trip, after which they will make their home at Sparks, Nev.

LUNCHEON HONORS BRIDE-ELECT

Her Wedding to Be Event of August

[Curtis Biltmore studios]

Miss Phyllis Worsley

ONE of the smart affairs of recent date was the luncheon and bridge with which Mrs. Arthur E. Cresse of North Berendo Drive entertained at the Jonathan Club, Santa Monica, honoring Miss Phyllis Worsley, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Worsley of South Pasadena, whose engagement to Paul Sorber, son of Mrs. L. A. Sorber, formerly of Seattle, was announced at a beautifully appointed garden party the 11th inst. The wedding is to be an event of August.

The luncheon tables were arranged in the form of an U, the centerpiece being an elaborate shower bouquet of tulle in the pastel shades. Baskets of summer blossoms adorned the side tables and fan-shaped candle holders with princess tapers further carried out the color motif. The favors were unique picture hats decorated with tiny flowers, and attached to the streamers were individual place cards. Covers were arranged for twenty-four guests.

Many other lovely affairs are being given in honor of this charming bride-elect, among others a lingerie shower given by Miss Eleanor Strand. Saturday afternoon, the 12th inst. Mrs. A. Trust Poehlman of Linda Vista Drive gave a bridge-tea at the Maryland in Pasadena.

Pure Food Chief Urges Hearers to Read Labels

W. W. Vincent, chief of the western division of the Federal Food and Drug Administration, spoke yesterday over radio station KFI on the workings of the Pure Food and Drug Act, urging his hearers to "read the label" which, he said, is the government's means of helping the public protect itself against improperly prepared foods.

Mr. Vincent cited several examples of the difficulties encountered by food inspectors in their efforts to see that preserved foods are up to label specifications. Most canners, he said, are glad to cooperate with the government men, realizing that it is their own best advertisement to do so. In one case, however, the inspectors were obliged to pursue a carload of berries, canned "mushy" in a Northwest cannery, over several States before the last tin was caught and condemned.

The speaker warned his hearers that the government does not guarantee the purity of foods by the label art, but merely insists that they shall be truthfully described by the labels.

HOW TO MANAGE SCHEDULES WHERE THERE ARE TWO INFANTS

Quite often the mother of an infant has children that are at the runabout stage. When this is the situation, it may keep the mother "humping," but the older child can competently feed himself, and manage fairly well in many of the situations which formerly demanded the mother's help. It is decidedly more complicated when a new infant arrives before the other is 1 year old. A young mother asks help in planning a schedule for two children, one an infant and the other 11 months. It is hoped that the following will prove helpful in this unusual emergency.

SCHEDULE FOR TWO INFANTS

It is preferable to advance the year old to a three-meal-a-day schedule and the infant to a four-meal-a-day one. This allows for a long nap at 10 for the infant, a short nap from 3 to 4, and a long nap from 12:30 to 2:30 for the year old.

6 a.m. Breast or bottle feed infant.

7 a.m. Breakfast for year old. Put in pen to play.

7:20 a.m. Toilet for year old. (Two hours can be devoted to housework.)

9:30 a.m. Prepare bath for infant. Give year old orange juice. Bathe infant.

10 a.m. Nurse baby and put him down for long morning nap, preferably out of doors. Bring year old wherever mother is working and entertain him with kitchen playthings.

12 Noon. Family lunch. Year old eats at this time, too. Put to bed after lunch for long nap.

(With both babies asleep the mother should snatch this opportunity for a rest period. Hang out a sign, "Do not disturb," and adhere to this period from 12:30 to 1:30 for a much-needed rest. She'll be a better, more patient mother because of it. See that neighbors co-operate.) When both babies awaken, take them out doors.

2 p.m. Nurse infant.

4 p.m. Cup of milk and two crackers for year old. Drink of water for infant.

5:30 p.m. Undress both babies and put them into nighties. Let them play on bed undressed for a half-hour.

6:30 p.m. Family dinner. Year old should be put to bed directly after dinner.

A schedule such as this should keep both babies to regular habits and offer sufficient time in the day for the mother to accomplish necessary household tasks. We hope, for her sake, that she can have help.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

POT ROAST OF BEEF WITH PEACHES

Four pounds of chuck roast, a seasoning of salt, paprika, one teaspoonful of dry mustard. Wipe the meat with a damp cloth, sear it well on all sides in a hot saute pan, containing shortening, then place the meat in a casserole and season with the salt, paprika and mustard. Pour over one cupful of peach juice. Cover the meat tightly and bake in a slow oven for two hours, allowing thirty minutes to the pound, just before serving add the peach halves to the dish and allow to heat through.

GLAZED STRAWBERRY TART

Make a crust for the tart shells of one cupful of sifted flour, sifted with a half-teaspoonful of baking powder, four tablespoonfuls of sugar, three tablespoonfuls of butter, and one egg. Chop the butter into the sifted flour the same as you would for biscuits, add the well-beaten egg, and knead the mixture until a stiff dough is obtained. Put in the ice box for two or three hours, then roll out on a floured board a quarter of an inch in thickness, and line the tart shells with it. Place an additional piece of the paste around the outside edge of the pan, so as to make collar. Prick with a fork, and bake in a hot oven. When the shells are cool, fill with ripe, uncooked berries. For the glaze take three cupfuls of washed and hulled berries, crush them thoroughly, and add to them one cupful of water, and cook for fifteen minutes. Drain the juice through a very fine sieve or cloth and when all the clear juice has dripped through, place it in a sauce pan and for every two cupfuls of juice, add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, cook until the jelly stage is reached. Cool slightly and pour over the berries in the tart shells.

HAM AND COTTAGE CHEESE CROQUETTES

To one cupful of chopped cooked ham add two cupfuls of cottage cheese, which has been beaten until smooth. Shape the mixture into small rolls or croquettes shapes, roll in finely chopped nutmeats, and serve on salad plates that have been garnished with shredded lettuce, and a spiral of mayonnaise.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Friday. Breakfast: Toasted breakfast food, with cream (no sugar;) stewed apricots. Lunch: Corn and string beans en casserole, lettuce. Dinner: Baked white fish, artichokes; salad of stuffed tomatoes; Jell or Jell-well.

Saturday. Breakfast: French omelet, crisp waffle; pear sauce. Lunch: Canaloupe a la mode. Dinner: Stuffed pork chops, cooked greens, mashed turnips; salad of chopped cabbage and parsley; apple sauce.

Corn and string beans en casserole: Cut tender string beans into small pieces and cook in a small amount of water for about fifteen minutes. Cut an equal amount of corn from the cob, first scoring each row of kernels with a sharp knife. If any liquid remains on the beans, drain and save for soup, add beans to corn with a little cream and bake for twenty minutes, allowing to brown on top.

Corn may be used in this way with celery, asparagus, spinach or young carrots. When using the fresh spinach, shred very fine and do not cook before mixing with the corn as with the string beans, but put all into casseroles and bake at once.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Homespun

Tooth paste will clean tarnished French jewelry.

Fruit should always be pared with a silver knife.

Never buy anything that you do not need just because it is cheap. The fact you do not need it takes it out of the "bargain" class immediately.

When making jam or preserves, first rub the bottom of the preserving kettle with a little butter. It will greatly prevent burning and sticking.

A dirty clothesline can be wrapped around the wash board and thoroughly scrubbed with a brush and hot soapsuds. Rinse well and it will be as good as new.

No Stooping

If you find it hard to stoop over to sweep dust into the dustpan, insert the handle of an old broom into the handle of the dustpan and secure with a nail or two. You will have one of the new kind without any expense.

More Wear

When buying children's stockings it is wise to buy several pairs alike. Then the stockings that wear out first may be discarded and the remaining ones mated to the best advantage.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

JIM CROW

Take things as they come, and grin;
That's the spirit that will win.
—Jim Crow.

The venturesome young Crow, who had fallen from the nest almost at the feet of Farmer Brown's Boy, was a frightened young Crow, to say the least. The fall from the nest had been bad enough, but now a creature such as he had never seen before had picked him up. He remembered what Mother Crow had said when she had warned the young crows to be careful; and he was certain that this creature was going to eat him. So naturally he was a very frightened young Crow.

Farmer Brown's Boy carefully picked the young Crow up, taking care not to hurt him. He looked him all over, to make sure that he had not been injured. Apparently the young Crow was all right. Farmer Brown's Boy looked back at the nest. He was trying to decide whether he would take that young Crow back to the nest or whether he would take it home.

"If I take you back up there, Jim Crow, you'll probably fall out again," said he. "I think I'll take you home. You'll like me better when we've really become acquainted."

So it was that the young Crow got both a name and a new home. He was rather noisy on the way home, and Blacky the Crow heard him. You know, Blacky was his father. Blacky gave the alarm, and soon not only Blacky, his father, but his mother and all of his relatives who were within hearing, were making a great fuss over there in the Green Forest, screaming at Farmer Brown's Boy and calling him all manner of names. Farmer Brown's Boy didn't mind at all. He kept right on, and all the crows followed for a short distance. Presently Jim Crow stopped his noise. He was rather out of breath. Besides, he was very curious. He was seeing things that he had never seen before. He was so full of curiosity that he forgot to cry. Now, when he stopped crying, the other Crows began to lose interest. Most of them had families, anyway, and they were anxious to get back to them. Blacky and Mother Crow followed as far as the edge of the Green Forest. There they stopped, for Mother Crow was anxious about the rest of the children and in a hurry to get back, to see if anything had happened to them.

Home to the barn Jim Crow was taken. How his black eyes did twinkle as he looked at all the strange things! Bowser the Hound came out to make his acquaintance. So did Flip the Fox Terrier. Jim Crow was afraid of them at first, but he was too smart to let them know it. He pretended that he wasn't afraid. And, being smart, it didn't take him long to find out that they wouldn't hurt him; and then, of course, he wasn't afraid.

Home to the barn Jim Crow was taken

Farmer Brown's Boy took Jim Crow into the house to show to Mother Brown. "For goodness' sake!" exclaimed Mother Brown. "What under the sun are you going to do with that Crow?"

"I'm going to keep him for a pet," replied Farmer Brown's Boy.

"You mean you are going to keep him for a nuisance," declared Mother Brown. "I feel it in my bones that that Crow will get into just about as much mischief as that young Bear did."

Farmer Brown's Boy chuckled. "If Jim Crow does as many funny things as Cubby Bear did," said he, "this farm is going to be a lively place. Now, I want some bread and milk to feed the rascal."

Mother Brown got the bread and milk, and Farmer Brown's Boy took Jim Crow out on the back doorstep to feed him. He actually had to feed him, for, you see, Jim Crow hadn't yet learned to pick up food for himself. Not having left the nest, he had always been fed by Mother Crow and Father Blacky Crow. So now Farmer Brown's Boy had to put food in Jim Crow's mouth. It was new food to Jim Crow, but he liked it, and he actually made himself sick at that first meal, he ate so much.

Chicago Youth Wins One Up on Thirty-seventh

Perkins Gains Semifinals With Great Rally

Couch, McCrary Also Take Bitter Struggles

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

BEVERLY COUNTRY CLUB (Chicago) July 24. (AP) — Don Moe of Portland, Or., wearied by his long golfing wars in England, went down fighting today in his struggle to defend his western amateur golf championship over the narrow fairways and pitfalls of the Beverly Country Club course.

DON MOE.

The smiling champion and Walker Cup star fell before another fighting youth, Johnny Lehman of Chicago, 1 up, after their quarter-final battle had extended to the thirty-seventh green. The result forged another chain of jinxs that has followed champions of the western amateur, as not since 1923 has a title-holder retained his crown.

A thirty-five-foot putt, roaming down a treacherous course, accomplished the conquest for Lehman, who brought the Big Ten championship to Purdue three years ago. Going to the thirty-seventh green both he and Moe were equidistant from the cup. Johnny putted first and dropped it. The fading champion also tried but his ball stopped two feet short of the cup and it was all over.

PERKINS RALLIES

Three other sharpshooters, T. Phillip Perkins, lately of King George's golf forces; Ira Couch of Chicago and Bob McCrary, trans-Mississippi champion from Des Moines, also reached the semifinal round but it was T. Phillip himself who gave the galleryites their next biggest thrill. Four down at the end of the eighteen-hole morning round, the bespectacled Briton who now resides in New York, came back with par-breaking golf to overtake Jack Westland, Chicago district champion, and then defeat him 2 and 1.

He didn't have to finish out on the final green of the round, but he kept on going to post a startling 69, two big strokes under par, for the exceptionally rugged course. The mark tied the course record, but it was not accepted as such because of a few conceded putts.

His remarkable comeback and par-fracturing game was the best of the day and made him the one big favorite to win the championship. He meets Lehman tomorrow in the upper bracket's thirty-six-hole match battle. McCrary and Couch clash in the lower field.

"FIGHTING SCOT"

McCrary, known among golfers as the "fighting Scot" upheld his reputation to win today. The Scot finished his morning round 2 down to the hard-hitting Gus Novotny of Chicago, and at the end of the third hole of the afternoon he was

Junk Walters Slugs It Out With Mays

PORTLAND (Or.) July 24. (AP)—Carl Mays and John Wallace (Junk) Walters, Portland pitchers, engaged in a twenty-minute fist fight in the clubhouse just before the Wednesday-night game, it became known here today. Officials of the baseball club are trying to hush the affair, but it is known Walters was badly bruised about the eyes, face and lips and it is reported Mays suffered a broken nose and possibly a fractured rib. Although the other players knew the fight was in progress they made no attempt to stop it. It is reported Mays and Walters have been unfriendly for some time and their team-mates believed it better to let them fight it out. It is doubtful if either of the two will be able to pitch for several days, reports say.

RALLY BREAKS UP BALL GAME

Solons Shove Over Four Runs in Eighth Frame

Fay Thomas Goes Route for Visiting Club

Ex-Trojan Gridder Whiffs Seventeen Angels

BY BOB RAY

The Angels' reign as kings of the Wrigley Field owl league came to an end last night before the blinding speed of Fay Thomas, one-time University of Southern California grid hero, who is now doing considerable pitching for Buddy Ryan's Sacramento Senators.

Fay Thomas

Thomas fanned seventeen Seraphs to set a modern Coast League strikeout record while pitching the Senators to a 10-to-6 victory over Los Angeles. The Coast League record of nineteen strikeouts was made by Charlie Shields, Seattle, against Portland back in 1905, just twenty-five years ago.

A crowd of 8500 fans, an almost identical number that saw Wednesday's game, turned out for last night's encounter, which indicates that the customers are still in favor of night baseball after three contests here.

FINISHES STRONG

Thomas had quite a bit of trouble in the early innings, yielding six runs in five frames, but, once he got his strike-out ball into action, it was all over for the Angels. Thomas fanned ten Seraphs in the last four rounds, striking out three each in the seventh, eighth and ninth to finish in a blaze of glory.

A four-run rally off Bill Peters, second Angel pitcher, in the eighth inning broke a 6-to-6 tie and won the game for Sacramento. Glenn Gabler and Win Ballou also saw mound duty after Peters, who had replaced Augie Walsh in the fifth inning.

Ray French, Sacramento shortstop, poled out the second home run made in the three night games played here in the second inning. French's blow did not go out of the park, hitting the light tower in left field and bounding back but being ruled a home run by Umpire McLaughlin.

Both sides collected ten hits, the

FRENCH TENNIS FANS SEE VICTORY IN LUCK OF DRAW

Tilden Battles Borotra in Opener; Lott Takes on Cochet in Second Match; Doubles Play Tomorrow

PARIS, July 24. (AP)—French tennis fans openly boasted tonight, while the native officials agreed with them in less boisterous fashion, the luck of the draw bids fair to bring France two victories in the opening pair of singles matches of the challenge round for the Davis Cup Friday.

Big Bill Tilden, ace of the United States team, drew Jean Borotra, the Bounding Basque, for the opening match which will start on the courts at the Roland Garros Stadium at 2:15 p.m. George Lott, Chicago youth who will help the American veteran with the singles burden, faces Henri Cochet, world ranking star, in the second match at 5 p.m. The doubles teams, as yet unnamed, will clash Saturday with the final singles, Lott against Borotra and Tilden against Cochet, Sunday.

BILL TILDEN

TILDEN FAVORED

While the French are bubbling over with optimism, the American colony feels sure Tilden's oft-proven supremacy over Borotra—seven consecutive victories on grass and hard courts—will be shown again tomorrow, giving the challengers an even break in victories for the opening day. No one, either French or American, appears to grant Lott a chance against Cochet.

DETROIT, July 24. (AP)—Guy Cantrell, who came to Detroit from Toronto this week, made his first American League start today and gave the New York Yankees a great battle before succumbing, 5 to 2.

Cantrell allowed eight hits, one of them a drive high into the bleachers in right center by Babe Ruth for his thirty-sixth home run of the season, putting him five homers

EICHELBERGER MEDALIST

Young Los Angeles Country Club Star Registers 72 in Palos Verdes Qualifying Round

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Big Harry Eichelberger, Jr., of the Los Angeles Country Club waged a winning battle against wind yesterday afternoon to win medal honors honors in the annual Palos Verdes Golf Club invitation tourney.

Harry's 72 was one over perfect figures, but that was good enough to lead more than 200 wind-buffeted golfers, many of whom failed to turn in cards.

"BUD" EICHELBERGER

Phil Ayres, also of the Los Angeles Country Club, present Southern California junior champion, gave Eichelberger a tussle for the medal. Although often in the rough, Ayres staged a number of sensational recoveries to score a 73.

Gil Eckles, Oakmont Country Club champion, was among the low scorers with a 75. Jack Gaines of Girard registered a 76 with a 7 on fourteen.

Eichelberger's score was phenomenal, all things considered. Harry was four over par after the first three holes with a pulsating 7 o nthe 356-yard third hole. That 7 must have aroused Harry's ire, however, as he parred five of the next six holes and birdied the long seventh for a 38 going out.

PHENOMENAL SCORE

With a wind behind his back, Eichelberger started the second nine auspiciously by driving the 307-yard tenth hole and sinking his putt for an eagle 2. He parred eleven and birdied twelve, lost a stroke on the short fifteenth, and then finished with pars for a 34, two under even figures.

Three birdies materially helped Ayres's card. He was even par going out, and two over coming in.

Cards of the leaders follow:

Par (Out)	434	354	534—35
Eichelberger	447	354	434—38
Ayres	434	344	544—35
Par (In)	444	443	544—36—71
Eichelberger	243	444	544—34—72
Ayres	434	463	635—38—73

Palos Verdes was a man-sized test of golf yesterday. Drives on a number of holes were directly into a stiff breeze, while cross-winds were hard to figure on others.

In addition, the greens were tricky with three putts the rule rather than the exception.

FIRST ROUND

A number of interesting first-round matches are scheduled in the championship flight of sixteen. Eichelberger, who recently won the California Country Club invitation tourney, will start out after new

JUDGE COMES TO PRIMO'S AID

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP)—Former Judge Bernard Barasa has asked James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, to intervene on behalf of Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight boxer, who has been ordered to leave the United States. Barasa, speaking for Chicago Italians, wired the Secretary of Labor yesterday, asking an extension of six months be granted the gian fighter. He urged the extension so Carnera again might box Leon Chevalier, Coast Negro. When the pair met in California several months ago, it was charged one of Chevalier's seconds tossed a towel into the ring admitting defeat, while the Negro was apparently easily holding his own. The incident resulted in the suspension of Carnera and his several managers in many States. The bout would be staged in Chicago by Promoter Mique Malloy, August 14.

THOMPSON-CORBETT GO NOT SIGNED BY DOYLE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24. (AP)—[illegible] that he had an agreement [illegible] Promoter Jack Doyle of Los [illegible] for a welfweight title bout [illegible] between Young Jack Thompson, champion, and Young Corbett [illegible], were denied today by [illegible], manager of Thompson. [illegible]dgeman to the Associated [illegible] from Chicago, Alvis said: [illegible] made no agreement with [illegible] Doyle for a Thompson-Corbett championship match. Ancil Hoffman (San Francisco promoter) has made me a very attractive offer for the bout, which I am considering."

Chances for a championship bout any place in California, however, were considered improbable as Alvis said he was considering an offer for a title match in Madison Square Garden, September 11. The opponent was not named but is was believed to be Jimmy McLarnin, a big card in New York. Alvis said he had instructed Thompson, who

JUST what does a fighter have to do to become champion after he has decisively licked the former world's welterweight champion while he held the title, and then administered a bad beating to his successor, and still remains just Young Corbett III, the "uncrowned king" of the 147-pound division? Neither Jackie Fields, whom he beat on February 22, nor young Jack Thompson, whom he beat on the 4th inst., would give Corbett a chance at the title, so he fought each one at over the weight limit and decisively proved his superiority. His two victories over two title-holders in less than six months have won this southpaw prize fighter from Fresno, Cal., no titles, but plenty of backing as the best welterweight in the land.

JACKIE FIELDS.

Naturally Thompson won't give Corbett a match for the championship. It would be just like wrapping up his crown and handing it over to his rival, who has beaten him three times, now, and nearly knocked him out in their last meeting. Corbett will probably get the run-around as usual. Thompson, who gave Jimmy McLarnin a great battle before he, Thompson, won his title from Fields, will probably meet Jimmy in a titular fight in New York in September. Then if "Ex-Baby

Benny Miller Rules Strong Favorite to Defeat Manuel Le Mon Tonight at Hollywood

LOCAL FIGHTER PICKED TO WIN

Santa Ana Battler Has Not Been Tested Here

Benny Has Copped His Last Two Starts at Legion

Knockout Ending Would Not Surprise Ring Fans

BY KAY OWE

Benny Miller tops all the young sprouts developed during the last year in the local fight game and when Benny crawls through the ropes tonight at the Hollywood American Legion stadium to fight Romeo Le Mon, Santa Ana welterweight, it will be the tall Jewish lad who will carry the best wishes of the guys who pick winners for a living.

BENNY MILLER

There is a new crop of fighters blossoming forth. For a time there was a famine of main eventers. Fidel LaBarba, Mushy Callahan, Ace Hudkins, Jackie Fields, Georgie Rivers, Dick Hoppe, and a lot more of the boys stepped into faster company or gave up fighting and no youngsters came along to take their places. Now things look different. Some pretty good-looking talent is in the making. Benny Miller is about the best of the lot. He has had two main events at Hollywood and won both. Oakland Jimmy Duffy was picked as the first opponent. Benny was a little too cautious when fighting Duffy but he won. Babe Anderson was next and Benny stepped out like a champion is take the play away from the hard-hitting Anderson. He won and had Anderson on the floor twice.

Romeo Le Mon has never showed in this city. The Santa Ana lad has just as good a reputation as Benny Miller. Miller is a tall, rangy lad who has a long reach and a fair wallop. His opponents find it tough getting inside Benny's long left and his right is always dangerous. Le Mon may pull a surprise but it is hardly probable.

The referee will be named by Tom Gallery. Referees at the stadium are being more carefully selected than the fighters.

"Red" Humphries fights Jimmy Alvarado in the semi-wind-up. Humphries should be favorite.

Young Papke is the big hit of the preliminary boys. He has lots of class and color and should win by a knockout. Frankie Abendino will oppose Papke for a time at least. Papke is young and being carefully handled by Charley McDonald. Boy Patrick and Oral Eubanks fight one four-rounder and Leo Lomelli will meet Joe Soldivar in the other.

CECIL PAYNE WINS OVER BATTALINO

CINCINNATI (O.) July 24. (AP)—Cecil Payne, Louisville featherweight, won a ten-round decision over Bat Battalino, world champion, in a nonitle bout here tonight. Payne knocked Battalino down for a count of nine in the second round.

The champion took six of the rounds, but the judges gave the knockdown great weight. Payne won three rounds and one was even. Payne weighed 133; Battalino 127½.

It was Payne's second victory over the champion here within a few weeks.

PA STRIBLING SHOOS SPY FROM SON'S CAMP

LONDON, July 24. (Exclusive)—"Pa" Stribling abruptly stopped a workout of "Young" Stribling today with the announcement that the manager of Phil Scott, the British heavyweight champion, whom the Georgian meets at Wimbledon on Monday, was somewhere in the room and that the sparring wouldn't go on until the "spy" left the premises.

Mr. Rose, Scott's mentor, climbed to his feet protesting, but willing hands aided him in reaching an exit.

SOLONS THUMP SERAPHS

Rally in Eighth Gives Sacramento Four Runs and Ball Game

Seraph safeties including triples by Carl Dittmar and Johnny Moore. The teams did not play as good ball as in Wednesday's game, being charged with a total of five errors.

Walsh got into difficulty in the first inning by walking French and Osborn but got out of the hole by striking out Myril Hoag, the $25,000 Yankee beauty.

UMP IN ROW

Chadbourne got into a couple of rows in the Angel half of the first, but won both decisions from Skipper Lelivelt. On the last argument Johnny Moore took a third strike at a curve that broke inside and hit him, but it was apparent he had swung at the ball. Chadbourne ruled him struck out and the Angels protested Moore was entitled to first for being hit but couldn't carry their cause.

The Solons wheeled their heavy artillery into action against Walsh in the second and rammed across three runs to begin the scoring activities of the evening. Rohwer opened the round with a double to right center and was bunted to third by Bryan. Koehler's sacrifice fly to Schulmerich brought Rohwer home. Thomas then singled to left and French followed with a drive that hit the left-field light tower and bounded back into the field. Thomas scored on the hit and French continued on home when Umpire McLaughlin ruled the blow a home run.

Los Angeles came back with two runs in its half to get back in the ball game. Schulmerich walked for a starter, but Jacobs skied to Rohwer. A passed ball and a wild pitch moved Schulmerich to third, from where he scored on Haney's infield out. Statz beat out a bunt when Bryan failed to cover first and went to second on Thomas's wild attempt to pick him off first. Warren walked. Walsh hit a line drive that Backer leaped up and partially knocked down, the ball going out in right field for a double that scored Statz. Sigafoos fanned to leave a couple of prospective runs stranded on second and third.

The Cherubs tied it up in the third with the aid of Backer's error that put Moore on first. Dittmar sacrificed. Schulmerich hit to Brown and Moore was run down between second and third. Wes meandered while reaching second. French overran Jacobs's slow infield roller off second, which went for a hit, and Schulmerich scored from second. Haney singled infield off Thomas's glove, but Statz popped to Backer for the third out.

AHEAD AGAIN

Sacramento went ahead once more with a run in the fourth. Bryan led off with a double to right. Koehler was safe when his easy pop fly squirted through Dittmar's hands. Thomas fanned but French walked to bulge the bags. Brown's sacrifice fly to Statz scored Bryan. Statz's throw-in was away off line, hitting the stands between third and home, but Warren caught the ball as it rebounded and threw to Haney in time to double Koehler, who had tried to take third on the wild heave.

The Sacs scored again in the fifth, during which round Walsh was replaced by Peters. Barker opened the round with a hit off Haney's glove. Haney made a sensational stop of Osborn's torrid smash but threw wild to second, both runners being safe. Hoag sacrificed. When Rohwer walked to fill the bases, Peters replaced Walsh. Eldred batted for Bryan and sent a sacrifice fly to Moore, Backer scoring and the other runners moving to second and third when Moore's throw bounded over Warren's head. Koehler was walked and then Peters tossed Thomas out to end the round.

Los Angeles came back with three in its half to take the lead. Dittmar's triple, a walk to Schulmerich, Haney's single and Statz's three-bagger produced the trio of counters.

After two were out in the seventh the Senators tied it up when Wirts walked and counted on singles by Eldred and Koehler.

Peters blew up in the eighth and the Sacs shoved over four runs to break the tie. French drew a walk to start trouble and Brown sacrificed. Backer's single to right scored French. Osborn walked and Hoag followed with a double to right that sent Backer over the plate. Gabler here replaced Peters and Wirts greeted him with a single to right that tallied both Osborn and Hoag. Eldred popped to Dittmar and then Koehler forced Wirts to end the disastrous inning. Score:

The cruise is under the united auspices of the California, Los Angeles and Catalina Island yacht clubs.

Commodore Norman A. Pabst of the Catalina Island Yacht Club, who is chairman of the entertainment committee, announces a mammoth entertainment program for the cruise which is the first that will take in all classes of pleasure craft and will be participated in by members, their families and guests. It is anticipated that some 200 yachts will participate in the cruise, both sailing and motor boat.

The first event on the program is a sail-boat race, all classes from six-meter up, under arbitrary handicaps, starting at the S-A buoy, Los Angeles Harbor, Saturday, the 26th inst., at 10 a.m., and finishing at Shin Rock, Catalina Isthmus. All classes start together. Entries should be made to Donald Ayres or Temp Ashbrook. Wiggins Loses to Mack House

Mack House, powerful Negro fighter, knocked Chuck Wiggins down three times at Pasadena last night and won the ten-round decision in a gallop. House put the veteran easterner on the canvas for two counts in the third round, flattened him for nine in the fourth and eight in the fifth and also saw Wiggins go down for nine without being hit in the second. Chuck was pretty well cut up at the finish.

Joe Barry defeated Bud Coogan in the semi-wind-up, Johnny Previs scored a technical knockout victory over Trench King in two stanzas, Peter Pino decisioned Lewis Wooley, Ted Thompson copped the nod over Bolo Aguirre and Curly Munis and Jack Leyba went four rounds to a draw in a very good fight.

DIEGEL TRAILS VETERAN CANADIAN IN GOLF PLAY

LANCASTER (Ont.) July 24. (AP)—A canny veteran of close to 50, Nicol Thompson, Sr., used his knowledge of the course to good advantage today to set the pace for the best professionals of Canada and the United States in the opening round of the Canadian open golf championship at the Hamilton Country Club.

Playing on his home course, the veteran Canadian pro shot a brilliant 66, equaling the course record, in the first eighteen-hole round to lead Al Watrous, Detroit pro, by two strokes. In a four-way tie for third place at 69 were Len Diegel, the defending champion; Ed Dudley of Wilmington, Del., Tony Manero of Elmsford, N. Y., and Charles Lacey, the English pro at the Pine Valley Club in Pennsylvania.

Walter Hagen went around with Charlie Murray, veteran of the Royal Montreal Club, and the largest gallery of the day saw them each travel the course in 70 strokes, as did MacDonald Smith of New York and J. B. Heaney of Rochester, N. Y. "Long Jim" Barnes of New York, George Von Elm of Detroit and Fred M. Lyon of Toronto, turned in 71's, the latter climaxing a steady round with a sensational eagle 2 at the home hole where he holed out with an iron from 200 yards off the green. Lyon's father, the famous George S. Lyon, who has won the Canadian amateur title eight times, scored a 78 today despite his 72 years.

Johnny Farrell of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Horton Smith, representing the Cragston (N. Y.) club, went around in 72 strokes, but Tommy Armour needed 74. C. Ross, Somerville, the crack London (Ont.) amateur, covered the first nine in 33 strokes but needed 41 coming home to tie Armour at 74. A stroke lower than this was Tom Kerrigan's 73, while Emmet French, of Southern Pines, N. C., carded a 72, despite a weak finish.

BRITISH POLO RATINGS RAISED

Invading Four Will Be Strongest Mustered Since War for Classic With American Horsemen; Hitchcock Highest Ranking Player in Game

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—On the basis of revised polo handicaps listed by the Hurlingame Club, Great Britain will challenge the United States for the international cup this September with a thirty-three-goal combination, the strongest mustered since the war for this classic of Anglo-American sport.

TOMMY HITCHCOCK

The team that has been put together is composed of Capt. Richard George, No. 1, seven goals; Gerald Balding, No. 2, eight goals; Capt. C. T. I. (Pat) Roark, No. 3, nine goals; Lewis L. Lacey, back, nine goals.

Balding has been raised from seven to eight, and Capt. George reduced from eight to seven, in the revised Hurlingham list, cabled today to the Associated Press.

THREE SEVEN-GOAL MEN

Seven-goal handicaps are listed for each of the three alternates on the British squad—Capt. Charles H. Tremayne, H. P. Jennings and Aidan Roark, younger brother of Pat and a rival of George for No. 1 position.

The highest ranking American quartet that can now be mustered for the cup defense totals thirty-four goals.

America has the only ten-goal player in the world, Capt. Tommy Hitchcock, but since Winston Guest was reduced from nine to eight goals, no other rider in this country has a handicap higher than eight. Of the international squad, Guest, Earle A. S. Hopping, Eric Pedley and Elmer Boeseke all have this rating.

The third of a series of American test matches, scheduled this Sunday at Port Washington, Long Island, probably will find the youthful Earle Hopping out of action as a result of his painful fall in the game at the Piping Rock Club yesterday. Hopping was reported today at the club as still feeling a little groggy from the shaking up he received. He suffered no serious injury but likely will need a week's rest before returning to the saddle.

ANZAC POLOIST'S STOCK TAKES JUMP UP

The visit to this country of the four brothers Ashton, composing the crack Australian polo team, has attracted wide interest. Their invasion was heralded today by increase in handicap ratings by the Hurlingham Club of two of the brothers.

OLDER ASHTON RAISED

As a result they rank as a twenty-six-goal combination, entitled to mingle in the fastest polo company. James Ashton has been raised from six to seven goals, the same rating as Geoffrey and Robert. The youngest of the quartet, Phillip, has been advanced from four to five goals.

The Ashtons are bringing their own string of ponies, twenty-five in number, developed and trained by themselves from "green" stock. The mounts are considerably smaller than the average, but unusually hardy.

The brothers will play in a series of specially arranged matches on Long Island, remain to witness the international cup matches and then sail for their Australian ranch home to complete their second trip around the world.

MIDGE GLADMAN IN FINALS

Santa Monica Star to Face Marjorie Morrill in Essex Country Club Titular Match

MANCHESTER (Mass.) July 24. (AP)—An East-West final for the Essex Country Club's invitation tennis tournament, which attracted fifteen of America's top-ranking twenty, resulted today when Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, Mass., and Marjorie Gladman of Santa Monica, Cal., won their semifinal matches.

Miss Morrill took only a half-hour to overwhelm Dorothy Weisel of Sacramento, 6-0, 6-2, and avenge the setback she received from her last week at Longwood. Miss Gladman gained the championship round by again defeating Josephine Cruickshank, her neighbor from Santa Ana, 1-6, 6-4, 6-1, in a match much closer than the score indicates.

MIDGE GLADMAN

The lone easterner in the semi finals played heady tennis against the girl from the other side of the continent. She used her forehand only to get Miss Weisel out of position and then she "aced" her with marvelous backhanders. Miss Weisel obliged, however, by stationing herself in the center of the court, just the right spot for Miss Morrill to slam placements down the lines.

The Massachusetts girl was able to pile up a total of 22 earned points to the Californian's 4. These placements decided the match, for Miss Morrill had twenty-two errors, only seven less than her rival.

Both players in the all-Californian match played hard-driving games, but Miss Gladman was unsteady and lost the opener by making twenty outs and nets to Miss Cruickshank's eight errors. Three fortunate net-corders in as many games gave Miss Gladman a chance to overcome the 4-2 lead that Miss Cruickshank piled up in the second set. The eighth game was the turning point of the match. At this point Miss Cruickshank was serving with terrific speed and she appeared a certain winner. A pair of sensational points by Miss Gladman, however, caused the Santa Ana girl to falter and she never threatened thereafter. In the deciding set, Miss Gladman sped off to a 3-love lead, acing her rival frequently. She yielded one game to service and then hastened through the last three games for the match.

The recapitulation showed Miss Gladman was much more erratic than the loser. The former had a total of fifty-six errors against forty-nine. Her twenty-seven placements, however, decided the match, for Miss Cruickshank was only able to score fifteen earned points.

For the third time this week rain interfered with the doubles play. Only two matches were completed and four other teams were forced to retire from the courts with the issues undecided.

Edith Cross and Mrs. L. A. Harper of San Francisco, the defending champions, advanced into the semifinal round by defeating Miss Morrill and Margaret Blake of Lenox, 6-4, 7-5, between showers. While the sky was clear Alice Francis of South Orange, N. J., and Anne Page of Philadelphia gained a quarter-final bracket by adding to the long series of upsets that has marked this tournament. These unseeded players defeated the fourth favored team. Mrs. J. B. Corbiere and Mrs. William Endicott of Boston, 7-5, 2-6, 6-2.

Miss Gladman and Miss Cruickshank had a lead of four games to three on Mrs. Roger Griswold and Mrs. Anne Harding of Boston when the rain fell, and at that very moment Virginia Hilleary, Philadelphia, and Dorothy Andrus, Stamford, Ct., the second seeded team, had a 4-2 lead in the deciding set against the eighth seeded pair, Clara Zinke, Cincinnati, and Virginia Rice, Boston.

Miss Zinke and Miss Rice started off impressively, taking the opening set, 6-4, but became unsteady in the second and lost, 2-6.

Howard Craghead Still Has Iron Man Honors

Tony Freitas, youthful Sacramento hurler, is perched on top of the Coast League pitching averages to date, according to data announced yesterday by Leo Moriarty. Close behind Freitas is Jim Turner, the Hollywood Stars' young pitching find.

JIM TURNER

Freitas has won eleven games and lost three, while Turner has turned in ten victories and has four defeats chalked up against him.

Gordon Rhodes of the Stars is ahead of both Freitas and Turner in the averages, but hasn't worked in as many games. Rhodes is credited with six wins and but one defeat.

Berly Horne tops the Angel chuckers with eight games won and four lost.

"Iron man" honors still belong to Howard Craghead of the Oaks. Craghead has worked in twenty-six games, winning twelve and losing fourteen.

ROGERS HORNSBY NOT TO JOIN TEAMMATES UNTIL NEXT WEEK

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, the Cubs' injured second baseman, did not join his mates today at Philadelphia as he had intended. An examination of his left ankle, fractured in the morning game Memorial Day, yesterday revealed almost complete recovery, but it was decided additional rest would be beneficial. He will join the club when it returns from the East next week. President William L. Veeck of the club, said the Rajah's right heel, which handicapped him part of last season and during the early part of the present campaign, apparently was in shape and Hornsby and his .370 batting average probably would be ready for duty August 6.

LYONS BEST

CHICAGO, July 24. (AP) — Ted Lyons gained credit for his fifteenth victory of the season today as the White Sox pounded out a 10-to-4 decision over Washington. Lyons was punched for thirteen hits, but kept them separated, while his mates collected fifteen off Liska, Brown and Fisher. Carl Reynolds topped the Chicago attack with four hits, while Mulleavy got three. The score:

BERGER SHINES

BOSTON, July 24. (AP)—Despite the heroic effort of Chick Hafey, St. Louis Cardinal left fielder, who hit two home runs, a double and a single in four trips to the plate, Bobby Smith pitched the Boston Braves to a 5-to-4 win over the visitors today.

Hafey drove in three of the Cards' four runs. His two homers brought his four-bagger total to fourteen for the season.

Berger, sensational Braves' recruit, was another who had a perfect day at bat. His twenty-seventh home run of the season, which came in the first off Haines, brought Maranville in ahead of him. Score:

GIANTS SCORE

NEW YORK, July 24. (AP)—A home run by Fred Lindstrom, some fine pitching by Carl Hubbell and a timely storm enabled the Giants to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 1 to 0, today, in a six-inning game.

Lindstrom clouted his homer in the first for the game's only tally and for the next five frames Remy Kremer had the Giants helpless. Hubbell allowed only one hit and fanned five in his six innings. He weakened in the seventh and had filled the bases, when the darkness preceding the rain forced a halt in the action. Score:

SPORT SKETCH BY FEG MURRAY

Face" wins, perhaps he and Pop Foster will allow Corbett a bout—if he comes in at 148 or 149 pounds.

Corbett, who wears the name of the illustrious Young Corbett who knocked out the supposedly invincible "Terrible Terry" McGovern in two rounds in 1901 and again in eleven rounds in 1903, has been fighting for six years and has lost but one decision—and that a questionable one—in that time. The muscular Italian from the San Joaquin district deserves a legitimate shot at the title. He comes from the raisin country and there's plenty of iron in his make-up!

LEHMAN WINS OVER DON MOE

4 down. But from that juncture on he staged a comeback equalled only by Perkins, and shot sensational golf and pulled up all square again at the end of the thirty-third hole. He went 1 up on the thirty-fifth and for good measure captured the final with another par. For the afternoon round, he totaled 73, only one stroke over par.

Cough had the easiest fight of the day to defeat Charlie Fish of Rockford, Ill., 6 and 5.

Moe failed to grab the lead in his thirty-seven-hole tussle with Lehman, although he broke par by two strokes on the last nine holes. Lehman, a player of the plodding type, held a 1-up lead after the first nine and the first eighteen holes. At the end of the twenty-seventh, Moe came back to tie it again only to have Johnny forge two holes in front by winning the twenty-eight and thirtieth. The champion evened again on the thirty-third and thirty-fifth and after that it was anyone's game until the fatal extra hole.

McLARNIN WANTS TITLE BOUT IN NEW YORK

VANCOUVER (B. C.) July 24. (AP) Charlie Foster, manager of Jimmy McLarnin, today denied reports arrangements have been completed for his fighter and Young Jackie Thompson to decide the world's welterweight championship in a bout in New York September 11, but added he wanted the fight staged there.

Foster said he had received no reply to a wire sent to Madison Square Garden officials in New York in an effort to bind the match. He added offers had been made to him for the fight by promoters in Chicago, Detroit and Los Angeles, as well as by the Madison Square Garden Corporation.

De Lara Loses in Net Play

TORONTO, July 24. (AP) — An Irishman, a Canadian and two players from the United States gained the semifinal round of men's singles in the Candian tennis championships today.

Mercur disposed of his semifinal round opponent, Jack De Lara of Los Angeles, only after five hard sets that produced the finest tennis of the championships. The scores were 6-4, 6-4, 2-6, 4-6, 6-3. Rogers eliminated C. W. Aikman of Montreal, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

In the women's singles tomorrow the semifinal round will pit Olive Wade of Toronto, defending champion, against Majorie Doeming of Victoria, while Jean Burritt, Toronto, encounters Mrs. F. E. Coke. Miss Wade defeated Mrs. H. L. Beer of Ottawa, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3 today in the quarter-finals. Mrs. E. F. Coke won a hard-fought match from Miss B. Symons, Toronto, 7-5, 6-8, 6-4, and Miss Deeming eliminated Miss M. Brock, Toronto, 6-2, 6-3. Miss Burritt defeated Hope Deeming of Victoria.

PHILADELPHIA, July 24. (AP)—The Cubs defeated the Phils today, 10 to 15, in a wild and woolly game.

CHUCK KLEIN.

Each team made seventeen hits, but the Cubs took advantage of the early Philly pitchers to pile up a 13-to-3 lead in the first three innings. In the eighth the Phillies scored seven runs but fell three short at tying the count.

There were many arguments throughout the battle and Umpire Jordan sent Klein, Hurst and Thompson to the clubhouse at the end of the eighth inning. Score:

EVEN STEPHEN

BROOKLYN (N. Y.) July 24. (AP) Brooklyn clung to first place today by winning a five-inning second game of a double-header from Cincinnati, 9 to 0, after the Reds had taken the first, 4 to 3.

The second game started with two Brooklyn runs in the first inning and a storm approaching. After considerable stalling by both sides, the required four and a half innings were completed and the Robins opened fire on Frey for seven more runs in the fifth. The game was called in the first half of the sixth on account of rain.

Cincinnati drove Vance from the mound early in the first game and held off the late Robins rallies. Brooklyn failed to put over the tying run when they had chances in the eighth and ninth. Campbell forced Boone to hit into a double-play on the first occasion and Ash struck out Flowers and retired Frederick on a line drive to Heilmann in the final frame. Scores:

MISS JACOBS THROUGH FOR 1930 NET SEASON

SEABRIGHT (N. J.) July 24. (AP) Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Cal., second ranking American woman tennis star, announced today she would quit tournament play for the remainder of this year. She gave ill health as the reason for her withdrawal. Miss Jacobs has just recovered from an attack of pleurisy and said she is entirely too weak to stand the strain of tournament tennis.

Big Bill

Who is it leans against the pill?
Big Bill.
Who is the stormy petrel still?
Big Bill.
Who serves the ever deadly ace
And through the years still holds his place?
Who stirs up storms around the place?
Big Bill.
Who use head and hands and feet?
Big Bill.
Who is still always hard to beat?
Big Bill.
Who is it sings his song of hate,
Then turns around to keep his date?
Who lugs the kale in through the gate?
Big Bill.

The Lott Spot

In the meanwhile there is George Lott. Tilden has been the center of conversation and the written word, but the final count might well be up to the midwestern star who is capable at intervals of championship tennis.

If Cochet has scrambled back to his old high level, the Lott-Borotra match might well decide the 1930 fate of the big bowl, which is said to be taking on a French accent.

The Cup Sufferer

If France makes a successful defense of the Davis Cup, the British will be the chief cup sufferer up to date—largely through Bobby Jones. The British have lost their amateur and open golf cups, but young Diana Fishwick finally repelled Glenna Collett in her attempt to remove the last of the British golf trophies. Bill Tilden picked up the tennis cup at Wimbledon, almost cleaning off the pantry shelf.

But if France wins, the Davis cup will remain where it is and Germany also claims the crown belonging to the heavyweight champion. That would be enough to give Germany and France two important seats in the sporting conclave.

In the meanwhile the British are by no means through. They are sending over a fast boat to battle again for the America's Cup and they are sending over a skillful, hard-riding polo outfit that is good enough to make a lot of trouble. And they will throw Cyril Tolley into the next amateur golf grapple at Merion. To say nothing of the British track invasion set for August.

A British Rebuttal

"Just where," inquires an aroused Briton, "does one get the idea that American golfers have taken a big lead in the United States open championships? Look over the statistics. In the thirty opens played from 1898 to 1930, British-born golfers have won eighteen and home-born have won twelve, of which Bobby Jones has won no less than four. This covers the last thirty years.

"What about the last ten or eleven? Well, in the last ten United States opens since 1920, British-born golfers have won five titles and home-born golfers have won six, four by the Jones entry. Mac Smith, Scottish born, was on Bobby's heels at Interlachen, and he wasn't many inches away. About three inches on a total of three putts would have made the difference. One man—Bobby Jones—has done most of the damage. If it hadn't been for one super golfer, British-born entries would have been well ahead in the last eleven years, at least seven to four."

The Sad South American

Victorio Campolo must be rated among the three best heavyweights in the game. Yet the lanky South American hasn't been fed an opponent, a real opponent, in over six months. So he is beginning to take on the rust that always follows a long lay-off. Campolo was a top-notch championship entry a few months ago. Now he is almost forgotten and there doesn't seem to be any real match in sight. Something may be worked out of the Sharkey-Stribling-Campolo trio for a September scramble, but there is nothing positive in sight. These are the three who should be tossed into the argument to decide Schmeling's next opponent.

There is no reason why Sharkey or any one of them should be nominated without another elimination, as terrible as most of the eliminations have been so far. The material is there for some sort of a program, provided the right move is made. If one of the three refuses to enter any such arrangement, then let the other two fight it out and nominate the winner.

It might be worked out with a September party, to be followed by another Florida semifinal where Stribling would again insure the gate.

"One of Connie Mack's pitching stars is given a holiday to rest his nerves at golf." A number of tired business men have tried out the same innovation, to discover the restful qualities of the sand-filled grottoes and the peaceful solitude of the heel-invested caverns, as the rush and roar of the world goes by.

MEXICAN BOXERS ON MAIN-STREET CARD

Carlo Curtis expects the Mexican fans to pack the Main-street Athletic Club tomorrow night. Mexican boxers hold down one end of the two top spots, and no less than five Mexican boxers will appear on the preliminary card. Tommy Elks, Mexican welterweight champion, meets Jack Kenney in one of the feature fours, and Pete Pacheco battles Gene Mullen in the other.

Bobby Garcia, Mexican 120-pounder, boxes Rickey Hall in the semi-wind-up, and Henry Gaitanez, hard-hitting 165-pounder, meets Ralph Green in the special. Other bouts scheduled are: Guillermo Gerola vs. Jose Calindera, 135 pounds; Benny Rodriguez vs. Angelo Fuste, 112 pounds, and Don Carlyle vs. Jack Kay, 145 pounds.

AMERICANS BID FOR CUP TODAY

lieve Tilden's spell over Borotra will be broken tomorrow. They point for support to the bounding one's duel with the top-ranking American at Wimbledon, where Borotra evened the count in sets at two-all and led in the fifth set, four games to two, without the advantage of the ten-minute rest which he will get tomorrow if the match goes beyond three sets. Tilden pulled the Wimbledon battle out of the fire, but the French do not believe he can do it again.

Tilden appears to feel heavily the responsibility of his eleventh-hour selection as a member of the American Davis Cup squad.

Likewise the morale of the younger members of the team seems hardly to have been improved by the selection of Tilden. Although they openly welcomed Big Bill into the fold, the youngsters seem to feel the United States should sink or swim with the youthful element in the 1930 plan.

Wilmer Allison, partner of John Van Ryn in America's first-string doubles combination, made a particularly poor showing in practice today and the shoddy work of the young Texan buoyed the French up to the pitch where they no longer are willing to concede the doubles victory to the United States. They likely will give Jacques Brugnon and Christian Boussus, the French second-string doubles pair, orders to go right out in an attempt to wipe up the courts with the Wimbledon and American Davis Cup champions.

PRACTICE HARD

Tilden and Lott again played three hard sets against each other in today's practice, and Tilden once more outclassed the Chicago boy.

Cochet played five sets against Boussus and the French professional, Martin Plaa. Henri, at the top of his form, reeled off thirty games against the youngster and professional, who shared the court together and could only win seven games. The only serene player on the courts was Cochet, and he seemed blissfully unconscious of what was at stake either for France or for himself. He seems likely to electrify the crowded stands tomorrow with a complete reversal of form that brought about his defeat at Wimbledon.

EICHELBERGER ANNEXES MEDAL

laurels against Rex Bailes, young Virginia Country Club golfer. Bailes is steadily coming ahead in tournament ranks, and should give Harry a good match.

The feature match of the day will very likely result when Gaines meets Ayres. Jack should win, but Phil is a determined match player.

Tough 'Uns, Bean't They
Giles had been sent to make a few purchases in the town. Among his stops was his master's tailor. The assistant noticed that Giles really required a new vest, and he tried to persuade the old fellow.

"Look," he cried, "this is gone, and that's gone! You'd better have a new one."

But the old chap shook his head.

"No," he replied firmly, "If me wife puts a new back and front in it, the arm'oles will last for another year, all right."—[London Answers.

Well Put, Slops!
"Look here," said the master of the house to the new maid, "how dare you tell your mistress what time it came in this morning, after I told you not to?"

"I didn't, sir," replied the maid. "She asked me what time you got in, and I told her I was too busy getting the breakfast ready to look at the clock."—[Annapolis Log.

RADIO AFFORDS AID FOR CHILD

Much of Instructive Nature Available for Dialing

Parents Will Find Study of Programs Profitable

Russian Music to be Feature Among KHJ Offerings

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m., Dr. Philip M. Lovell, editor of "Care of the Body" in the Sunday Times. Anton Chris, steel guitarist.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Parents would do well to utilize the radio during the vacation period in a way that will instruct and interest their children, at the time when educational programs are featured on the air.

It will be found that the air is not full of blues, crooners and upholstered sopranos if one will take the time to study radio programs. For parents who are paying out good money for musical instruction, no better understanding and appreciation of real music can be had than through lending an attentive ear to the Hollywood Bowl concerts. For the student of the violin, Calmon Lubovisky provides an artistry well worth a dialing. The weekly half-hour of the Romantic '40ers brings the early history of its State—not between the covers of a dog-eared book, but interpolated with music of that period.

A healthy interest in sports will be engendered by encouraging the boy to follow the night baseball games and the sport interviews by Grantland Rice. These things so often go unheard, because parents are too busy interesting themselves.

Radio is a vehicle of educational worth.

DIAL HIGHLIGHTS TODAY

KHJ promises some snappy early afternoon dance music at 1 o'clock when Detroit is to send The Capitolators with Carl Rupp at the business end of the dancing baton. The Bard of Avon must needs give up the ghost when none other than his two immortal lovers, Romeo and Juliet, are manhandled by the Nit Wits. Prof. Musclebound and Lord Algernon Ashcart are two of the comedians who can be depended upon to do their worst with this drama, when at 4 o'clock it is to be presented once never before. The death scene should be well done—at least to a crisp. At 6 tonight the song and music of the Slav is to be offered "In a Russian Village," over the Columbia system, thirty minutes of music and song of the steppes. Then Raymond Paige's half-hour will present "The Russia of the Czars" at 7 tonight, when a musical journey through Russia before the war is to be made by Paige's thirty-five-piece orchestra, a Balalaika orchestra, and the KHJ singers. "Marche Slav," a vivid "Dance of the Song and Dance," "Cossack Rev
